Recreation Sports Ministry:

Recreation and Sports Ministry John Garner, 2003 Recreation and Sports Ministry is one avenue by which your church can capture the imaginations of people get their attention gain access to their minds and reach the heart with the message of the love of God Recreation and Sports Ministry: Impacting the Postmodern Culture John Garner, 2016-12 How open is our culture to recreation and sports The popular culture today is saturated with recreation and sports The Olympics Super Bowl World Series X Games Iron Man events the Final Four in college basketball and the playoff series in professional basketball capture the imaginations of millions of people in America each time they are held The questions are according to general editor John Garner where is the church and how is the church using these tools to reach people and will the church see the opportunity to use recreation and sports as ministry tools The fact is most churches are not reaching the postmodern culture and are being ignored by an increasingly non Christian American culture because people see no relevance to their lives What they do see relevance in is re creative leisure they pursue it at break neck speed and often at great costs Somehow the church must learn to capture the imagination of a world that is passing it by If the church can capture the imaginations of people it can get their attention can gain access to their minds and can reach the heart with the message of the love of God

Gin, 2003-10 Elite? Adam D. Metz, 2018-10-23 Beyond an occasional sports inspired sermon illustration sports are generally regarded as having little relevance to the Christian faith More often they are viewed as a welcome and safe reprieve from politics and religion Quietly however as they avoid the discerning eye of the church sports are slowly overtaking families and overwhelming parents Under the labels elite select and travel a new experience of sports has taken root in American culture demanding financial burdens time commitments and heightened pressures never before seen Community leaders from various public sectors have criticized many recent trends in youth sports but alas where has the church been This new elite expression of youth sports is quickly building an intimidating front against the church As church attendance declines elite youth sports participation is on the rise This book ventures into the challenging controversial and powerful world of youth sports Young people participate in sports more than just about any other activity and the church has neglected its role in providing a voice of discernment for what participating in sports should look like Christians are desperately in need of a manifesto for helping them wrestle with the complex exciting and often exhausting world of youth sports

African Youth and the Persistence of Marginalization Danielle Resnick, James Thurlow, 2015-04-10 The much heralded growth and transformation of many economies in sub-Saharan Africa over the last decade continues to receive prominent attention in academic scholarship and among policy practitioners An apparent feature about this transformation however is that Africa's youth appear to have been left out This book critically examines the extent and consequences of the marginalization of African youth It questions conventional wisdoms about data trends aspirational goals and common policy interventions surrounding Africa's youth that have been variously propagated in both the development studies literature and in mainstream donor policy reports The book explores macro trends from both a temporal and cross regional perspective in order to highlight what is distinct about contemporary African youth and whether their prospects and behaviours do actually vary from their counterparts in other regions of the world or from previous generations of African youth Such studies include cross country analyses of youth employment patterns and modes of political participation in depth examination of the behaviours and aspirations of the urban youth and critical reflections on the impact of rural employment initiatives vocational education and learnership programmes The incorporation of multiple methods and disciplines as well as its attention to policy issues ensures that the book will be of great interest to graduate students researchers and professional researchers whose work lies at the intersection of African area studies and development studies as well as those focused on development economics political science and public policy and administration

Youth and Nation-Building in Cameroon. A Study of National Youth Day Messages and Leadership Discourse (1949-2009) Churchill

Ewumbue-Monono, 2009 This meticulous and comprehensive documentation of Cameroonian Youth Day Messages and leadership discourse on youth from 1949-2009 is a gold mine for researchers, historians, and anyone interested in studying youth politics and society in Africa. The book presents and explores themes and content of Youth Day Messages, how these messages tied in with or veered away from key events and issues of the time, how they served as a platform for West African governments and the Ahidjo and Biya regimes to articulate their political vision, justify their policies, sell their respective ideologies to the youth, and what lessons could be drawn from them on competing, conflicting, and complementary perspectives on youth agency in Cameroon and Africa. Churchill links the Youth Day to ongoing discussions in Africa about the role and place of youths as agents of development in Africa. Most significantly, he finally puts Cameroon's controversial Youth Day in its appropriate historical context, not as a political device created by the Francophone politicians to distort Cameroonian history and erase plebiscite day from the collective memory, as Anglophone nationalists claim, but as a British Cameroon's colonial legacy successfully sold to the Ahidjo regime as a day to be commemorated throughout the federation by leaders of the federated state of West Cameroon. Churchill Ewumbue Monono, a senior career diplomat, is Minister Counsellor in the Cameroon Embassy in Moscow. A graduate of the International Higher School of Journalism and the International Relations Institute of Cameroon in the University of Yaounde, he was a 1991-92 Fellow in Public Diplomacy in Boston University, USA. He has served in Cameroon in various professional capacities. Ewumbue Monono has written extensively on Cameroon's political history, and his books include Men of Courage (published in 2005) and Intentional Outreach (Steve Quatro, 2009-08). Steve Quatro has been training church leaders how to develop effective church sports ministries full time since 1992. He speaks regularly at sports ministry and pastors' conferences. Since 2006, Steve has taught sports ministry at Azusa Pacific University. Steve married Tina in 1974; they have three adult children and three grandsons, and counting. It has been my privilege to be involved in Kingdom work through the bridge of sports and recreation with Steve on three continents. His tunnel vision focus on prayerful evangelism has been his continual soap box. This is a must-read for every Senior Pastor, Sports Minister, and sports ministry volunteer. Thank you, Steve, for putting these principles in print to help churches develop simple and effective sports outreach efforts. Greg Linville, Executive Director, Church Sports and Recreation Ministers' Professor of Sports Ministry, Malone College. Steve Quatro has been a leader in sports ministry since the early 1990s. Intentional Outreach refines church sport and recreation ministry down to the basics in order to keep it focused, simple, and evangelistically effective. Rodger Oswald, Executive Director, Church Sports International. Our church has intentionally incorporated sports into many of our local outreach efforts to the end that currently the highest percentage of our congregation had their initial contact with our church through our sports activities. The principles outlined in Steve's book Intentional Outreach are a key part of our sports outreach efforts, and I recommend them highly for any church using sports to reach out. Dave Burns, Senior Pastor, Hillside Community Church. Virtually every church in America and a rapidly growing number around the world employs sport or recreation activities to accomplish its mission. This book provides to pastors and lay leaders simple and Biblically sound guidelines to transform their sports and recreation activities into outreach vehicles that yield measureable results
