Sacred Rhetoric Michael Pasquarello III, 2012-06-01 Modern approaches to preaching today are largely fixated on how to make preaching more relevant more interesting more entertaining Michael Pasquarello suggests that this fixation may stem from a preaching imagination beholden to technical scientific reason than theological wisdom Rather than devising new techniques or strategies for effective speaking Pasquarello offers something more salutary portraits of ten exemplary preachers from the Christian tradition Included in Pasquarello's gallery are Augustine of Hippo Gregory the Great Benedict Bernard of Clairvaux Bonaventure Thomas Aquinas Erasmus Hugh Latimer Martin Luther and John Calvin These excellent preachers conceived of Christian speech as a unique theological practice learned through prayerful attention to the Bible and aimed at communion with God Sacred Rhetoric invites readers to join an extended conversation with the past in order to become faithful preachers of the gospel in a post Christian society Preachers seminarians and students of Christian history will find much to learn from Pasquarello's fresh perspective and passion for the past

Christian Preaching Michael Pasquarello III, 2011-06-28 Michael Pasquarello has written a must read book articulating a Trinitarian vision for preaching His compelling argument is richly informed by traditional biblical hermeneutics creedal history understood as storied attestation of the witness of Scripture and liturgical theology and practice considered as embodied performance of the Bible's divine narrative Here is a clear summons to the church to abandon all lesser homiletic aims and to prayerfully and faithfully proclaim the holy gospel to the glory of God Charles L Bartow Princeton Theological Seminary Like all of Michael Pasquarello's work his newest book not only upholds the classical Christian tradition but also breathes new vitality into it In an era in which preaching is reduced to persuasive communication Pasquarello reminds us that the Christian message has a content that originates in and gives expression to the Father Son and Holy Spirit Richard Lischer Duke Divinity School One of the refreshing things about this fine book by Michael Pasquarello is that when he thinks about the ministry of preaching he is not afraid to measure the breadth historically or plumb the depths theologically Pasquarello has written this book like a good sermon faithfully thoughtfully prayerfully and with a profound word to speak We are in his debt Thomas G Long Candler School of Theology Boldly challenging homiletical accommodation to American culture Pasquarello seeks to change the subject of preaching from method and marketing to the Triune God who is the source and goal of our speech A welcome theological vision of preaching Charles L Campbell Columbia Theological Seminary Christian Preaching brings together two disciplines that have sadly grown apart such that they almost developed irreconcilable differences preaching and theology Pasquarello offers a brilliant critique of theology as technique and draws on the theology and sermons of Irenaeus Augustine Luther Wesley and others convincingly demonstrating that effective pragmatic preaching requires substantive theological engagement and vice versa This book accomplishes its purpose so well that it should be used not only in preaching courses but also in basic theology courses No preacher should be let loose on a congregation without passing through Pasquarello's

The Beauty of Preaching Michael Pasquarello, 2020-08-27

What does beauty have to do with healing the fragmentation within our churches According to Michael Pasquarello everything Amid the cacophony of ugly political invective that dominates nearly every space today including church only God has the power to unify and heal through his truth and goodness revealed in his beauty And every Sunday those in the pulpit have the opportunity and responsibility to share this beauty with their parishioners Tapping into a long tradition that can be traced back to Augustine Michael Pasquarello explores a theological definition of beauty that has tremendous revelatory power in a post Christendom world A church manifesting this beauty is not merely a gathering of people but a place where God's new creation appears in the midst of the old creation ushered in by a pastor willing to make God the primary actor within the doxological craft of preaching

Christian Preaching Michael Pasquarello, 2006 There are many books that give preachers hints about engaging speaking or methods for creating sermons This homiletics primer focuses not on the how to of preaching but on the theological foundation of the very act of preaching itself introducing students and pastors to a thorough understanding of why they preach or will preach Michael Pasquarello III takes a biblical and historical look at preaching calling all preachers to think theologically regardless of denomination audience or preaching style when they proclaim the Word of God Each chapter concludes with a sermon example that shows the practical way that such theology works itself into the pulpit Publisher

Sacred Rhetoric David M. Barbee, Brent C. Sleasman, 2024-03-06 There have always been historical and philosophical connections between the study of religion and rhetoric and yet the phrase sacred rhetoric is rarely found within scholarly conferences presentations and publications The editors of this collection intend to fill this void by presenting a collection of essays which define in the broadest terms possible sacred rhetoric as necessary discourse of on religion The contributors represent multiple perspectives and disparate academic fields such as philosophy biblical studies rhetoric and communication and each essay is united by a common concern for public discourse that examines the intersection between religion rhetoric culture and identity Collectively these essays dissect the manner in which religious actors or religious themes inform various layers of cultural discourse The goal is to foster discussion based upon a greater awareness of the issues at stake and contribute to ongoing discourse about identity and meaning

