Lost Journey:

The Longest Journey Peter Browne, 2006 Over the past five years more than 25 000 Africans have arrived in Australia under the federal government's humanitarian resettlement program Some have spent a decade or more in refugee camps in remote regions of East Africa years of inadequate food enforced inactivity and the threat of violence Hundreds of thousands are still stranded in the camps Australia is one of only a dozen western countries that resettle refugees but how fair is the resettlement process Does it always help the neediest of all refugees

The Longest Journey E. M. Forster, 2019-11-20 E M Forster's The Longest Journey is a profound exploration of the complexities of human relationships and the individual's quest for identity within the constraints of society Set in early 20th century England the narrative weaves together themes of passion duty and the dichotomy between personal fulfillment and societal expectations Forster's rich prose and keen psychological insights capture the emotional turmoil of his characters allowing readers to navigate the intricate landscapes of their inner lives The novel illustrates a convergence of modernist literary style while challenging Victorian norms making it a significant work in Forster's oeuvre E M Forster 1879-1970 was a British novelist and essayist whose own experiences as a gay man in a repressive society influenced his literary perspective His time spent in Italy his education at King's College Cambridge and the friendships he cultivated with other writers deeply affected his worldview Forster's staunch advocacy for human connection and deep understanding of character motives resonate throughout The Longest Journey providing a critique of societal norms and expectations This novel is highly recommended for readers intrigued by intricate character studies and the transformative journey of self discovery Forster's ability to portray the nuances of emotional struggle against the backdrop of societal limitations invites readers to reflect on their own journeys The Longest Journey remains a timeless exploration of human desire and societal constraints affirming Forster's place as a masterful storyteller

The Longest Journey Adam Cox, 2016-11-29 Four voyagers go on a daring mission to go faster than the speed of light but when they reach home something's not right They traveled back in time How will they survive in the late Cretaceous period with monsters on the loose

Through Space to Mars; Or, the Longest Journey on Record Roy Rockwood, 2023-11-16 Roy Rockwood's Through Space to Mars Or the Longest Journey on Record is a science fiction novel that takes readers on a thrilling adventure across the cosmos Written in a vivid and imaginative style the book explores themes of space travel alien encounters and the limits of human exploration Set against the backdrop of the early 20th century this novel provides a fascinating glimpse into the speculative fiction of the time offering a unique blend of scientific accuracy and fantastical storytelling Roy Rockwood a pseudonym used by various authors was known for his contributions to the popular Stratemeyer Syndicate series of juvenile adventure novels His background in science and technology likely influenced his writing of Through Space to Mars as he expertly weaves together scientific theory with exciting narrative twists Rockwood's ability to engage young readers with his adventurous tales has cemented his legacy as a beloved author of early science fiction I highly recommend Through Space to Mars Or the Longest Journey on Record to readers interested in classic science fiction and the origins of the genre With its captivating storyline and imaginative world building this novel is sure to captivate both young and adult audiences alike

The Lost Girls Andrew Radford, 2007 The Lost Girls analyses a number of British writers between 1850 and 1930 for whom the myth of Demeter's loss and eventual recovery of her cherished daughter Kore Persephone swept off in violent and catastrophic captivity by Dis God of the Dead had both huge personal and aesthetic significance This book in addition to scrutinising canonical and less well known texts by male authors such as Thomas Hardy E M Forster and D H Lawrence also focuses on unjustly neglected women writers Mary Webb and Mary Butts who utilised occult tropes to relocate themselves culturally and especially in Butts's case to recover and restore a forgotten legacy the myth of matriarchal origins These novelists are placed in relation not only to one another but also to Victorian archaeologists and especially to Jane Ellen Harrison 1850-1928 one of the first women to distinguish herself in the history of British Classical scholarship and whose anthropological approach to the study of early Greek art and religion both influenced and became transformed by the literature Rather than offering a teleological argument that moves lock step through the decades The Lost Girls proposes chapters that detail specific engagements with Demeter Persephone through which to register distinct literary cultural shifts in uses of the myth and new insights into the work of particular writers

House of the Lost Sarah Rayne, 2010-04-01 When novelist Theo Kendal inherits the remote Norfolk house in which his cousin Charmery was murdered he believes it will bring him closer to the truth about her death It will also be the ideal place to finish his new book But the bleak Fenn House is a lonely and sometimes uncomfortable place to spend the winter And the strangest thing is that Theo's new novel seems to be writing itself and heading in an unplanned direction Theo finds himself describing a young boy called Matthew who lives in constant fear of a visit from the cold eyed men And then Theo discovers that Matthew and his family really existed part of a dark and violent segment of recent history that threatens to reach across the years to tear his life apart And somehow it all connects to the death of his cousin Charmery Rayne handles a complicated story with many skeins very cleverly A top psychological thriller Good Reading magazine

The Longest Journey Edward Morgan Forster, 1960 Paradigm Lost R. Roderick Rowe, 2017-04-26 Paradigm Lost Jamari Shaman is an adventure in future post apocalyptic Oregon Jamari enters into the challenges and training regimen that will teach him to be a fully functional adult member of his tribal community He learns how his village supports itself in a non industrial society after the fall of civilization eighty years before He takes a journey through the Oregon lands to the coastal areas to render and gather salt for his tribe Along the way he learns of the boundaries and expansion of tribal lands and also encounters other peoples who live outside the tribal influence sometimes with disastrous interactions Along the physical journey he is also taking a personal journey into his own spirit and soul surprising himself and others with unsuspected talents and skills that exceed expectations When he emerges from this physical and spiritual journey he will become Jamari Shaman a respected spiritual expectations uncovers avenues for embarking upon personal healing and creates a pathway for her readers to empower themselves their families their communities and the greater world Interested readers Connie welcomes you to join the Sacred Journey to Ladyhood

Travel, Modernism and Modernity Robert Burden, 2016-03-09 Focusing on the significance of travel in Joseph Conrad E M Forster D H Lawrence Henry James and Edith Wharton Robert Burden shows how travel enabled a new consciousness of mobility and borders during the modernist period For these authors Burden suggests travel becomes a narrative paradigm and dominant trope by which they explore questions of identity and otherness related to deep seated concerns with the crisis of national cultural identity He pays particular attention to the important distinction between travel and tourism at the same time that he attends to the slippage between seeing and sightseeing between the local character and the stereotype between art and kitsch and between older and newer ways of storytelling in the representational crisis of modernism Burden argues that the greater awareness of cultural difference that characterizes both the travel writing and fiction of these expatriate writers became a defining feature of literary modernism resulting in a consciousness of cultural difference that challenged the ethnographic project of empire

The Journey is Everything Helen Bevington, 1983 What does one learn by taking a journey any journey Helen Bevington asks I ve taken a shaky trip through a decade to Russia to the mailbox to bed to the end of the 1970s about which uncomplimentary and increasingly anxious remarks were made by us all you me and the media This is a book of journeys to places Russia Hawaii Italy Yugoslavia Greece the South Seas the Rhine Australia New Zealand New Mexico and to the classroom at Duke University where she was Professor of English until her retirement in 1976 Since everything is a journey the book is concerned with travel of all kinds in books in memories in people living and dead a lighthearted search for Eden on this planet but a more serious search for survival in the troubled decade of the 1970s Publisher
