Recurring Fictions:

Haunted Media Jeffrey Sconce, 2000 Examines the repeated association of new electronic media with spiritual phenomena from the telegraph in the late 19th century to television Federman's Fictions Jeffrey R. Di Leo, 2012-01-02 This collection of essays offers an authoritative examination and appraisal of the French American novelist Raymond Federman's many contributions to humanities scholarship including Holocaust studies Beckett studies translation studies experimental fiction postmodernism and autobiography Although known primarily as a novelist Federman 1928-2009 is also the author of numerous books of poetry essays translations and criticism After emigrating to the United States in 1942 and receiving a Ph.D. in comparative literature at UCLA in 1957 he held professorships in the University at Buffalo's departments of French and English from 1964 to 1999 Together with Steve Katz and Ronald Sukenick he was one of the original founders of the Fiction Collective a nonprofit publishing house dedicated to avant garde experimental prose Far too many accounts treat Federman as merely a member of a small group of writers who pioneered metafictional or postmodern American literature Federman's Fiction will introduce or for some reintroduce to the broader scholarly community a creative and daring thinker whose work is significant not just to considerations of the development of innovative fiction but to a number of other distinct disciplines and emerging critical discourses Fin-de-Siècle Fictions, 1890s-1990s A. Mousoutzanis, 2014-05-27 Fin de Siècle Fictions 1890s 1990s focuses on fin de siècle British and postmodern American fictions of apocalypse and investigates the ways in which these narratives demonstrate shifts in the relations among modern discourses of power and knowledge The Fictions of Dreams Otto M. Rheinschmiedt, 2018-03-29 This book examines some of the oldest preserved texts on dreams such as Artemidorus' Oneirocritica Sigmund Freud's favourite ancient dream theorist and dream books by Aristotle the grandfather of modern dream theory The Poetics of Empowerment in David Mitchell's Novels Eva-Maria Windberger, 2023-07-17 The Poetics of Empowerment in David Mitchell's Novels combines the investigation of David Mitchell's novels with the introduction of a new critical concept to literary studies empowerment Aiming to situate and establish empowerment firmly within the context of literary studies it offers the first framework and definition for reading fictional texts with the lens of empowerment and applies it in the analysis of discourse the fictional characters and the role of the reader in Mitchell's novels Drawing on narratological analysis cognitive approaches to literature and reader response theory it features close readings of Cloud Atlas 2004 Black Swan Green 2006 and The Thousand Autumns of Jacob de Zoet 2010 and dissects the author's strategies poetics and agenda of empowering fiction This book argues for an inherent indissoluble connection between empowerment and the telling of stories and demonstrates how literary studies can benefit from a serious engagement with empowerment and how such an engagement can stimulate new responses to fiction and put literary studies in conversation with other disciplines The Spectralities Reader Maria del Pilar Blanco, Esther Peeren, 2013-08-29 The Spectralities Reader is the first volume to collect the rich scholarship produced in the wake of the spectral turn of the early 1990s which saw ghosts and haunting conjured as compelling analytical and methodological tools across the humanities and social sciences Surveying the past twenty years from an interdisciplinary and cross cultural perspective the Reader displays the wide range of concerns spectrality in its diverse elaborations has been called upon to elucidate The disjunctions produced by globalization the ungraspable quality of modern media the convolutions of subject formation in terms of gender race and sexuality the elusiveness of spaces and places and the lingering presences and absences of memory and history have all been reconceived by way of the spectral A primer for the wide readership engaged with cultural interpretations of ghosts and haunting that go beyond the confines of the fictional and supernatural The Spectralities Reader includes twenty five groundbreaking texts by prominent contemporary thinkers from Jacques Derrida and Gayatri Spivak to Avery Gordon and Arjun Appadurai as well as a general introduction and six section introductions by the editors

