Seapower States Andrew Lambert, 2018-11-27 A fascinating geopolitical chronicle A superb survey of the perennial opportunities and risks in what Herman Melville called the watery part of the world The Wall Street Journal In this volume one of the most eminent historians of our age investigates the extraordinary success of five small maritime states Andrew Lambert author of The Challenge Britain Against America in the Naval War of 1812 winner of the prestigious Anderson Medal turns his attention to Athens Carthage Venice the Dutch Republic and Britain examining how their identities as seapowers informed their actions and enabled them to achieve success disproportionate to their size Lambert demonstrates how creating maritime identities made these states more dynamic open and inclusive than their lumbering continental rivals Only when they forgot this aspect of their identity did these nations begin to decline Recognizing that the United States and China are modern naval powers rather than seapowers is essential to understanding current affairs as well as the long term trends in world history This volume is a highly original big think analysis of five states whose success and eventual failure is a subject of enduring interest by a scholar at the top of his game An intriguing series of stories of communities thinking seriously about how to stand their own ground when outpowered how to do so in ways that are consistent with their values and sometimes how to negotiate the descent from being a great power when the cards just aren't in their favor any more These are timely questions Times Higher Education Supplement Lambert is without a doubt the most insightful naval historian writing today The Times
