Sacrificed Lives Kristeva On Women And Violence:

Sacrificed Lives Martha J. Reineke,1997-10-22 Why did medieval women mystics starve themselves What caused the European witch hunts and why were its victims tortured and killed Why has the Christian West regularly found maternal figures threatening To answer these questions Martha Reineke advances a theory of sacrifice inspired by Julia Kristeva and Rene Girard that attempts to account for violence in Western culture the human proclivity for bodily mutilation and abuse and women s special vulnerability to violence A challenging and controversial book Sacrificed Lives constructs an important bridge between esoteric postmodern theory and ordinary human life as it furthers a vital philosophical debate on the question of violence Women, Ideology and Violence Cheryl Anderson,2006-01-01 Cheryl Anderson examines the laws relating to women that are found in the Book of the Covenant and the Deuteronomic law She argues that the laws can be divided into those that treat women similarly to men defined as inclusive laws and those that treat women differently exclusive laws She then suggests that the exclusive laws which construct gender as male dominance female subordination do not just describe violence against women but are inherently violent toward women As a non historical critique of ideology critical theory is used to offer analytical insights that have significant implications for understanding gender constructions in both ancient and contemporary settings The Cruellest of All Mothers Mary Dunn,2015-10-01 In 1631 Marie Guyart stepped over the threshold of the Ursuline convent in Tours leaving behind her eleven year old son Claude against the wishes of her family and her own misgivings Marie concluded God was dearer to me than all that Leaving him therefore in His hands I bid adieu to him joyfully Claude organized a band of schoolboys to storm the convent begging for his mother s return Eight years later Marie made her way to Quebec where over the course of the next thirty three years she opened the first school for Native American girls translated catechisms into indigenous languages and served some eighteen years as superior of the first Ursuline convent in the New World She would also maintain over this same period an extensive and intimate correspondence with the son she had abandoned to serve God The Cruellest of All Mothers is fundamentally an explanation of Marie de l Incarnation s decision to abandon Claude for religious life Complicating Marie s own explication of the abandonment as a sacrifice carried out in imitation of Christ and in submission to God s will the book situates the event against the background of early modern French family life the marginalization of motherhood in the Christian tradition and seventeenth century French Catholic spirituality Deeply grounded in a set of rich primary sources The Cruellest of All Mothers offers a rich and complex analysis of the abandonment When Women Become Priests Kelley A. Raab,2000 In an analysis that deftly unites feminist criticism psychoanalysis and Catholic theology Kelley Raab explores the symbolic implications of women at the altar providing rich insight into issues of gender symbolism and power Teaching Religion and Violence Brian K. Pennington,2012-05-24 Teaching Religion and Violence is designed to help instructors to equip students to think critically about religious violence particularly in the multicultural classroom Women and the Divine G.

