Beating the Odds: Pedagogy, Praxis and the Life-World of Four African American Men Dr. James Oliver Richardson Jr.,2013-03-20 The purpose of my qualitative research is to reveal how four African American men overcame inferior education and Jim Crow laws In the early twentieth century the social and economic conditions of African American men were appalling yet they refused to accept the notion of inferior beings and second class citizenship Phenomenological interviews were conducted The major conclusions that evolved from the data were that family and church were significantly important to the participants This is a study about four African American mens pedagogy praxis and their quest for discovery self realization and high expectations My inquiry is also about their struggles dreams failures and disillusionment Empowerment as Ceremony William M. Epstein,2013 Many people in the United States are poor lead marginal lives and need jobs as well as basic services such as education medical care and housing Multitudes in other parts of the world in addition to being poor are jailed tortured and killed for being members of the wrong ethnic group or expressing political opinions Those who argue for empowerment claim it is a magic bullet It can liberate the oppressed largely through self organization self motivation self invention and even self clarity William M Epstein sees contemporary empowerment practice in the United States as a civic church of national values one better in performing its ceremonial role than god based houses of worship By itself empowerment is not worth the effort of commentary since it achieves none of its goals and has not even generated a respectable critical literature But Epstein argues that empowerment practice and American social welfare both embody prescriptive cultural preferences Like art and music empowerment opens windows into deeper social meaning The social sciences have carved out roles for themselves by looking for simple remedies ones that are inexpensive and compatible with contemporary social arrangements Epstein shows that those in social work practices have not only deluded themselves into thinking that these services have real instrumental value but really operate at cross purposes This accessible work will attract critical attention among these professional groups It bases its carefully documented insights upon informed sociological and anthropological theory Motherhood In Precarious Times Anita Dolman,2018-03-01 Parenting brings countless hopes and worries But when external factors create fear and cast a shadow long and deep across motherhood what happens to the act of mothering Through personal and academic essays and poetry from Canada the United States and Palestine these authors explore what it means to mother through times of struggle uncertainty danger and change current invention of Africa is indeed a modern one an identity configured in numerous ways with and without our interventions Contributions by Lamont de Haven King State and Ethnicity in Nigeria Jesse Benjamin Nubians and Nabateans Jeremy Prestholdt Portuguese on the Swahili Coast Thomas Ricks Slaves in Shi i Iran AD 1500 1900 Launay Robert Late Seventeenth Century Narratives of Travel to Asia and Richard J Payne and Cassandra Veney Taiwan and Africa Social Work with People of African Descent Sadye Louise Logan,2005 Action Reconceptualized David K. Chan,2016-05-11 The concept of action that requires philosophical analysis is one that concerns behavior characteristically found in humans In Action Reconceptualized Human Agency and Its Sources David K Chan examines the sources of human agency that are proposed in causal theories of action namely desire intention and trying and distinguishes them from each other in terms of their roles in practical reasoning and motivation He conceptualizes them in relation to each other in a way that is consistent and useful for answering a number of questions that are central to the philosophy of action The action theory in this book addresses the need to understand human agency for its own sake but it also serves another purpose When the philosopher Elizabeth Anscombe stressed the need to do philosophy of action before doing ethical theory what she meant was that moral philosophers should first work out a proper account of the relationship between the inner states of a person and the actions that she performs This book provides such an account and makes the case that it is desire rather than intention that is the basis for the ethical evaluation of an agent Action Reconceptualized will be of particular interest to students and scholars doing research in action theory and ethics as well as to those working outside of philosophy in psychology and cognitive science Toward a Reconceptualization of Second Language Classroom Assessment Matthew E. Poehner,Ofra Inbar-Lourie,2020-02-03 This book responds to the call for praxis in L2 education by documenting recent and ongoing projects around the world that see partnership with classroom teachers as the essential driver for continuing to develop both classroom assessment practice and conceptual frameworks of assessment in support of teaching and learning Taken together these partnerships shape the language assessment literacy the knowledge and skills required for theorizing and conducting assessment activities of both practitioners