Red Man In Art:

Primitivism and Twentieth-century Art Jack D. Flam, Miriam Deutch, 2003 This is a much needed important collection a goldmine of sources for scholars and students The texts articulate the key Primitivist aesthetic discourses of the period offering crucial insight into the complex and always changing nexus between culture politics and representation Because of the breadth of the materials covered and the controversies they raise this anthology is one of the all too rare volumes that not only will provide reference materials for years to come but also will feature centrally in classroom discussions Suzanne Preston Blier author of African Vodun Art Psychology and Power For almost a century art historians have fretted about the notion of primitivism in the arts This comprehensive in both senses of the word anthology is a peerless source of the history of responses to works categorized as primitive In its range the book touches upon all the troubling questions formal anthropological political historical that have bedeviled the study of the arts of Oceania Africa and North and South America and provides the grounds at last for intelligent pursuit of keener distinctions I regard this book as a superb contribution to the study of Modern art in fact indispensable Dore Ashton author of Noguchi East and West An extraordinarily useful and complete collection of primary documents many translated for the first time into English and almost all unlikely to be encountered elsewhere without serious effort Its five sections each with a lively and scholarly introduction reveal the diverse views of artists and writers on primitive art from Matisse Picasso and Fry to many far less known and sometimes surprising figures The book also uncovers the politics and aesthetics of the major museum exhibitions that gained acceptance for art that had been both reviled and mythologized Recent texts included are all germane This book will be invaluable for any college course on the topic Shelly Errington author of The Death of Authentic Primitive Art and Other Tales of Progress An exceptionally valuable anthology of seventy documents most heretofore unavailable in English on the ongoing controversies surrounding Primitivism and Modern art Insightfully chosen and annotated the collection is brilliantly introduced by Jack Flam s essay on the historical progression contexts and cultural complexities of more than one hundred years ideas about Primitivism Rich timely illuminating Herbert M Cole author of Icons Ideals and Power in the Art of Africa the book offers new critical readings of major authors associated with those places Robinson Jeffers Eugene O'Neill and D H Lawrence Geneva M Gano tracks the radical thought and aesthetic innovation that emerged from these villages revealing a surprisingly dynamic circulation of persons objects and ideas between the country and the city and producing modernisms that were cosmopolitan in character yet also site specific The Red Man in Art Rena Neumann Coen,1972

