Water-resources Investigations Report ,2002 Central Pain Syndrome Sergio Canavero,Vincenzo Bonicalzi,2007-01-15 A complete reference source on central pain Streamflow Losses in the Black Hills of Western South Dakota Jon E. Hortness,Daniel G. Driscoll,1998 The effect of hearing loss on neural processing Jonathan E. Peelle,Arthur Wingfield,2015-06-03 Efficient auditory processing requires the rapid integration of transient sensory inputs This is exemplified in human speech perception in which long stretches of a complex acoustic signal are typically processed accurately and essentially in real time Spoken language thus presents listeners auditory systems with a considerable challenge even when acoustic input is clear However auditory processing ability is frequently compromised due to congenital or acquired hearing loss or altered through background noise or assistive devices such as cochlear implants How does loss of sensory fidelity impact neural processing efficiency and health How does this ultimately influence behavior This Research Topic explores the neural consequences of hearing loss including basic processing carried out in the auditory periphery computations in subcortical nuclei and primary auditory cortex and higher level cognitive processes such as those involved in human speech perception By pulling together data from a variety of disciplines and perspectives we gain a more complete picture of the acute and chronic consequences of hearing loss for neural functioning Foundations of Orientation and Mobility William R. Jue,Vinod M. Vokkarane,2006-06-07 Next generation high speed Internet backbone networks will be required to support a broad range of emerging applications which may not only require significant bandwidth but may also have strict quality of service QoS requirements Furthermore the traffic from such applications are expected to be highly bursty in nature For such traffic the allocation of static fixed bandwidth circuits may lead to the over provisioning of bandwidth resources in order to meet QoS requirements Optical burst switching OBS is a promising new technique which attempts to address the problem of efficiently allocating resources for bursty traffic In OBS incoming data is assembled into bursts at the edges of the network and when the burst is ready to be sent resources in the network are reserved only for the duration of the burst The reservation of resources is typically made by an out of band one way control message which precedes the burst by some offset time By reserving resources only for the duration of the burst a greater degree of utilization may be achieved in the network This book provides an overview of optical burst switching Design and research issues involved in the development of OBS networks are discussed and approaches to providing QoS in OBS networks are presented Topics include Optical burst switching node and network architectures Burst assembly Signaling protocols Contention resolution Burst scheduling Quality of service in OBS networks