The Craft of Fiction David Letzler, 2017-06 A 2017 Choice Outstanding Academic Title What is the strange appeal of big books The mega novel a genre of erudite tomes with encyclopedic scope has attracted wildly varied responses from fanatical devotion to trenchant criticism Looking at intimidating mega novel masterpieces from The Making of Americans to 2666 David Letzler explores reader responses to all the seemingly random irrelevant pointless and derailing elements that comprise these mega novels elements that he labels craft after the computer science term for junk code In The Craft of Fiction Letzler suggests that these books are useful tools to help us understand the relationship between reading and attention While mega novel text is often intricately meaningful or experimental sometimes it is just excessive and pointless On the other hand mega novels also contain text that though appearing to be craft turns out to be quite important Letzler posits that this craft requires readers to develop a sophisticated method of attentional modulation allowing one to subtly distinguish between text requiring focused attention and text that must be skimmed or even skipped to avoid processing failures The Craft of Fiction shows how the attentional maturation prompted by reading mega novels can help manage the information overload that increasingly characterizes contemporary life

Fiction, Crime, and the

Feminine Rédouane Abouddahab,2011-01-18 The form of art called fiction has always been the privileged framework providing the perfect alibi for facing framing and containing the Other's desire and the strange libido attached to violence in other words there is an ambivalent dimension inherent in the scenarios and fantasies we enjoy by proxy Are not the fairy tales of our childhood full of images of death and violence whose fascinating presence is paradoxically meant to make us feel all the more safely tucked up in bed After all the wolf or the Little Red Riding Hood the monstrous killer or the unfortunate victim are but fictitious characters mere shifting positions they are not me therefore thanks to the willing suspension of disbelief process any reading I may shift into their speech or thoughts on the fictional screen a stage both for projection of and protection from such forbidden enjoyments Crime fiction has also for a long time been the genre for such containment Ever since Victorian craniology criminal violence has remained as resistant as ever to scientific measurement even to the more recent techniques of investigation of the brain Where women are concerned they were first and mostly fascinating victims but they also nowadays feature in the role of the criminals adding to the first fascination the mystery of a woman's desire beyond the pale of societal expectations Indeed more and more pieces of crime fiction nowadays refuse to grant the simple pleasures of old what if for example the text refuses to comply to the whodunnit convention What about those stories that instead of closure will diffuse a mist a sense of unrest by their emphasis on the inexplicable lure of violence In other words gone are the days of the satisfaction granted by traditional closure and return to a solidly structured society made safe again by the disposal of the scene of violence But writing as such is also to be taken into consideration and what forcefully determines the writing is not only the historical trauma whose active presence in the fiction cannot be denied but especially some unresolved traumatic event or exclusion that makes one write and through the writing quest bliss but that also makes one renounce the attachment to the inevitably lost bliss

Post Celtic Tiger Landscapes in Irish Fiction

Marie Mianowski,2016-11-03 This volume discusses place and landscape in Irish fiction since 2008 including work by William Trevor Dermot Bolger Anne Enright Donal Ryan Claire Kilroy Kevin Barry Gerard Donovan Danielle McLaughlin Trisha McKinney Billy O'Callaghan and Colum McCann In light of writing by geographers anthropologists and philosophers like Doreen Massey Tim Ingold Giorgio Agamben and Jeff Malpas this book examines metamorphoses of place and landscape in fiction in the aftermath of a crisis with deep economic and cultural consequences It shows what place and landscape representations reveal of the past and how boundedness openness and emergence can contribute to designing future landscapes

The Suburban Novels of Richard Yates Jiří Flajšar,2025-10-06 Richard Yates 1926-1992 is an American fiction writer known for his dark realism This book offers an analysis of his five suburban novels emphasizing themes of disillusionment and the pursuit of identity in the American suburbs Yates's work is characterized by a narrative style devoid of embellishment focusing on the mundane struggles of his characters Critics highlight his ability to blend humor with poignant insights into human frailty illustrating the contrast between the American Dream and the stark realities of life The book also situates Yates within the broader context of American suburbanization from the 1930s to the 1970s examining how his characters navigate societal expectations and personal crises related to gender roles domesticity and neurotic responses to inner conflicts It critiques the influential notion of suburbia as merely conformist space suggesting that Yates s narratives reveal deeper complexities of the suburban experience Through a pluralistic approach the book delves into the historical sociocultural and psychological dimensions of Yates s suburban novels re evaluating his contribution to American literature and the enduring relevance of literary realism in depicting the human condition Frightening Fiction Kimberly