Adventures in the Arts Marsden Hartley,2011-10 Working at a pivotal time in art history artist Marsden Hartley was in the center of it all In his classic collection of essays Adventures in the Arts he offers curious readers a friendly tour of his interests personal experiences and close acquaintances so many of which proved to be the most important people and ideas of the time From Impressionism and American Art to the birth of Modernism and the spread of photography Hartley offers us a familiarity with and an understanding of twentieth century art from its very foundations The papers in this book are not intended in any way to be professional treatises They must be viewed in the light of entertaining conversations Their possible value lies in their directness of impulse and not in weight of argument I could not wish to go into the qualities of art more deeply A reaction to be pleasant must be simple This is the apology I have to offer Reactions then through direct impulse and not essays by means of stiffened analysis Marsden Hartley Art for an Undivided Earth Jessica L. Horton,2017-05-18 In Art for an Undivided Earth Jessica L Horton reveals how the spatial philosophies underlying the American Indian Movement AIM were refigured by a generation of artists searching for new places to stand Upending the assumption that Jimmie Durham James Luna Kay WalkingStick Robert Houle and others were primarily concerned with identity politics she joins them in remapping the coordinates of a widely shared yet deeply contested modernity that is defined in great part by the colonization of the Americas She follows their installations performances and paintings across the ocean and back in time as they retrace the paths of Native diplomats scholars performers and objects in Europe after 1492 Along the way Horton intervenes in a range of theories about global modernisms Native American sovereignty racial difference archival logic artistic itinerancy and new materialisms Writing in creative dialogue with contemporary artists she builds a picture of a spatially temporally and materially interconnected world an undivided earth Manly Arts David A Gerstner,2006-03-06 *DIV*Examines the anxieties of class and race and the conflicts between New and Old Worlds that attend the elevation of masculinity as a defining characteristic of early American cinema and visual culture div A Strange Mixture Sascha T. Scott,2015-01-21 Attracted to the rich ceremonial life and unique architecture of the New Mexico pueblos many early twentieth century artists depicted Pueblo peoples places and culture in paintings These artists encounters with Pueblo Indians fostered their awareness of Native political struggles and led them to join with Pueblo communities to champion Indian rights In this book art historian Sascha T Scott examines the ways in which non Pueblo and Pueblo artists advocated for American Indian cultures by confronting some of the cultural legal and political issues of the day Scott closely examines the work of five diverse artists exploring how their art was shaped by and helped to shape Indian politics She places the art within the context of the interwar period 1915-30 a time when federal Indian policy shifted away from forced assimilation and toward preservation of Native cultures Through careful analysis of paintings by Ernest L Blumenschein John Sloan Marsden Hartley and Awa Tsireh Alfonso Roybal Scott shows how their depictions of thriving Pueblo life and rituals promoted cultural preservation and challenged the pervasive romanticizing theme of the vanishing Indian Georgia O'Keeffe's images of Pueblo dances which connect abstraction with lived experience testify to the legacy of these political and aesthetic transformations Scott makes use of anthropology history and indigenous studies in her art historical narrative She is one of the first scholars to address varied responses to issues of cultural preservation by aesthetically and culturally diverse artists including Pueblo painters Beautifully designed this book features nearly sixty artworks reproduced in full color

The Gospel of the Redman, 2006 Considered one of the best books on Native Americans ever written The author and compiler reveals how Indians once lived and what they believed in relation to spiritual principles As we move further away from the time when Native Americans were living completely free and unencumbered in what was to become the United States before the arrival of the white man it becomes increasingly difficult to preserve or remember the way of life that they had Seton preserves all of the most important information in this book gathered from the best sources at a time when it could still be accurately found Like other Bibles it includes creation stories and mythology as well as the trials and tribulations of the people Chapters include The Soul of the Red Man covering spiritual beliefs The Ancient Way is about family life laws and medicine men The Wisdom of the Old Men covers the ancient teachings and myths and Prophets of the Red Race shares stories on 13 different prophets including Hiawatha Tecumseh Crazy Horse Sitting Bull Wabasha Geronimo and Wovoka The Epilogue originally written shortly after the Great Depression repeatedly emphasizes the failures of the white race due to money madness and how important it is to bring back an awareness that is not based so heavily on materialism

Angel De Cora, Karen Thronson, and the Art of Place Elizabeth Sutton, 2020-03-16 Angel De Cora c 1870-1919 was a Native Ho-Chunk artist who received relative acclaim during her lifetime Karen Thronson 1850-1929 was a Norwegian settler housewife who created crafts and folk art in obscurity along with the other women of her small immigrant community The immigration of Thronson and her family literally maps over the De Cora family's forced migration across Wisconsin Iowa and onto the plains of Nebraska and Kansas Tracing the parallel lives of these two women artists at the turn of the twentieth century art historian Elizabeth Sutton reveals how their stories intersected and diverged in the American Midwest By examining the creations of these two artists Sutton shows how each woman produced art or handicrafts that linked her new home to her homeland Both women had to navigate and negotiate between asserting their authentic self and the expectations placed on them by others in their new locations The result is a fascinating story of two women that speaks to universal themes of Native displacement settler conquest and the connection between art and place

Art and Illusion in The Winter's Tale B. J. Sokol,1994 This work treats a single Shakespeare play from a number of perspectives The author combines insights from contemporary psychology with art social and stage histories to challenge the limits of current positivist critical theories The book also has a central theme how the dark side of art and illusion must be represented in order to establish the redemptive pattern which The Winter s Tale shares with Shakespeare s other late tragi comedies
