Losing It All To Sprawl How Progress Ate My Cracker Landscape:

Losing It All to Sprawl Bill Belleville, 2006-03-27 Losing It All to Sprawl is the poignant chronicle of award winning nature writer Bill Belleville and how he came to understand and love his historic Cracker farmhouse and relic neighborhood in central Florida even as it was all wiped out from under him Belleville's narrative is eloquent informed and impassioned a saga in which tractors and backhoes trample through the woods next to his home in order to build the backbone of Florida sprawl the mall As heavy machinery encircles Belleville and his community the noise growing louder and closer displacing everything Belleville has called home for the past fifteen years he tells a story that is much older 10 000 years older The story stretches back to the Timucua and the Mayaca living in harmony with Florida's environment the conquistadors who expected much from but also feared this land of flowers the turn of the century tourists modernizing and climatizing the state the original Cracker families who lived in Belleville's farmhouse In stark contrast to this millennia long transformation is the whiplash of unbridled growth and development that threatens the nearby wilderness of the Wekiva River system consuming Belleville's home and ultimately his very sense of place In Florida one of the nation's fastest growing states and where local and state governments encourage growth balancing use with preservation is an uphill battle Sprawl spreads into the countryside consuming not just natural lands but Old Florida neighborhoods and their unique history In Losing It All to Sprawl Belleville accounts for the impacts social political natural personal that a community in the crosshairs of unsustainable growth ultimately must bear but he also offers Floridians and anyone facing the blight of urban confusion the hope that can be found in the rediscovery and appreciation of the natural landscape The Tropic of Cracker Al

nighttime a mocking bird often sings to me of all the beautiful things I love Julia herself a published writer selected these unedited letters and copied them for her family into a thick leather book Like characters in a novel the friends and relatives she describes crackle with personality a flamboyant Russian proclaims his version of communism a New England spinster counters with Utopian visions and a university professor retreats from the ivory tower to agricultural experimentation Readers observe Julia's flair for making daily life cheerful and they meet the couple's two adored sons and Scott's children by an earlier marriage as well as Cracker settlers cattle runners and assorted seekers of health or wealth An artist Julia created a distinctive home designed and decorated in the manner of the pre Raphaelites Her palmetto fiber wall covering was exhibited at the Chicago World's Fair in 1893 and survives today The Florida house named The Nest is on the National Register of Historic Places Accompanied by 71 photographs of Julia's home and family these letters transcend the life of one woman to capture the experience and spirit of 19th century Florida Paving Paradise Craig Pittman, Matthew

Waite, 2010-05-25 Florida possesses more wetlands than any other state except Alaska yet since 1990 more than 84 000 acres have been lost to development despite presidential pledges to protect them How and why the state's wetlands are continuing to disappear is the subject of Paving Paradise Journalists Craig Pittman and Matthew Waite spent nearly four years investigating the political expedience corruption and negligence on the part of federal and state agencies that led to a failure to enforce regulations on developers They traveled throughout the state interviewed hundreds of people dug through thousands of documents and analyzed satellite imagery to identify former wetlands that were now houses stores and parking lots Exposing the unseen environmental consequences of rampant sprawl Pittman and Waite explain how wetland protection creates the illusion of environmental protection while doing little to stem the tide of destruction The Life World:
