Newton, 1994 10 Army Group South 7 April 7 May 1945 by Lothar Dr Rendulic army group commander The Battle for Moscow David Stahel, 2015-01-22 A major new account of Germany's drive on Moscow in November 1941 one of the key battles of World War II Aleksandr Zhitomirsky Erika Wolf, 2016-01-01 The first comprehensive study in English of the Soviet propaganda artist Aleksandr Zhitomirsky who conceived and deployed his striking photomontages as a political weapon The leading Russian propaganda artist Aleksandr Zhitomirsky 1907 1993 made photomontages that were airdropped on German troops during World War II He later worked for Pravda and other leading publications satirizing American politics and finance from the Truman through the Reagan eras and educating his public about Egypt South Africa Vietnam and Nicaragua as well Zhitomirsky favored the grotesque and the eye catching His villainous menagerie included Reichsminister Joseph Goebbels as a distorted simian and an airborne scorpion outfitted with an Uncle Sam hat In this comprehensive image driven account of Zhitomirsky's long career Erika Wolf explores his connections to and long friendship with the German artist John Heartfield whose work inspired his own Wolf also examines more than 100 of Zhitomirsky's photomontages and translates excerpts from his one published book The Art of Political Photomontage Advice for the Artist 1983 In an era when satirical photomontage thrives on the Internet and propaganda has reasserted itself in America and Russia alike this study of a once prominent yet internationally undiscovered artist is more than timely Kursk Steven H. Newton, 2009-02-18 The battle of Kursk fought in the summer of 1943 involved six thousand German and Soviet armored vehicles making it the biggest tank battle of all time and possibly the largest battle of any kind Students of military history have long recognized the importance of Kursk also known as Operation Citadel and there have been several serious studies of the battle Yet the German view of the battle has been largely ignored After the war U S Army Intelligence officers gathered German commanders post war reports of the battle Due in part to poor translations done after the war these important documents have been overlooked by World War II historians Steven H Newton has collected translated and edited these accounts including reports made by the Chiefs of Staff of Army Group South and the Fourth Panzer Army and by the Army Group Center Operations Officer As a result a new and unprecedented picture of German strategy and operations is made available The translated staff reports are supplemented by Newton's commentary and original research which challenges a number of widely accepted ideas about this pivotal battle Central Asia in World War Two Vicky Davis, 2023-12-14 Central Asia has long been situated at the geographical crossroads of East and West once strategically located on the ancient Silk Road The envy of the expanding Russian empire it was colonized in the 19th century by Cossacks and traders from the north This book examines how Central Asia by then part of the Soviet Union experienced population displacements on an even greater scale during the Second World War Vicky Davis analyses how troops were sent westwards into action only for waves of civilians to travel eastwards into the region evacuees refugees and even internal deportees sent into exile from their homelands in other parts of the vast Soviet Union Central Asia in World War Two is the first book to tackle the subject of minorities fighting for the Soviet Union under Stalin in the Second World War Based on meticulous archival research it considers the interactions of the individual citizen and the Soviet state weaving together the experiences of over three hundred ordinary men and women in Central Asia as they coped with their new roles on the front line or in the rear Suffering incredible economic and physical hardship racism and religious oppression these mainly Muslim citizens were subjected to a forced process of Sovietization under the influence of Stalin s ubiquitous propaganda machine Davis reveals how while conscripts were all too often slaughtered or scapegoated in their regiments the women and children left at home slaved in factories and communal farms to fuel the machinery of a war taking place thousands of kilometres away She convincingly argues that the impact of forced assimilation cultural indoctrination anti-Semitism and re-education on the region were as great as the daily fight for survival in wartime The legacy of the period is almost as complex with struggles over the ownership and revision of history continuing even today