Howie,2016-04-30 This collection explores the question of whether it is possible to reconceive the category of transcendence from a feminist perspective The contributors use the concept of transcendence to approach questions relating to the body desire and subjectivity while offering a response to secular relativism The Politics to Come Arthur Bradley,Paul Fletcher,2011-11-03 The Politics to Come brings together an international collection of thinkers to consider the meaning of liberal democratic modernity at a moment when its future has never been less certain It examines the explosive threats the liberal order confronts today financial meltdown religious extremism environmental catastrophe Yet it also seeks to place these singularly modern crises within a much longer history For the contributors to this collection it is the ancient religious tradition called the messianic that provides the critical lens through which modernity may be interrogated In its ongoing struggles with the messianic liberal modernity confronts the promise and threat of a radically new Politics to Come So what are the Politics to Come How do they manifest themselves throughout history Why does the possibility of a messianic judgement continue to haunt the western political imaginary This collection offers a series of political philosophical and theological perspectives from which the future of liberal modernity if it has one can be imagined Freud and Freudians on Religion Donald Capps,2001-01-01 This book presents selections from Freud's writings on religion and from the work of five more recent contributors to the psychoanalytic study of religion David Bakan Erik H Erikson Heinz Kohut Julia Kristeva and D W Winnicott It is the first collection of texts in the psychology of religion that is oriented more toward religious studies than toward the study of psychology In his introduction Donald Capps points out that psychoanalysis resembles religions in the way in which its founding documents Freud's own writings have been closely read have evoked interpretive battles and have been reassessed and reapplied in response to changing social and cultural circumstances He notes that just as Freud's writings on religion focus on the biblical text the majority of the authors included here do likewise showing how the Bible may be read psychoanalytically Both Freud and his successors says Capps also reflect the high value that the Christian culture of the West has placed on painting and sculpture revealing the importance of perception and imagination to the psychoanalytic study of religion Capps highlights the ways in which all the Freudians work intertextually with Freud's writings with the writings of other authors included in the book and with other writings of their own The Cambridge Companion to Postmodern Theology Kevin J. Vanhoozer,2003-07-31 Postmodernity allows for no absolutes and no essence Yet theology is concerned with the absolute the essential How then does theology sit within postmodernity Is postmodern theology possible or is such a concept a contradiction in terms Should theology bother about postmodernism or just get on with its own thing Can it Theologians have responded in many different ways to the challenges posed by theories of postmodernity In this introductory 2003 guide to a complex area editor Kevin J Vanhoozer addresses the issue head on in a lively survey of what talk about God might mean in a postmodern age and vice versa The book then offers examples of different types of contemporary theology in relation to postmodernity while the second part examines the key Christian doctrines in postmodern perspective Leading theologians contribute to this clear and informative Companion which no student of theology should be without

Contemporary Feminist Historical Crime Fiction R. Johnsen, 2006-08-19 By examining the feminist interventions of contemporary women writers working in this subgenre Johnsen advances the existing critical discussion of women's crime fiction The writers studied here bring research expertise to bear on their chosen historical settings creating a powerful but widely accessible statement about women in history

Intimate Domain Martha J. Reineke, 2014-10-01 For Ren Girard human life revolves around mimetic desire which regularly manifests itself in acquisitive rivalry when we find ourselves wanting an object because another wants it also Noting that mimetic desire is driven by our sense of inadequacy or insufficiency Girard arrives at a profound insight our desire is not fundamentally directed toward the other's object but toward the other's being We perceive the other to possess a fullness of being we lack Mimetic desire devolves into violence when our quest after the being of the other remains unfulfilled So pervasive is mimetic desire that Girard describes it as an ontological illness In Intimate Domain Reineke argues that it is necessary to augment Girard's mimetic theory if we are to give a full account of the sickness he describes Attending to familial dynamics Girard has overlooked and reclaiming aspects of his early theorizing on sensory experience Reineke utilizes psychoanalytic theory to place Girard's mimetic theory on firmer ground Drawing on three exemplary narratives Proust's In Search of Lost Time Sophocles's Antigone and Julia Kristeva's The Old Man and the Wolves the author explores familial relationships Together these narratives demonstrate that a corporeal hermeneutics founded in psychoanalytic theory can usefully augment Girard's insights thereby ensuring that mimetic theory remains a definitive resource for all who seek to understand humanity's ontological illness and identify a potential cure

Kristeva's Fiction Benigno Trigo, 2013-09-17 With published work spanning more than forty years Julia Kristeva's influence in psychoanalysis and literary theory is difficult to overstate In addition to this scholarship Kristeva has written several novels however this portion of her oeuvre has received comparatively scant attention In this book Kristeva scholars from a number of disciplines analyze her novels in relation to her work in psychoanalysis interrogating the relationships between fiction and theory The essays explore questions including what is the value of experimental writing that escapes easy definition and classification putting ideas at the same level as character pacing plot suspense form and style And how might such fiction help its readers overcome the psychological maladies that affect contemporary society The contributors make a compelling case for understanding Kristeva's fiction as a crucial influence to her wider psychoanalytic project

