Records Of The Trial Of Walter Langton:

The Register of Walter Langton, Bishop of Coventry and Lichfield, 1296-1321 Catholic Church. Diocese of Coventry and Lichfield (England). Bishop (1296-1321 : Langton), Walter Langton, 2007 The earliest extant register for Coventry and Lichfield reveals important detail on Langton a key political figure treasurer of Edward I and briefly of Edward II suspended from episcopal office by Pope Boniface VIII and twice imprisoned The Trial of Walter Langton, Bishop of Lichfield, 1307-1312 Alice Beardwood, 1964 Inventories not only of the lands but also of the collectable debts and treasure of an individual with explanations as to how he amassed his wealth are not common in mediaeval records The seizure of the entire estate of Walter Langton bishop of Lichfield Coventry and Chester by Edward II in 1307 and his subsequent trial provide just such an inventory The records are more important as sources for economic legal and financial procedure at the turn of the fourteenth century than any summary or study of them can be but such a study is not without value Preface

Officers and Accountability in Medieval England 1170--1300 John Sabapathy, 2019-09-13 The later twelfth and thirteenth centuries were a pivotal period for the development of European government and governance A mentality emerged that trusted to procedures of accountability as a means of controlling officers conduct The mentality was not inherently new but it became qualitatively more complex and quantitatively more widespread in this period across European countries and across different sorts of officer The officers exposed to these methods were not just state ones but also seignorial ecclesiastical and university college officers as well as urban communal ones This study surveys these officers and the practices used to regulate them in England It places them not only within a British context but also a wide European one and explores how administration law politics and norms tried to control the insolence of office The devices for institutionalising accountability analysed here reflected an extraordinarily creative response in England and beyond to the problem of complex government inquests audits accounts scrutiny panels syndication Many of them have shaped the way in which we think about accountability today Some remain with us So too do their practical problems How can one delegate control effectively How does accountability relate to responsibility What relationship does accountability have with justice This study offers answers for these questions in the Middle Ages and is the first of its kind dedicated to an examination of this important topic in this period

Credit and Debt in Medieval England c.1180-c.1350 Phillipp Schofield, Nicholas Mayhew, 2002-08-07 The essays in this volume look at the mechanics of debt the legal process and its economics in early medieval England Beneath the elevated plane of high politics affairs of the Crown and international finance of the Middle Ages lurked huge numbers of credit and debt transactions The transactions and those who conducted them moved between social and economic worlds merchants and traders clerics and Jews extending and receiving credit to and from their social superiors equals and inferiors These papers build upon an established tradition of approaches to the study of credit and debt in the Middle Ages looking at the wealth of historical material from registries of debt and legal records to parliamentary roles and statutes merchant accounts rents and leases wills and probates Four of the six papers in this volume were given at a conference on Credit and debt in medieval and early modern England held in Oxford in 2000 The other two papers draw upon new important postgraduate theses Contents Introduction Phillipp Schofield Aspects of the law of debt 1189 1307 Paul Brand Christian and Jewish lending patterns and financial dealings during the twelfth and thirteenth centuries Robin R Mundill Some aspects of the business of statutory debt registries 1283 1307 Christopher McNall The English parochial clergy as investors and creditors in the first half of the fourteenth century Pamela Nightingale Access to credit in the medieval English countryside Phillipp Schofield Creditors and debtors at Oakington Cottenham and Dry Drayton Cambridgeshire 1291 1350 Chris Briggs
