Singleton, 2012 Leisure and Aging Theory and Practice provides students and professionals with a balanced perspective of current knowledge as it presents cutting edge research in both fields Supplemented by online ancillaries this text offers a wealth of knowledge on various aspects of life for older people and the role of leisure in their lives Activities in Action Phyllis M. Foster, 2014-01-14 Here is an invaluable resource for activities professionals specializing in geriatrics Activities in Action reflects the goals of the National Association of Activity Professionals in that it serves as a catalyst for professional and personal growth and provides a national forum on geriatric and activity issues. Some of the highlights of this significant volume include a historical perspective of the activities profession, its growth and current contributions to the life and care of nursing home residents and an overview of a national organization representing activities professionals and how this organization has contributed to the growth of the profession. An extensive aging and leisure bibliography of timely publications related to activities and aging is also included. Specific chapters emphasize a variety of topics such as the impact of federally mandated nursing home resident assessment for activity professionals, the growing concern for the quality of life and its definition for nursing home inhabitants, the role of activity professionals in providing for the spiritual needs of the elderly whom they serve, how to deal with relocation stress and territoriality in nursing home occupants and practical guidelines on how to employ and supervise activity assistants and work effectively with other staff as well as an activity coordinator. Activities directors, coordinators, assistants and supervisors from all levels of experience will benefit from the insightful information in this innovative book. National Directory of Educational Programs in Gerontology, 1976

Joanne Grabinski, 2007-08-27. Wanted Gerontology Workers, Gerontological Specialists and Gerontologists for careers now and into the future. As our population of persons aged 65 and over grows and lives longer through these ages, the need for more practitioners with gerontology specific training is growing as well. Opportunities for careers in gerontology are everywhere and more are appearing every day, however the increasing number of options in this field makes the task of finding information, mentoring and jobs more difficult. How do you know if gerontology is right for you and what options for practice are available? 101 Careers in Gerontology will guide you in your search, providing glimpses into and information about a broad range of options that are gerontology specific or gerontology related. This guide is for all levels of job seekers: college or high school students looking to begin careers or paths of study, professionals needing credentials, mid-career job seekers, even guidance counselors or parents looking for help counseling young adults. Types of jobs and where you would work, including areas you may not have considered such as clothing design, anthropology or law education requirements for those jobs, practitioner profiles and emerging job prospects are all outlined to give you the information you need to decide which path in gerontology is right for you. Interviews with practitioners provide insight on what it's like to be starting out in gerontology or to have worked in the field for years, as well as the experience of starting out with a degree versus on the job learning. So go ahead, use this book.