Augustine's Theology of Preaching Peter T. Sanlon, 2014-07-01 Scholarship has painted many pictures of Augustinethe philosophical theologian the refuter of heresy or contributor to doctrines like Original Sinbut the picture of Augustine as preacher says Sanlon has been seriously neglected When academics marginalize the Sermones ad Populum the real Augustine is not presented accurately In this study Sanlon does more however than rehabilitate a neglected view of Augustine How do the theological convictions that Augustine brought to his preaching challenge sustain or shape our work today By presenting Augustine's thought on preaching to contemporary readers Sanlon contributes a major new piece to the ongoing reconsideration of preaching in the modern day a consideration that is relevant to all branches of the twenty first century church      Theology Is for Preaching Chase R. Kuhn, Paul Grimmond, 2021-03-10 Is it right to just preach the text Why do we preach and do theology How do we relate them And how do they relate to God's word Theology Is for Preaching helps preachers with theology and theologians with preaching Though diverse in contexts and disciplines the contributors share a commitment to equipping the saints to rightly handle the word of truth Through essays on foundations methods employing theology for preaching and preaching for theology this volume will equip preachers and theologians to engage deeply with the text of the Bible and communicate its meaning with clarity      Homiletical Theology David Schnasa Jacobsen, 2015-02-13 Karl Barth famously argued that all theology is sermon preparation But what if all sermon preparation is actually theology This book pursues a thoroughgoing theological vision for the practice of preaching as a way of doing theology The idea is not just that homiletics is the realm of theological application That would leave preaching in the position of simply implementing a theology already arrived at Instead the vision in these pages is of a form of theology that begins with preaching itself its practice its theories and its contexts Homiletical theology is thus a unique way of doing theology even a constructive theological task in its own right Homiletician David Schnasa Jacobsen has assembled several of the leading lights of contemporary homiletics to help to see its task ever more deeply as theological yet in profoundly diverse ways Along the way readers will not only discover how homileticians do theology homiletically but will deepen the way in which they understand their own preaching as a theological task Contributors include Ronald J Allen Professor of Preaching and Gospels and Letters at Christian Theological Seminary John S McClure Charles G Finney Professor of Preaching and Worship at Vanderbilt Divinity School Alyce M McKenzie George W and Nell Ayers Le Van Professor of Preaching and Worship at Perkins School of Theology Southern Methodist University Michael Pasquarello III Granger E and Anna A Fisher Professor of Preaching at Asbury Theological Seminary Luke A Powery Dean of the Chapel and Associate Professor of the Practice of Homiletics at Duke University Teresa Stricklen Eisenlohr Ph D Associate for Worship Office of Theology and Worship at the Presbyterian Church U S A      The Future of Preaching Stevenson Geoffrey, 2015-04-21 Preaching remains a central feature of almost all Christian worship There are thousands of men and women in the UK who preach on a regular basis This book covers such subjects as Preaching in a Communications Culture Preaching and the Bible Preaching and Personality Types the Life of the Preacher and Educating Future Preachers      The Continuing Relevance of Wesleyan Theology Nathan Crawford, 2011-06-01 What does the Wesleyan message have to say to the greater theological world This is a question that Laurence Wood has taken up as his concern throughout his career In order to honor his work this collection takes up this question through a series of essays designed to show how Wesleyan Theology while distinctive has a continued relevance to the wider world of theological scholarship This collection does this in two ways First by showing how the Wesleyan distinctives have been present throughout the history of theology And secondly the collection brings the Wesleyan distinctives into conversation with various contemporary theological conversations ranging from theological hermeneutics and the science religion dialogue to the practice of preaching and spirituality The result is a volume that puts Wesleyan theology into continued dialogue with the broader theological world showing its vitality and importance for the contemporary situation     Toward a Homiletical Theology of Promise David Schnasa Jacobsen,2018-04-17 Promise has a long pedigree in the history of Christian understandings of the gospel This volume gathers together leading homileticians to consider the breadth of its understanding today in light of the struggle to reconcile God s grace with God s justice Assuming that promise is a core sense of the gospel how does this relate to the variety of contexts in which homiletical theology is done In this final volume in the series six homileticians from a variety of contexts and perspectives try to move specifically toward a homiletical theology of promise as a way to articulate the central theological gift and task that is preaching the gospel today

