

A serene sunset over the ocean. The sky is a warm, golden-orange color, transitioning into a darker blue at the horizon. The ocean is calm with gentle ripples, and in the foreground, dark, jagged rocks are visible, with waves crashing against them, creating white foam. The overall mood is peaceful and contemplative.

Cut the mind at its root and rest in naked awareness.

Naked Awareness Karma Chagme, 2000-03-27 In this classic seventeenth century presentation of the union of Mahamudra and Dzogchen Karma Chagm one of the great teachers of both these lineages of Tibetan Buddhism begins with an overview of the spirit of awakening and the nature of actions and their ethical consequences Next drawing from his enormous erudition and profound experience Chagm gives exceptionally lucid instructions on the two phases of Dzogchen practice the breakthrough and the leap over followed by an accessible introduction to the practice of the transference of consciousness at the time of death The concluding chapters of this treatise present a detailed analysis of Mahamudra meditation in relation to Dzogchen practice This tour de force of scholarly erudition and contemplative insight is made all the more accessible by the lively commentary of the contemporary Nyingma Lama Gyatrul Rinpoche Although this book stands alone it is the concluding section of a single body of teachings by Karma Chagm the earlier section published under the title A Spacious Path to Freedom Karma Chagm was a major teacher of the Karma Kagyu tradition of Tibetan Buddhism and his writings have also become central to the Payul Nyingma order making him an ideal figure to integrate these two great meditation systems

Naked Seeing Christopher Hatchell, 2014-09-03 Buddhism is in many ways a visual tradition with its well known practices of visualization its visual arts its epistemological writings that discuss the act of seeing and its literature filled with images and metaphors of light Some Buddhist traditions are also visionary advocating practices by which meditators seek visions that arise before their eyes Naked Seeing investigates such practices in the context of two major esoteric traditions the Wheel of Time Kalacakra and the Great Perfection Dzogchen Both of these experimented with sensory deprivation and developed yogas involving long periods of dwelling in dark rooms or gazing at the open sky These produced unusual experiences of seeing which were used to pursue some of the classic Buddhist questions about appearances emptiness and the nature of reality Along the way these practices gave rise to provocative ideas and suggested that rather than being apprehended through internal insight religious truths might also be seen in the exterior world realized through the gateway of the eyes Christopher Hatchell presents the intellectual and literary histories of these practices and also explores the meditative techniques and physiology that underlie their distinctive visionary experiences The book also offers for the first time complete English translations of three major Tibetan texts on visionary practice a Kalacakra treatise by Yumo Mikyo Dorj The Lamp Illuminating Emptiness a Nyingma Great Perfection work called The Tantra of the Blazing Lamps and a B n Great Perfection work called Advice on the Six Lamps along with a detailed commentary on this by Drugom Gyalwa Yungdrung Self-Liberation through Seeing with Naked Awareness Padmasambhava, Karma Lingpa, 2010-11-16 A spiritual classic along the lines of The Tibetan Book of the Dead this text is a clear and accessible guide to the essence of Dzogchen and the attainment of Buddhahood A text belonging to the same cycle as The Tibetan Book of the Dead this instruction on the method of self liberation presents the essence of Dzogchen The Great Perfection regarded in Tibet as the highest and most esoteric teaching of the Buddha Teaching the attainment of Buddhahood in a single lifetime this text was written and concealed by Guru Padmasambhava in the eighth century and rediscovered six centuries later by Karma Lingpa The commentary by the translator is based on the oral teachings of Namkhai Norbu Rinpoche and Lama Tharchin Rinpoche developed in Eastern theology after the patristic period and thus its presence in the theology of the Latin West is generally overlooked. The aim of this collection is to explore some Patristic articulations of the doctrine in both the East and West but also to highlight its enduring presence in the Western tradition and its relevance for contemporary thought. The collection thus brings together a number of capita selecta that focus on the development of theosis through the ages until the Early Modern Period. It is unique not only in emphasising the role of theosis in the West but also in bringing to the fore a number of little known authors and texts and analysing their theology from a variety of fresh perspectives. Thus mystical theology in the West is shown to have profound connections with similar concerns in the East and with the common patristic sources. By tying these traditions together this volume brings new insight to one of mysticism's key concerns. As such it will be of significant interest to scholars of religious studies, mysticism, theology and the history of religion.

Essence of Mind Jes Bertelsen, 2013-06-04. This handbook to spirituality gathers together Danish meditation teacher Jes Bertelsen's advice on training the mind through wordless prayer and meditation to realize the essence of consciousness. Bertelsen has been teaching philosophy and meditation since the early 1970s. In 1989 he met the Tibetan lama Tulku Urgyen Rinpoche who authorized Jes Bertelsen to teach Dzogchen and to do so using his own judgment as to the most appropriate way to assimilate these teachings into Western culture. Bertelsen's teachings are based on an experiential investigation of the nature of consciousness using comparative analysis of Eastern and Western spiritual teachings and consciousness practices on a foundation of modern psychological, philosophical and scientific approaches. Essence of Mind outlines the author's experience and approach to Dzogchen, the natural primordial state of human consciousness that is timeless, pure and untouched by suffering. The book is divided into three parts. The first part describes different methods for pointing out the essence of consciousness and the techniques related to them. The second part seeks to outline the key principles of a training system suited to Western students that can lead to realization. The final section outlines the significance of continuous exercises and describes the way spiritual practice slowly permeates daily life, dreams, sleep and eventually death. Through the mind training process the practitioner approaches an almost ecstatic state of completion, a luminous blissful wakefulness in which the consciousness is also fully relaxed, not clinging to bliss or desiring ecstasy but transparent and open. Bertelsen emphasizes that while more advanced forms of spiritual training can only take place in a face-to-face, deeply engaged mutual process between teacher and student, books are useful as sources of inspiration in particular to help review one's insights and refresh one's practice. Essence of Mind systematizes the experiences that occur along the spiritual path and helps students to refine, correct and clarify their efforts. It is the author's hope that many students in the West will be able to benefit from his comparative approach to Dzogchen.