Reynolds, Geraldine Brennan, Kevin McCarron, 2004-12-30 Edited by Morag Styles and written by an international team of acknowledged experts this series provides jargon free critical discussion and a comprehensive guide to literary and popular texts for children Each book introduces the reader to a major genre of children s literature covering the key authors major works and contexts in which those texts are published read and studied The development of the horror genre in children s literature has been a startling phenomenon one that has provoked strong but mixed reactions Frightening Fiction provides a lucid and lively guide to that genre ranging from analyses of such popular series as Point Horror Goosebumps the X Files and the Buffy stories to the work of individual authors such as Robert Westall David Almond Philip Gross and Lesley Howarth

Transitions Richard Kearney, 1988 Science Fiction Film Keith M. Johnston, 2013-05-09 Science Fiction Film develops a historical and cultural approach to the genre that moves beyond close readings of iconography and formal conventions It explores how this increasingly influential genre has been constructed from disparate elements into a hybrid genre Science Fiction Film goes beyond a textual exploration of these films to place them within a larger network of influences that includes studio politics and promotional discourses The book also challenges the perceived limits of the genre it includes a wide range of films from canonical SF such as Le voyage dans la lune Star Wars and Blade Runner to films that stretch and reshape the definition of the genre This expansion of generic focus offers an innovative approach for students and fans of science fiction alike Carpentier's Proustian Fiction Sally Harvey, 1994 Critical study of Cuban novelist and Proust s influence on selected works

Time in Fiction Craig Bourne, Emily Caddick Bourne, 2016 What can we learn about the world from engaging with fictional time series stories involving time travellers recurring and rewinding time and foreknowledge of the future Craig Bourne and Emily Caddick Bourne show how we can use the complexities of fictional time to get to the core of the relation between truth in fiction and possibility Encyclopedia of Fantasy and Horror Fiction Don D'Amassa, 2014-05-14

Encyclopedia of Fantasy and Horror Fiction provides comprehensive coverage of the major authors and works in these popular genres Each entry includes a brief discussion of the author s life and work and includes a full bibliography Each entry on Elements of the Picaresque in Contemporary British Fiction Ion Piso, Ligia Tomoiagă, 2012-03-15 This study looks back at the picaresque with its Spanish roots and especially with its tradition in English literature then it comes to contemporary times and identifies elements of the picaresque in contemporary novels The main thesis of the author is that the picaresque has never left the literary scene in Britain being an aesthetic invariant which expresses a natural inclination of the British authors towards the picaresque story Postcolonial authors also favour this genre as a consequence of their own literary tradition which includes particular variants of the picaresque and as a result of their own situation as immigrant displaced authors which gives them material for stories of displaced characters rogues The study rigorously identifies the sources of the contemporary protocols of the picaresque as well as a few variants of picaresque stories in a selection of novels the author accounts for theoretically The Routledge Introduction to Canadian Crime Fiction Pamela Bedore, 2024-02-27 Who are the most important Canadian crime and detective writers How do they help represent Canada as a nation How do they distinguish Canada's approach to questions of crime detection and social justice from those of other countries The Routledge Introduction to Canadian Crime Fiction provides a much needed investigation into how crime and detection have been and will be represented within Canada's national literature with an attention to contemporary popular and literary texts The book draws together a representative set of established Canadian authors who would appear in most courses on Canadian crime and detective fiction while also introducing a few authors less established in the field Ultimately the book argues that crime fiction is a space of enormously productive hybridity that offers fresh new approaches to considering questions of national identity gender race sexuality and even genre The Language of Ethics and Community in Graham Greene's Fiction Paula Martín Salvan, 2016-04-29 A study of Graham Greene's fiction from the perspective of ethics and community focusing on the narrative pattern that emerges from the author's idiosyncratic use of keywords like peace despair compassion or commitment This book explores their potential for the textual articulation of narrative conflict and the dramatization of the ethical
