Reconstructing Communicating Looking To A Future:

Reconstructing Communicating Robyn Penman,2000-07 This volume is an innovative and potentially controversial consideration of the communication discipline and an examination of its future Its primary readers will be scholars and students in organizational communication public relations and theory Interdisciplinary Models and Tools for Serious Games: Emerging Concepts and Future Directions Van Eck, Richard,2010-03-31 This book discusses the need for interdisciplinary awareness in the study of games and learning Provided by publisher Managing Cultural Differences Robert T. Moran,Philip R. Harris,Sarah Virgilia Moran,2011 This new eighth edition provides a leading edge text that provides insight for interacting with other cultures working on cross cultural teams and provides a framework for building long lasting relationships in a diverse global business environment The Coordinated Management of Meaning Stephen W. Littlejohn,Sheila McNamee,2013-11-05 This book honors the life and work of the late W Barnett Pearce a leading theorist in the communication field The book is divided into four sections The first section will lead with an essay by Barnett Pearce This will be followed by sections on 1 practical theory 2 dialogue and 3 social transformation In the broadest sense these are probably the three general themes found in the work of Pearce and his colleagues In another sense these categories also identify three important dimensions of Pearce s major contribution the theory of the Coordinated Management of Meaning

Justice in the Making: Relating, Participating, Communicating Robyn Ann Penman,2025-01-12 Why don t measures relying on distributive justice really seem to solve social justice problems How can we account for for the persistence of racist injustice despite good intentions How well is justice really served in our adversarial system in courts Are procedural justice measures really good enough Has restorative justice been co opted and compromised by the conventional justice system Robyn Penman invites you to explore with her what it can mean to reimagine justice as something we make together in the dynamic process of relating and communicating with all its uncertainties and open endedness She draws particularly on ideas from the relational turn in philosophy on pragmatism on social constructionism and on a communication perspective Using a relational communication framework Robyn Penman shows how it is possible to pick up the threads of recent critiques and reform proposals in the justice literature and transform them into something so much better In doing so she develops a rich grammar including concepts such as relational responsivity and responsibility to account for the dynamics of making justice She also offers new insights and possibilities towards acting justly in an ongoing co created process Encyclopedia of Communication Theory Stephen W. Littlejohn,Karen A. Foss,2009-08-18 With more than 300 entries these two volumes provide a one stop source for a comprehensive overview of communication theory offering current descriptions of theories as well as the background issues and concepts that comprise these theories This is the first resource to summarize in one place the diversity of theory in the communication field Key Themes Applications and Contexts Critical Orientations Cultural Orientations Cybernetic and Systems Orientations Feminist Orientations Group and Organizational

Engaging Theories in Family Communication Dawn O. Braithwaite, Leslie A. Baxter, 2005-08-26 Engaging Theories in Family Communication Multiple Perspectives covers uncharted territory in its field as it is the first book on the market to deal exclusively with family communication theory In this volume editors Dawn O Braithwaite and Leslie A Baxter bring together a group of contributors that represent a veritable Who's Who in the family communication field These scholars examine both classic and cutting edge theories to guide family communication research in the coming years

Communication as ... Gregory J. Shepherd, Jeffrey St. John, 2006 In Communication as Perspectives on Theory editors Gregory J Shepherd Jeffrey St John and Ted Striphas bring together a collection of 27 essays that explores the wide range of theorizing about communication cutting across all lines of traditional division in the field The essays in this text are written by leading scholars in the field of communication theory with each scholar employing a particular stance or perspective on what communication theory is and how it functions In essays that are brief argumentative and forceful the scholars propose their perspective as a primary or essential way of viewing communication with decided benefits over other views Dissent and the Failure of Leadership Stephen P. Banks, 2010-01-01 This timely collection of original papers explores the vital but largely unrecognized connections between leadership and dissent In an era when leadership failures can mean homelessness and even death for countless flood victims losses of life savings for employees of bankrupt corporations civilian deaths and ravaged societies in the Middle East and incalculable suffering among refugees in central Africa the studies presented here offer analysis and correctives based on new understandings of the dissent leadership relationship The book examines how dissent is implicated in problems plaguing theory development in leadership studies Topics explored within this framework include dissent in corporate discourses of control real and manufactured crises cross generational perceptions women leaders personal and work lives the professionalization of journalism religious institutions activist public relations and fear based cultures It concludes with new proposals for legitimating dissent as a unique instrument for advancing social development and avoiding failures of leadership Examining dissent as the critical factor that differentiates leadership failures and successes from interdisciplinary perspectives this illuminating book will be of great interest to advanced students and teachers of leadership studies as well as corporate executives policymakers and other leaders aware of the need to improve leadership practices Communication as Organizing Francois Cooren, James R. Taylor, Elizabeth J. Van

Every, 2013-09-13 Communication as Organizing unites multiple reflections on the role of language under a single rubric the organizing role of communication Stemming from Jim Taylor's earlier work The Emergent Organization Communication as Its Site and Surface LEA 2000 the volume editors present a communicational answer to the question what is an organization through contributions from an international set of scholars and researchers The chapter authors synthesize various lines of research on constituting organizations through communication describing their explorations of the relation between language human practice and the constitution of organizational forms Each chapter develops a dimension of the central theme showing how such concepts as agency identity sensemaking narrative and account may be put to work in discursive analysis to develop effective research into organizing processes The contributions employ concrete examples to show how the theoretical concepts can be employed to develop effective research This distinctive volume encourages readers to discover and develop a truly communicational means of addressing the question of organization addressing how organization itself emerges in the course of communicational transactions In presenting a single and entirely communicational perspective for exploring organizational phenomena grounded in the discourse of communicational transactions and the establishment of relationships through language it is required reading for scholars researchers and graduate students working in organizational communication management social psychology pragmatics of language and organizational studies

Distinctive Qualities in Communication Research Donal Carbaugh, Patrice M. Buzzanell, 2009-09-10 This timely volume provides an in depth look at why the field of communication is so central in initiatives for social impact around the world Editors Donal Carbaugh and Patrice M Buzzanell bring together scholars with varied and productive approaches to communication to address the question of what distinguishes communication research from similar studies in other disciplines The work provides an invaluable resource for defining the role of communication research in the academic community and the contributions it makes to the study of human interaction Dialogue and Deliberation Josina M. Makau, Debra L. Marty, 2013-03-19 Across our differences people everywhere wish to be heard to be known and to be understood When these needs are met individuals have the potential to flourish and communities can work together in common cause Yet in the current argument culture the power of communication to meet these needs remains largely untapped and the ability to resolve shared problems is compromised This book explores the roots of this communication crisis and offers a realistic means to reconnect to build community and to make just and wise decisions together
