Reconstructing The European Security Order By:

Reconstructing the European Security Order Michael Mandelbaum, 1990 Reconstructing Afghanistan William Maley, Susanne Schmeidl, 2014-11-27 This book identifies some of the main lessons for civil military interactions that can be derived from the experiences of Provincial Reconstruction Teams PRTs in Afghanistan The book has three main themes Firstly the volume analyses why the ways in which civil and military actors interact in theatres of operations such as Afghanistan matter for both those categories of actors and for the ordinary people who their interactions serve Second the book highlights that these interactions are invariably complex The third theme which arises specifically from the PRT experience in Afghanistan is that such teams vary significantly in their roles resourcing and operational environments Consequently to appraise the value of the PRT experience it is necessary to unpack the experiences of different PRTs which the use of case studies allows one to do The volume comprises an introduction identifying some key questions to which the PRT experience gives rise and case studies of the experiences of the United States United Kingdom New Zealand Canada The Netherlands Australia Germany and France chapters dealing with the roles played by NGOs and the UN system and a discussion from an Afghan perspective of the implications of civilian casualties It is the combination of the diverse cases discussed in this book with a focus on the broad challenges of optimising civil military interactions that makes this book distinctive This book will be of much interest to students of the Afghan War civil military relations statebuilding Central Asian politics and IR in general Restructuring of Arms Production in Western Europe Stockholm International Peace Research Institute, 1992 Profound changes are occurring in the structure of arms production in Western Europe Concentration is increasing at a fast pace Small producers are disappearing and even large ones are opting out of the market The various national arms industries long operating in protective environments are rapidly internationalizing Three factors combine to bring about this change East West detente the creation of the Single European Market and the constant pressure of increasingly complex technology In this book experts describe how the framework for producing arms in Western Europe is altered and how various actors firms governments and trade unions are adapting to the new situation The book presents detailed analyses of all the arms producing countries in Western Europe In addition to describing recent changes the authors speculate on the implications of these for the balance of power in Western Europe the relations between Western Europe and the United States arms exports to the Third World and problems of converting from military to civilian production The appendices include the SIPRI list of the 50 largest arms producing companies in Western Europe data on mergers and acquisitions procurement expenditure and exports of major weapons selections from treaties and other official documents relevant to current and future regulation of West European arms production and a select bibliography Status of U.S. Arms Control Policy United States. Senate. Committee on Foreign Relations, 1991 European Security after Iraq MacQueen, Trine Flockhart, 2006-06-01

European Security after Iraq examines the impact of the second Gulf War on European politics. It explores key questions about the impact of the conflict on national European and transatlantic politics such as the extent to which the war has created new cleavages between the foreign and security policies of European states or merely confirmed existing ones. Its national focus is on states on both the so-called old and new Europe, a classification the book in fact calls into question. Important issues around the institutional architecture of European security before and after the war are also discussed. The book's nine chapters deal with background issues such as the place of the war in the broader discourse of European security, institutional analyses of NATO and the EU, and area studies of France, the Balkans, eastern Europe, and Turkey. It will be of particular use in upper-level undergraduate and taught postgraduate courses on contemporary Europe, transatlantic relations, and international security.

EU, Security and The Eastern Partnership Christian Kaunert, Giselle Bosse, Alena Vieira, 2024-11-08

This book connects the scholarly discussions on security and resilience by examining the various definitions and meanings of the terms in the EU's Eastern Partnership EaP policy and in what ways the EU has attempted to define the relationship between security and resilience in its official rhetoric and in policy practice. The Russian invasion of Ukraine in February 2022 has largely been viewed as an extraordinary resilience test for the EU. The war has unleashed multiple crises ranging from security and asylum to energy and the economy, in turn raising questions not only on how the EU can ensure the resilience of its eastern partners but also questions existential to the EU such as institutional and policy reform, further EU enlargement, and the EU's role in a rapidly changing global context of polarisation and fragmentation. The chapters in this edited volume draw on a diversity of original conceptual and theoretical frameworks that are combined with an empirical analysis of often overlooked dimensions of EU's policy towards the EaP countries, drawing on the original data collected by the authors, including the semi-structured interviews. In light of the aforementioned challenges, the chapters to this book have only increased in relevance, pointing to pathways and opportunities for the EU to strengthen the resilience of its eastern partners and its own resilience in the future, and inviting policy makers and scholars to reflect on potential pitfalls, contradictions, and limitations of EU resilience building. This book will be beneficial to students, scholars, and academics interested in European Studies, Politics, and International Security. The chapters in this book were originally published in the Journal of Contemporary European Studies.

argues that we can understand and explain the EU as a security and peace actor through a framework of an updated and deepened concept of security governance It elaborates and develops on the current literature on security governance in order to provide a more theoretically driven analysis of the EU in security Whilst the current literature on security governance in Europe is conceptually rich there still remains a gap between those that do security governance and those that focus on security per se A theoretical framework is constructed with the objective of creating a conversation between these two literatures and the utility of such a framework is demonstrated through its application to the geospatial dimensions of EU security as well as specific cases studies in varied fields of EU security This book was originally published as a special issue of European Security Achieving Sustainability in Ukraine through Military Brownfields Redevelopment Cezar

Non-State Challenges in a Re-Ordered World Stefano Ruzza, Anja Jakobi, Charles Geisler, 2015-10-14 There is a sprawling scholarship on violence crime and corrupt state rule yet few have interpreted these challenges as transformative at the global scale and as a potential source of alternative non state legitimacy This volume challenges Westphalian conservatism in a provocative yet plausible manner shedding light at the ubiquity and diversity of unfolding non state agendas and at their effect on the imagined state community Focusing on civil war parties warlords commercial providers of security multinational companies and criminal organizations the book directs attention to theoretical questions and policy challenges arising from non state armed expansion To accomplish this the contributors present a range of case studies and comparisons within three thematic sections the first takes stock of how when and in what measure state and state system legitimacy are challenged by non state violent or criminal activity the second addresses the nature effectiveness and side effects of different state mandated reaction to non state activities and third focuses on the recombination of state and non state actors contributing to processes of socio political transformation This volume provides a current analysis of different armed and violent actors encroaching on the state s monopoly of violence It seeks to spark debate about global political change and will be of interest to students and scholars of global governance global security and international relations
