Reclaiming African Religions In Trinidad:

Reclaiming African Religions in Trinidad Frances Henry, 2003 Frances Henry explores connections among various African religions the cultural identity and historic experiences of Caribbean peoples and the re discovery of the African past as an important aspect of national identity in Trinidad and Tobago Dynamic doctrinal and ideological changes have taken place within these religions and Reclaiming African Religions addresses these as it documents the legislative and social acceptance of African religions today Considering contemporary history and religious debate Henry analyses both the process by which marginalized religions move toward the mainstream and the various internal and external tensions such as movement engender Enriched by Henry s years of intensive fieldwork in Trinidad Reclaiming African Religions makes a particularly strong contribution in its discussions of ritual authenticity Embodying Black Religions in Africa and Its Diasporas Yolanda Covington-Ward, Jeanette S. Jouili, 2021-08-09 The contributors to Embodying Black Religions in Africa and Its Diasporas investigate the complex intersections between the body religious expression and the construction and negotiation of social relationships and collective identities throughout the Black diaspora The Cambridge History of Religions in Latin America Virginia Garrard-Burnett, Paul Freston, Stephen C. Dove, 2016-04-11 The Cambridge History of Religions in Latin America covers religious history in Latin America from pre Conquest times until the present This publication is important first because of the historical and contemporary centrality of religion in the life of Latin America second for the rapid process of religious change which the region is undergoing and third for the region s religious distinctiveness in global comparative terms which contributes to its importance for debates over religion globalization and modernity Reflecting recent currents of scholarship this volume addresses the breadth of Latin American religion including religions of the African diaspora indigenous spiritual expressions non Christian traditions new religious movements alternative spiritualities and secularizing tendencies The Dynamic Cosmos Diana Espírito Santo, Matan Shapiro, 2022-05-19 This edited volume applies the analytic notions of paradox and play to the ethnographic manifestation of spirits angels and demons in different locations around the world The 10 case studies conceptualize the co presence of humans and entities with terms that do not exclude spiritual reasoning on the one hand and social explanations on the other Through in depth descriptions of localized possession cosmologies the different chapters collectively propose path breaking methodological directions in this field which incorporate ethnographic theories of simultaneity into anthropological theories of religion kinship and ritual Framed by an introduction written by the editors and an afterword by Michael Lambek a leading authority in possessions studies the volume contains cutting edge analyses that will provide readers with new tools to evaluate previously unstudied aspects of spirit possession all of which stem from the fantastic forms of human movement that accompany the phenomenality of paradoxes in mundane reality Indigenous and African Diaspora Religions in the Americas Benjamin Hebblethwaite, Silke Jansen, 2023 Indigenous and African Diaspora Religions in the Americas explores spirit based religious traditions across vast geographical and cultural expanses including Canada the United States Haiti the Dominican Republic Cuba Trinidad and Tobago Mexico Brazil and Chile Using interdisciplinary research methods this collection of original perspectives breaks new ground by examining these traditions as typologically and historically related This curated selection of the traditions allows readers to compare and highlight convergences while the description and comparison of the traditions challenges colonial erasures and expands knowledge about endangered cultures The inclusion of spirit based traditions from a broad geographical area emphasizes the typology of religion over ethnic compartmentalization The individuals and communities studied in this collection serve spirits through rituals song instruments initiation embodiment via possession or trance veneration of nature and among some Indigenous people the consumption of ritual psychoactive entheogens Indigenous and African diaspora practices focused on service to ancestors and spirits reflect ancient substrates of religiosity The rationale to separate them on disciplinary ethnic linguistic geographical or historical grounds evaporates in our interconnected world Shared cultural historical and structural features of American indigenous and African diaspora spirit based traditions mutually deserve our attention since the analyses and dialogues give way to discoveries about deep commonalities and divergences among religions and philosophies Still struggling against the effects of colonialism enslavement and extinction the practitioners of these spirit based religious traditions hold on to important but vulnerable parts of humanity's cultural heritage These readings make possible journeys of recognition as well as discovery

Mother Tongue Theologies Darren J. N. Middleton, 2010-01-01 Recognizing that one third of the world's Christians practice their faith outside Europe and North America the fourteen essays in Mother Tongue Theologies explore how international fiction depicts Christianity's dramatic movement South and East of Jerusalem as well as North and West Structured by geographical region this collection captures the many ways in which people around the globe receive Christianity It also celebrates postcolonial literature's diversity And it highlights non Western authors biblical literacy addressing how and why locally rooted Christians invoke Scripture in their pursuit of personal as well as social transformation Featured authors include Fyodor Dostoevsky Constantine Cavafy Scott Cairns Chinua Achebe Madam Afua Kuma Earl Lovelace V S Reid Ernesto Cardenal Helena Parente Cunha Arundhati Roy Mary Martha Sherwood Marguerite Butler R M Ballantyne Rudyard Kipling Nora Okja Keller Amy Tan Albert Wendt and Louise Erdrich Individual essayists rightly come to different conclusions about Christianity's global character. Some connect missionary work with colonialism as well as cultural imperialism for example and yet others accentuate how indigenous cultures amalgamate with Christianity's foreignness to produce mesmerizing multiple identities. Differences notwithstanding, Mother Tongue Theologies delves into the moral and spiritual issues that arise out of the cut and thrust of native responses to Western Christian presence and pressure. Ultimately this anthology suggests the reward of listening for and to such responses particularly in literary art will be a wider and deeper discernment of the merits and demerits of post-Western Christianity especially for Christians living in the so-called post-Christian West.