Sacred Rhetoric Pasquarello,2005-11-15 Much of today s preaching is fixated on how tos how to make preaching more relevant more interesting more fun Michael Pasquarello suggests that this fixation may stem from a preaching imagination more beholden to technical scientific reason than theological wisdom In place of reasonable new techniques or strategies for effective speaking Pasquarello offers something more salutary exemplars of preaching from the Christian tradition From Augustine to Calvin these preachers conceived of Christian speech as a theological practice learned through prayerful attention to the Bible and aimed at communion with God Sacred Rhetoric is an invitation to join an extended conversation with the past in order to become faithful preachers of the gospel in a post Christian society Preachers seminarians and students of Christian history will find much to learn from Pasquarello s fresh perspective and passion for the past     The Reformation and the Irrepressible Word of God Scott M. Manetsch,2019-05-28 The Protestant Reformers were transformed by their encounters with Scripture Bringing together the reflections of church historians and theologians delivered at Trinity Evangelical Divinity School these essays consider historical hermeneutical theological and practical issues regarding the Bible revealing that the irrepressible Word of God continues to transform hearts and minds     Learning to Speak of God Mason Lee,2023-11-16 What difference does the virtue of patience make for our ability to engage deeply in the practice of patience And how does patience help us grasp the something more that is at the heart of preaching excellence Learning to Speak of God argues that the virtue of patience is vital to our faithful and deep preaching practice that patience is a homiletical virtue In doing so this volume asks us to consider the role of character in preaching and the work of specific virtues as we go about our preaching practice Along the way it names the importance of patience as a long acknowledged Christian virtue and considers anew how this virtue shapes and empowers the practice of those who desire to preach in ways that participate in God s transforming work For those who study practice or care about preaching this volume identifies how any notion of what it means to preach well calls for those whose practice is infused with the virtue of patience     Preaching God's Grand Drama Ahmi Lee,2019-10-15 How can preachers preach biblically faithful sermons that move listeners to positive action An author on the cutting edge of contemporary homiletics and theology offers a fresh approach to preaching that helps listeners see themselves as actors in God's grand drama Ahmi Lee presents a unifying third way in homiletical approaches i.e. theodramatic that reimagines the preacher's role in relation to the Bible the congregation and the world The book not only helps students understand various preaching models but also is relevant to working preachers who want to critique and improve their approach Foreword by Mark Labberton      Christian Preaching Michael Pasquarello III, 2011-06-28 Michael Pasquarello has written a must read book articulating a Trinitarian vision for preaching His compelling argument is richly informed by traditional biblical hermeneutics creedal history understood as storied attestation of the witness of Scripture and liturgical theology and practice considered as embodied performance of the Bible's divine narrative Here is a clear summons to the church to abandon all lesser homiletic aims and to prayerfully and faithfully proclaim the holy gospel to the glory of God Charles L Bartow Princeton Theological Seminary Like all of Michael Pasquarello's work his newest book not only upholds the classical Christian tradition but also breathes new vitality into it In an era in which preaching is reduced to persuasive communication Pasquarello reminds us that the Christian message has a content that originates in and gives expression to the Father Son and Holy Spirit Richard Lischer Duke Divinity School One of the refreshing things about this fine book by Michael Pasquarello is that when he thinks about the ministry of preaching he is not afraid to measure the breadth historically or plumb the depths theologically Pasquarello has written this book like a good sermon faithfully thoughtfully prayerfully and with a profound word to speak We are in his debt Thomas G Long Candler School of Theology Boldly challenging homiletical accommodation to American culture Pasquarello seeks to change the subject of preaching from method and marketing to the Triune God who is the source and goal of our speech A welcome theological vision of preaching Charles L Campbell Columbia Theological Seminary Christian Preaching brings together two disciplines that have sadly grown apart such that they almost developed irreconcilable differences preaching and theology Pasquarello offers a brilliant critique of theology as technique and draws on the theology and sermons of Irenaeus Augustine Luther Wesley and others convincingly demonstrating that effective pragmatic preaching requires substantive theological engagement and vice versa This book accomplishes its purpose so well that it should be used not only in preaching courses but also in basic theology courses No preacher should be let loose on a congregation without passing through Pasquarello's Christian Preaching D Stephen Long Marquette University Mike Pasquarello III PhD University of North Carolina Chapel Hill is Granger E and Anna A Fisher Professor of Preaching at Asbury Theological Seminary He is the author of Sacred Rhetoric Preaching as a Theological and Pastoral Practice of the Church      Conversations with Barth on Preaching William H. Willimon, 2006 One of today's greatest preacher theologians engages Karl Barth one of the 20th century's greatest teacher theologians on the meaning and practice of preaching      Practicing the Preaching Life David B. Ward, 2019-03-19 Preaching is a way of life that can be beautiful and good however It can also be anxious self focused and destructive Preachers and teachers of preaching need a holistic view of preaching that not only paints the way to good preaching but also to good living

They need a comprehensive practical theology of preaching that combines the why and the what with the how and whom of preaching Practicing the Preaching Life unites Christian practices contextual virtues and the best of homiletical pedagogy to pave the way to a beautiful preaching life Preaching is best learned as a formative Christian practice embedded within a web of other Christian practices that form a way of life from which great sermons emerge Therefore preaching requires not only a way of speaking well but also a way of living well This embedded nature of preaching requires the enrollment of Christian practices in the formation of the preacher and the pursuit of contextual virtues for preaching that avoid cultural relativism on the one hand and cultural imperialism on the other These requirements lead to a new vision for the preaching classroom the rhythms of the preaching life and the definition of what it means to be a good preacher Preaching Jesus Christ Today

Annette Brownlee, 2018-05-15 This book approaches preaching as a theological practice and a spiritual discipline in a way that is engaging straightforward and highly usable for busy preachers Bringing to bear almost three decades of practical experience in the pulpit and the classroom Annette Brownlee explores six questions to help preachers listen to Scripture move from text to interpretation for weekly sermon preparation and understand the theological significance of the sermon Each chapter explains one of the Six Questions of Sermon Preparation provides numerous examples and illustrations and contains theological reflections The final chapter includes sample sermons which put the Six Question method into practice

An Introduction to Ministry Ian S. Markham, Oran E.
