Mendelson, John K. Glenn, 2002-09-11 Since the end of the Cold War a virtual army of nongovernmental organizations NGOs from the United States Britain Germany and elsewhere in Europe have flocked to Central and Eastern Europe and Eurasia These NGOs are working on such diverse tasks as helping to establish competitive political parties elections and independent media as well as trying to reduce ethnic conflict This important book is among the few efforts to assess the impact of these international efforts to build democratic institutions The case studies presented here provide a portrait of the mechanisms by which ideas commonly associated with democratic states have evolved in formerly communist states revealing conditions that help as well as hurt the process      Departments of Commerce, Justice, and State, the Judiciary, and Related Agencies Appropriations for 2000 United States. associations function as substitutes for state and private mechanisms of economic governance These arguments and empirical findings put the long standing issues of economic regulations public goods and collective action in a new theoretical perspective Canada, 1998 Wayne C.