Philosophy on Fieldwork Nils Bubandt, Thomas Schwarz Wentzer, 2022-07-29 How do we teach analysis in anthropology and other field-based sciences How can we engage analytically and interrogatively with philosophical ideas and concepts in our fieldwork And how can students learn to engage critical ideas from philosophy to better understand the worlds they study Philosophy on Fieldwork provides show don't tell answers to these questions In twenty-six master class chapters philosophy meets anthropological critique as leading anthropologists introduce the thinking of one foundational philosopher from a variety of Western traditions and beyond and apply this critically to an ethnographic case Nils Bubandt Thomas Schwarz Wentzer and the contributors to this volume reveal how the encounter between philosophy and fieldwork is fertile ground for analytical insight to emerge Equally the philosophical concepts employed are critically explored for their potential to be thought otherwise through their frictional encounter with the worlds in the field allowing non Western and non elite life experience and ontologies to speak back to both anthropology and philosophy This is a unique and concrete guidebook to social analysis It answers the critical need for a how to textbook in fieldwork based analysis as each chapter demonstrates how the ideas of a specific philosopher can be interrogatively applied to a concrete analytical case study The straightforward pedagogy of Philosophy on Fieldwork makes this an accessible volume and a must read for both students and seasoned fieldworkers interested in exploring the contentious middle ground between philosophy and anthropology

Nationbuilding, Gender and War Crimes in South Asia Bina D'Costa, 2012-07-26 This book gives a detailed political analysis of nationbuilding processes and how these are closely linked to statebuilding and to issues of war crime gender and sexuality and marginalization of minority groups With a focus on the Indian subcontinent the author demonstrates how the state itself is involved in the construction of a gendered identity and how control of women and their sexuality is central to the nationbuilding project She applies a critical feminist approach to two major conflicts in the Indian subcontinent the Partition of India in 1947 and the Liberation War of Bangladesh in 1971 and offers suggestions for addressing historical injustices and war crimes in the context of modern Bangladesh Addressing how the social and political elites were able to construct and legitimize a history of the state that ignored these issues the author suggests a critical re examination of the national narrative of the creation of Bangladesh which takes into account the rise of Islamic rights and their alleged involvement in war crimes Looking at the impact that notions of nation state and nationalism have on women from a critical feminist perspective the book will be an important addition to the literature on gender studies international relations and South Asian politics

Sacrifice and the Body John Dunnill, 2016-04-08 What is sacrifice For many people today the word has negative overtones suggesting loss or death or violence But in religions ancient and modern the word is linked primarily to joyous feasting which puts people in touch with the deepest realities How has that change of meaning come about What effect does it have on the way we think about Christianity How does it affect the way Christian believers think about themselves and God John Dunnill's study focuses on sacrifice as a physical event uniting worshippers to deity Bringing together insights from social anthropology biblical studies and Trinitarian theology Dunnill links to debates in sociology and cultural studies as well as the study of liturgy Through a positive view of sacrifice Dunnill contributes to contemporary Christian debates on atonement and salvation

Gardner, 2013-01-31 Gardner looks at the gendered language of time applied to men and women in Latin love elegy Focusing on the poetry of Propertius Tibullus and Ovid she uses Kristeva's theory of women's time to explain the cyclical repetition and eternity attributed to the elegiac beloved often identified as a courtesan puella girl

René Girard and Creative Mimesis Vern Neufeld Redekop, Thomas Ryba, 2013-11-21 For half a century René Girard's theories of mimetic desire and scapegoating have captivated the imagination of thinkers and doers in many fields as an incisive look into the human condition particularly the roots of violence In a 1993 interview with Rebecca Adams he highlighted the positive dimensions of mimetic phenomena without expanding on what they might be Now two decades later this groundbreaking book systematically explores the positive side of mimetic theory in the context of the multi faceted world of creativity Several authors build on Adams insight that loving mimesis can be understood as desiring the subjectivity of the other particularly when the other may be young or wounded With highly nuanced arguments authors show how mimetic theory can be used to address child and adult development including the growth of consciousness and a capacity to handle complexity Mimetic theory is brought to bear on big questions about creativity in nature evolutionary development originality and religious
