Recreating Partnership:

Recreating Partnership Phillip Ziegler, Toby Hiller, 2001-07-31 All couples go through challenging times some survive and thrive others don't. How can we understand and use this distinction in the practical application of therapy? In their solution oriented competency based approach to couples therapy Phillip Ziegler and Toby Hiller answer this question. In Recreating Partnership an innovative theoretically sound and practical handbook for clinicians Ziegler and Hiller present a bold and clinically useful concept: the good story/bad story dichotomy. The book shows clinicians how to use this narrative concept in conducting effective and efficient relationship therapy that will help couples build solutions collaboratively, invigorate partnership and thrive each in their own unique ways. The book covers issues such as establishing rapport with antagonistic partners, developing therapeutic goals, hosting conversations that reinvigorate the couple's good story, how, when and whether to offer task assignments, addressing issues such as domestic violence and how to bring therapy to a close, as well as many cogent and helpful transcripts. Written for psychologists, social workers, marriage and family therapists and anyone who works with couples, Recreating Partnership will be exciting and useful to both the novice and experienced practitioner.

Clinical Handbook of Couple Therapy, Fourth Edition Alan S. Gurman, 2008-06-24 This authoritative handbook provides a definitive overview of the theory and practice of couple therapy. In addition to presenting major couple therapy models in step by step detail, the book describes effective applications for particular populations and problems. Chapters adhere closely to a uniform structure to facilitate study and comparison, enhancing the book's utility as a reference and text. See also Clinical Casebook of Couple Therapy also edited by Alan S. Gurman which presents in depth illustrations of treatment.

Empowering Couples Duane R. Bidwell, 2013-02-01 Couples can make significant progress toward resolving their own problems when they receive appropriate guidance from a caring person. This book outlines five tasks focused on identity, agency and meaning that spiritual caregivers can use to empower couples for significant change in just three to five conversations. This form of empowering guidance is a dimension of pastoral conversation rather than formal counseling. Critically integrating desert spiritual theology with empirical data about successful marriages, Bidwell advocates for mutuality and partnership within covenanted relationships which allows partners to create an alliance strong enough to resist the forces that threaten relationships, especially the negative influences of criticism, contempt, defensiveness and withdrawal.