and researchers While united by their orientation to praxis the chapters offer considerable diversity with regard to languages taught learner populations included varying in age and proficiency level specific innovations covered research methods employed and countries in which the work was conducted As a whole the book presents a way of engaging in research with practitioners that is likely to stimulate interest among not only language assessment scholars but also those studying second language education and language teacher education as well as language teaching professionals themselves Counseling People of African Ancestry Elias Mpofu,2011-06-27 This volume advances a uniquely Afro centric sociocultural understanding of health maintenance and risk reduction in African cultural heritage populations It unites a diverse group of leading African and Africanist scholars in an exploration of common cultural values in African heritage communities and their practical applications in contemporary counseling The chapters highlight the prominent health issues faced in Africanist settings today and use real world experiences to illustrate core lessons for effective community action The approach spans complex cultural milieus from diversity counseling to conflict resolution Each chapter includes field based experiential tasks discussion boxes research boxes and case studies which serve as valuable resources in both coursework and casework Counseling People of African Ancestry is an essential primer for community health workers counselors and educators seeking a better understanding of African cultural heritage settings to promote community health well being and development Temperament-Based Therapy with Support for Anorexia Nervosa Laura L. Hill,Stephanie Knatz Peck,Christina E. Wierenga,2022-04-21 A guide to deliver Temperament Based therapy with Support addressing the underlying traits that lead to symptoms of anorexia nervosa International Law and the Reconceptualization of Territorial Boundaries Joshua Castellino,2024-10-28 This book critically analyzes the state based regime of international law eliciting its colonial and decolonial origins and proposing a new sub regional basis for dealing with contemporary global challenges Since 1648 public international law has taken many steps to maintain peace and establish a just order The State is deemed central to each of these efforts Yet modern challenges such as environmental mitigation mass migration and the need to stimulate economic growth overwhelm the State Could a regional approach to these questions achieved in conjunction with strong sub national local governance establish a more effective framework for systemic change Drawing on a history of colonization and decolonization while scrutinizing decisions made about the imposition of the State on the basis of colonial boundaries this multidisciplinary work analyses why current challenges are unlikely to be adequately addressed through existing governance structures In response it advocates for a sub regional transnational approach drawing on analyses of pre colonial shared histories and contemporary population ethnographies unfettered by hegemonic boundary drawing The book argues that collaboration across such frontiers in the face of climate and other challenges may offer more feasible approaches to the pursuit of peace than the unquestioned maintenance of state based structures of inherited privilege This book will appeal to scholars and others with interests in international law international relations and international politics as well as in the history and politics of colonialism Re-Conceptualizing Safe Spaces Kate Winter,Andrea Bramberger,2021-10-25 This book broadens the idea of a safe space that is traditionally discussed in feminist studies to include gendered identities intersecting with class race ethnicity sexual orientation and ability within multiple aspects of education This collection showcases work supporting access to education of persistently marginalized individuals The Reconceptualization of European Union Citizenship Elspeth Guild,Cristina Gortázar Rotaeche,Dora Kostakopoulou,2014-01-09 This book maps out from a variety of theoretical standpoints the challenges generated by European integration and EU citizenship for community membership belonging and polity making beyond the state It does so by focusing on three main issues of relevance for how EU citizenship has developed and its capacity to challenge state sovereignty and authority as the main loci of creating and delivering rights and protection First it looks at the relationship between citizenship of the Union and European identity and assesses how immigration and access to nationality in the Member States impact on the development of a common European identity Secondly it discusses how the idea of solidarity interacts with the boundaries of EU citizenship as constructed by the entitlement and capacity of mobile citizens to enjoy equality and social rights as EU citizens Thirdly the book engages with issues of EU citizenship and equality as the building blocks of the EU project By engaging with these themes this volume provides a topical and comprehensive account of the present and future development of Union citizenship and studies the collisions between the realisation of its constructive potential and Member State autonomy