European Cosmopolitanism Gurminder K. Bhambra, John Narayan, 2016-10-26. This book provides a fresh examination of the cosmopolitan project of post-war Europe from a variety of perspectives. It explores the ways in which European cosmopolitanism can be theorized differently if we take into account histories which have rarely been at the forefront of such understandings. It also uses neglected historical resources to draw out new and unexpected entanglements and connections between understandings of European cosmopolitanism both in Europe and elsewhere. The final part of the book places European cosmopolitanism in tension with contemporary postcolonial configurations around diaspora migration and austerity. Overall it seeks to draw attention to the ways in which Europe's posited others have always been very much a part of Europe's colonial histories and its postcolonial present.

Reading Spiritualities Dawn Llewellyn, 2016-04-01. The phenomenon of sacred text has undergone radical deconstruction in recent times reflecting how religion has broken out of its traditional definitions and practices and how current literary theories have influenced texts inside the religious domain and beyond. Reading Spiritualities presents both commentary and vivid examples of this evolution engaging with a variety of reading practices that work with traditional texts and those that extend the notion of text itself. The contributors draw on a range of textual sites such as an interview, Caribbean literature, drama and jazz, women's writings, emerging church blogs, Neopagan websites, the reading practices of Buddhist nuns, empirical studies on the reading experiences of Gujarati Christian and post-Christian women, Chicana short stories, the mosque, cinema, modern art and literature. These examples open up understandings of where and how sacred texts are emerging and being reassessed within contemporary religious and spiritual contexts and make room for readings where the spiritual resides not only in the textual but in other unexpected places. Reading Spiritualities includes contributions from Graham Holderness, Ursula King, Michael N Jagessar, David Jasper, Anthony G Reddie, Michelle Roberts and Heather Walton to reflect and encourage the interdisciplinary study of sacred text in the broad arena of the arts and social sciences. It offers a unique and well-focused snapshot of the textual constructions and representations of the sacred within the contemporary religious climate accessible to the general reader as well as more specialist interests of students and researchers working in Congotay! A Global History of Caribbean Food Candice Goucher, 2014-12-18 Since 1492 the distinct cultures peoples and languages of four continents have met in the Caribbean and intermingled in wave after wave of post Columbian encounters with foods and their styles of preparation being among the most consumable of the converging cultural elements This book traces the pathways of migrants and travellers and the mixing of their cultures in the Caribbean from the Atlantic slave trade to the modern tourism economy As an object of cultural exchange and global trade food offers an intriguing window into this world The many topics covered in the book include foodways Atlantic history the slave trade the importance of sugar the place of food in African derived religion resistance sexuality and the Caribbean kitchen contemporary Caribbean identity and the politics of the new globalisation The author draws on archival sources and European written descriptions to reconstruct African foodways in the diaspora and places them in the context of archaeology and oral traditions performance arts ritual proverbs folktales and the children's song game Congotay Enriching the presentation are sixteen recipes located in special boxes throughout the book Transformations in History Toyin Falola, 2024-11-04 The book uses the main body of Lovejoy's work to speak to core African and economic history issues It thoroughly examines Lovejoy's contributions to the study of Africa particularly in exploring issues around production and exchanges at local regional and international levels The book offers readers a fresh perspective on the discourse of slavery and colonialism while simultaneously introducing them to the quality of work already accomplished by a stellar scholar As the book argues Lovejoy presents verifiable historical data that nudges us to reconsider our perception of Africa's growth trajectory especially before its encounter with the Americas A chapter examines the various ways by which the people experienced slavery before it became proliferated during the time Europeans entered into the business Another chapter addresses questions about the progressive efforts of slave traders to access the interior to drive more victims who would be shipped to the Atlantic for the business of servitude to advance the European economy. Alongside this exploration, it provides the background as to the contributions of Africans to ensure the continuity of this business. Lovejoy notes for instance that Muslims were found in every region in the Americas during slavery, which indicates that they were being taken there through transatlantic slavery. While Muslims were found in these areas, it was not true that they were there in large numbers. This is underscored by their resistance to all forms of forced extraction of the people from their homeland. In essence, they challenged the system in ways that redefined their participation in the exercise of power. The book analyzes how Muslims ensured that economic and political power were withdrawn from the hands of the victims and how they systematically created institutions that promoted that very inequity. Lovejoy's extensive knowledge allows us to develop theories and establish applicable methodologies for understanding African reality since the precolonial era. He presents original perspectives about addressing issues of African American engagements and the roles of critical voices in the diaspora. Consequently, the book is an invaluable educational resource particularly for people who want to deepen their understanding of African social and economic history.

Caribbean Religious History Ennis B Edmonds, Michelle A Gonzalez, 2010-06-01. The colonial history of the Caribbean created a context in which many religions from indigenous to African based to Christian intermingled with one another, creating a rich diversity of religious life. Caribbean Religious History offers the first comprehensive religious history of the region. Ennis B Edmonds and Michelle A Gonzalez begin their exploration with the religious traditions of the Amerindians who flourished prior to contact with European colonizers, then detail the transplantation of Catholic and Protestant Christianity and their centuries of struggles to become integral to the Caribbean's religious ethos, and trace the twentieth-century penetration of American Evangelical Christianity, particularly in its Pentecostal and Holiness iterations. Caribbean Religious History also illuminates the influence of Africans and their descendants on the shaping of such religious traditions as Vodou, Santeria, Revival Zion, Spiritual Baptists, and Rastafari, and the success of Indian indentured laborers and their descendants in reconstituting Hindu and Islamic practices in their new environment. Paying careful attention to the region's social and political history, Edmonds and Gonzalez present a one-volume panoramic introduction to this religiously vibrant part of the world.
