Russia Before The 'Radiant Future' Michael Confino,2011-05-01 One of the major historians of prerevolutionary Russia has collected in this volume some of his most important essays Written over a number of years these pioneering works have been revised and updated and are complemented by others being published for the first time Thematically they cover major subjects in Imperial Russian history and in historical writing such as ideas and their role in historical change the intelligentsia the nobility and peasant society and historiography The twelve essays raise cardinal questions about current scholarship on Russian history before the upheavals of 1917 and offer original interpretations that are of interest to the educated layman as well as the professional historian Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine ,1880 Russia's Carnival Christoph Neidhart,2002-11-13 This colorfully drawn and acutely observed book explores Russia by engaging all our senses Today's Russia smells different from the Soviet Union The country looks and sounds different its touch is different and its food tastes different Thus Christoph Neidhart argues Russia is truly a changed country from the Soviet Union it was little more than a decade ago Russian society is rapidly urbanizing and modernizing as can be perceived by all senses including the awareness of space and the conception of time After almost a century space can be privately owned and freely traded time too has become commodified New role models and new ways to express social status are emerging Russia has become a monetized economy as the old Soviet practice of provision by networking has grown obsolete Russia thus readies itself gradually to grow into a Western style middle class society with a free market and democratic polity The author assesses these rapid changes using the evocative metaphor of the carnival to understand the chaotic inversion of the Communist structure of society He explores the transition's traps and shortcomings such as the privatization of politics and the looting of the state's assets and compares this process to the modernization Western society underwent a century earlier The Dial Francis Fisher Browne,Waldo Ralph Browne,Scofield Thayer,Marianne Moore,1917 The Westminster Review ,1877
