Teacher Education in Sub-Saharan Africa Rosarii Griffin, 2012-05-14 In the drive to achieve universal primary education as one of the Millennium Development Goals there is an increasing recognition of the urgency of focusing on teacher education to both meet the demand for more than one million qualified teachers required to achieve this goal within sub Saharan Africa as well as to combat the sometimes poor quality educational experience reported in the school. Currently approximately only one third of teachers are qualified to teach. This dearth in qualified teachers also means that secondary and tertiary education need to be improved upon to provide an educated cohort of graduates. This in turn will ensure that the quality of teacher trained and retained within the profession is of a sufficiently high standard to ensure sustainable progress. This volume focuses on the various aspects of teacher education which need to be addressed in order for the wider Millennium Goals to be achieved but more importantly so that each African child living within sub Saharan Africa will have the right to a quality education ensuring they too experience their right and entitlement as children to reach their full potential often taken for granted in Western countries giving African children the necessary tools to build a better future for themselves. Of particular interest to the education researcher and policy maker this volume's contributors look at the various issues and challenges around the teacher profession particularly in relation to resources and practices within sub Saharan Africa. The contributors examine the issue of building research capacity for educational research within teacher education Colleges and explore the concept of education for sustainable development with the view to improving the development of quality teacher education within the global South. In this volume research reports are presented highlighting the various challenges within the structure and provision of teacher education within certain national contexts including assessment and curricula issues which need to be addressed. This volume goes from the global to the local and examines teacher educator teaching learning and reflective practice issues within different contexts as well as exploring alternative pre service experiences for western teachers who wish to work within the sub Saharan context as well as some teacher educator exchange programmes between the South and North. Case countries explored include Lesotho, South Africa, Mozambique, Uganda, Kenya, Tanzania and Madagascar to mention but a few. Of particular value to the education researcher and policy maker this book provides a timely resource focusing on an area of neglect highlighting the central role of the teacher and teacher education towards sustainable development within the sub Saharan African context.

Collaborative Approaches to Recruiting, Preparing, and Retaining Teachers for the Field Peterson-Ahmad, Maria, Luther, Vicki L., 2022-01-07

Teacher retention is an area of great concern across the globe as it appears many teachers leave the field after only a few years especially those serving low income students. There is a growing gap from preparation to practice. Not only must educator preparation programs EPPs be diligent in utilizing systematically effective methods of preparing novice teachers but schools must also be cognizant of the need for continued mentorship and quality professional development that matches the unique needs of their novice teachers. When novice teachers enter the profession they must be offered explicit and scaffolded opportunities for continued learning in order to bridge the theoretical aspects of teaching learned in a preparation program to the practical application of a classroom school setting as these opportunities differ from the needs of veteran teachers Collaborative Approaches to Recruiting Preparing and Retaining Teachers for the Field provides a collection of theoretical application and research based information regarding a variety of viewpoints and strategies that educator preparation programs must be cognizant of in order to meet the varied and individualized needs of novice teachers so that the academic behavioral and or social emotional needs of their students are effectively supported Overall this book recognizes the constant need for improvement within educator preparation programs and school systems showcases that teacher retention is a concern across the United States and globally and shows how educator preparation programs and schools districts must reach across the boundaries of content specificity and collaborate to prepare teacher candidates most effectively Covering topics such as teacher retention collaborative partnerships and growth mindset this book is essential for educational preparation faculty educational leadership faculty P 12 general and special education teachers administrators government officials pre service teachers students researchers and academicians
