D. Jean Clandinin, Jukka Husu

Red Pedagogy Native American Social And Political Thought:

Red Pedagogy Sandy Grande, 2004 This ground breaking text explores the intersection between dominant modes of critical educational theory and the socio political landscape of American Indian education The proposed new Red Pedagogy is an insurgent but poetic vision for education one that is dedicated to the principles of sovereignty emancipation and equity for all human beings and the rest of nature

Red Pedagogy Sandy Grande, 2015-09-28 This ground breaking text explores the intersection between dominant modes of critical educational theory and the socio political landscape of American Indian education Grande asserts that with few exceptions the matters of Indigenous people and Indian education have been either largely ignored or indiscriminately absorbed within critical theories of education Furthermore American Indian scholars and educators have largely resisted engagement with critical educational theory tending to concentrate instead on the production of historical monographs ethnographic studies tribally centered curricula and site based research Such a focus stems from the fact that most American Indian scholars feel compelled to address the socio economic urgencies of their own communities against which engagement in abstract theory appears to be a luxury of the academic elite While the author acknowledges the dire need for practical community based research she maintains that the global encroachment on Indigenous lands resources cultures and communities points to the equally urgent need to develop transcendent theories of decolonization and to build broad based coalitions

experts in addressing contemporary elements of diversity as they relate to the American family and covering key topics that all Americans face when establishing their identities including racial and ethnic identity gender and sexual orientation identity religious and spiritual identity and identity intersections and alternatives Moreover it includes chapters on cross cultural assessment of health and pathology and tailoring treatment to diversity Every chapter includes vignettes that serve to illustrate the nuances of and solutions to the concerns and issues as well as the strengths and resilience often inherent in diverse couples or families Effective methods of coping with stereotypes intergenerational trauma discrimination and social and structural disparities are presented as are ways to assess and empower couples and families This text includes experiences and traditions of subgroups that typically receive little attention from being seen as too common such as white and Christian families or from being seen as too uncommon such as couples and families from specific Native American tribes and multiracial couples and families Thus it addresses the curricular changes needed to master the diversity found in contemporary American couples and families The text offers a holistic perspective on diverse couples and families that is consistent with the increasing prominence of models that transcend individual diagnoses and biology to include social factors and context Theory policy prevention assessment treatment and research considerations are included in each chapter Topics include African American Asian American Latino Native American white biracial multiracial intercultural LGBT Christian Jewish and Muslim couples and families as well as diverse family structures The depth of every chapter includes attention to subgroups within each category such as African American and Caribbean couples and families as well as those who represent the intersection between varying oppressed identities such as an intercultural gay family or a poor homeless interracial couple Additionally each chapter provides a review section with condensed and easy to understand summaries of the key take away lessons

Indigenous Children's Survivance in Public Schools Leilani Sabzalian, 2019-02-18 Indigenous Children's Survivance in Public Schools examines the cultural social and political terrain of Indigenous education by providing accounts of Indigenous students and educators creatively navigating the colonial dynamics within public schools Through a series of survivance stories the book surveys a range of educational issues including implementation of Native themed curriculum teachers attempts to support Native students in their classrooms and efforts to claim physical and cultural space in a school district among others As a collective these stories highlight the ways that colonization continues to shape Native students experiences in schools By documenting the nuanced intelligence courage artfulness and survivance of Native students families and educators the book counters deficit framings of Indigenous students The goal is also to develop educators anticolonial literacy so that teachers can counter colonialism and better support Indigenous students in public schools

Sovereign Bodies, Sovereign Spaces Maria John, 2025-03-17 Statistics indicate that Indigenous people worldwide suffer disproportionately poor health outcomes Since the mid twentieth century health activism has become increasingly central to expressions of Indigenous sovereignty and survivance In this innovative comparative study Maria John assesses the histories of urban Indigenous health activism in the United States and Australia and how it has sought to counter the medical mistreatment and neglect that Indigenous people have historically faced in these nations From the crisis of health care access in the 1970s to the strength of Indigenous community responses to COVID 19 John shows how the creation of Indigenous community controlled health clinics has been a vital response to settler colonial structures of neglect in medical care John illustrates that these clinics have also created a new kind of political space where Indigenous people from different tribal nations and geographies can develop and practice new ideas of nonterritorial sovereignty and pan Indigenous solidarities across regions and nations John s arguments expand our understanding of the ways urban places and spaces foster possibilities for Indigenous communities and her focus on health reveals how Indigenous people strategize struggle and work against systems they were never meant to survive

Decolonizing Economics Devika Dutt,Carolina Alves,Surbhi Kesar,Ingrid Harvold Kvangraven,2025-07-21 Decolonization has long been debated across the social sciences but the economics discipline has so far avoided such critical engagement This book provides a much needed intervention Dutt Alves Kesar and Kvangraven uncover the deeply Eurocentric foundations that shape how economists study the world today These have rendered the discipline ill equipped to tackle critical questions such as structural racism uneven development the climate crisis labour relations and how structural power shapes economic outcomes Decolonizing economics entails challenging the norms of neutrality and objectivity that economists claim to speak from while fostering alternative ways of understanding the economy that take seriously structural power relations and contemporary processes of economic development Readers will come to understand the political stakes of decolonization and the wide range of scholarship that already exists that can help us grasp economics from non Eurocentric perspectives Through such scholarship we can gain an enriched understanding of capitalism and its relationship to exploitation colonialism and racialization The author order is randomized All authors contributed equally to the book
