Red Sea Mountains Of Egypt Egyptian Years:

The Red Sea Mountains of Egypt, and Egyptian Years Leo Arthur Tregenza, 2004 The Red Sea Mountains of Egypt and Egyptian Years Leo Arthur Tregenza, 2004 In The Red Sea Mountains of Egypt and Egyptian Years English scholar and explorer Leo Arthur Tregenza 1901-98 describes an Egypt unknown today In his prose the Nile still floods and Bedouin of the desert practice a way of life unchanged for thousands of years L A Tregenza came to Egypt in 1927 to teach school and remained until the 1952 Revolution His passions in his native Cornwall had been the civilization of Rome natural history and walking He carried on all three in Egypt traveling on foot during school holidays through some of the country's wildest and most historic landscapes The books deal mainly with his three long treks 1947-1949 1951 in the Eastern Desert They also provide an extremely valuable depiction of the pre-High Dam rhythms of the Nile and its rural people Walking with Tregenza the reader probes the Greek and Roman mining and quarrying sites of the desert wilderness including Mons Porphyrites and Mons Claudianus When Tregenza finds an inscription he translates it on the spot drawing us closer to the lives of those who toiled here so long ago He is a careful observer of wildlife so with him we track the birds mammals and reptiles learning the names and habits of each species Most memorably we get to know the individual Bedouin men of the desert who were Tregenza's companions and friends The nightly show in the firmament captivates him inspiring him to write beautifully of life's mysteries The reader becomes as Tregenza described his own sensation subordinate to the strange overmastering appeal of the desert itself Tregenza's two classic accounts published respectively in 1955 and 1958 are published here together in one volume with a new foreword by Joseph J Hobbs The History of the Peoples of the Eastern Desert Hans Barnard, Kim Duistermaat, 2012-12-31 The last quarter century has seen extensive research on the ports of the Red Sea coast of Egypt the road systems connecting them to the Nile and the mines and quarries in the region Missing has been a systematic study of the peoples of the Eastern Desert the area between the Red Sea and the Nile Valley in whose territories these ports roads mines and quarries were located The historical overview of the Eastern Desert in the shape of a roughly chronological narrative presented in this book fills that gap The multidisciplinary perspective focuses on the long-term history of the region The extensive range of topics addressed includes specific historical periods natural resources nomadic survival strategies ancient textual data and the interaction between Christian hermits and their neighbors The breadth of perspective does not sacrifice depth for all authors deal in some detail with the specifics of their subject matter As a whole this collection provides an outline of the history and sociology of the Eastern Desert unparalleled in any language for its comprehensiveness As such it will be the essential starting point for future research on the Eastern Desert Includes a CD of eleven audio files with music of the Ababda Nomads and six short videos of Ababda culture Journeys Erased by Time: The Rediscovered Footprints of Travellers in Egypt and the Near East Neil Cooke, 2019-06-27 Early travellers in Egypt and the Near East made great contributions to our historical and geographical knowledge and gave us a better understanding of the different peoples languages and religions of the region Travellers in this volume are a mixture of rich and poor bravely adventuring into the unknown not knowing if would ever return home Ancient Egyptian Materials and Technology Paul T. Nicholson,Ian Shaw,2000-03-23 The book describes current research into all aspects of craftwork in ancient Egypt Wonderful Things: A History of Egyptology, Volume 3 Jason Thompson,2018-10-16 The discovery of ancient Egypt and the development of Egyptology are momentous events in intellectual and cultural history The history of Egyptology is the story of the people famous and obscure who constructed the picture of ancient Egypt that we have today recovered the Egyptian past while inventing it anew and made a lost civilization comprehensible to generations of enchanted readers and viewers thousands of years later This the third of a three volume history of Egyptology follows the progress of the discipline from the trauma of the First World War through the vicissitudes of the twentieth century and into Egyptology s new horizons at the beginning of the twenty first century Wonderful Things affirms that the history of ancient Egypt has proved continually fascinating but it also demonstrates that the history of Egyptology is no less so Only by understanding how Egyptology has developed can we truly understand the Egyptian past The Red Land Steven E. Sidebotham,Martin Hense,Hendrikje M. Nouwens,2008 For thousands of years Egypt has crowded the Nile Valley and Delta The Eastern Desert however has also played a crucial though until now little understood role in Egyptian history Ancient inhabitants of the Nile Valley feared the desert which they referred to as the Red Land and were reluctant to venture there yet they exploited the extensive mineral wealth of this region They also profited from the valuable wares conveyed across the desert between the Nile and the Red Sea ports which originated from Arabia Africa India and elsewhere in the east Based on twenty years of archaeological fieldwork conducted in the Eastern Desert The Red Land reveals the cultural and historical richness of this little known and seldom visited area of Egypt A range of important archaeological sites dating from Prehistoric to Byzantine times is explored here in text and illustrations Among these ancient treasures are petroglyphs cemeteries fortified wells gold and emerald mines hard stone quarries roads forts ports and temples With 250 photographs and fascinating artistic reconstructions based on the evidence on the ground along with the latest research and accounts from ancient sources and modern travelers the authors lead the reader into the remotest corners of the hauntingly beautiful Eastern Desert to discover the full story of the area s human history Roads in the Deserts of Roman Egypt Maciej Paprocki,2019-07-19 Egypt under the Romans 30 BCE 3rd century CE was a period when local deserts experienced an unprecedented flurry of activity In the Eastern Desert a marked increase in desert traffic came from imperial prospecting quarrying activities and caravans transporting wares to and from the Red Sea ports In the Western Desert resilient camels slowly became primary beasts of burden in desert travel enabling caravaneers to lengthen daily marching distances across previously inhospitable dunes Desert road archaeology has used satellite imaging landscape studies and network analysis to plot desert trail networks with greater accuracy however it is often difficult to date roadside installations and thus assess how these networks evolved in scope and density in reaction to climatic social and technological change Roads in the Deserts of Roman Egypt examines evidence for desert roads in Roman Egypt and assesses Roman influence on the road density in two select desert areas the central and southern section of the Eastern Desert and the central Marmarican Plateau and discusses geographical and social factors influencing road use in the period demonstrating that Roman overseers of these lands adapted remarkably well to local desert conditions improving roads and developing the trail network Crucially the author reconceptualises desert trails as linear corridor structures that follow expedient routes in the desert landscape passing through at least two functional nodes attracting human traffic be those water sources farmlands mines quarries trade hubs military installations or actual settlements The route of least resistance across the desert varied from period to period according to the available road infrastructure and beasts of burden employed Roman administration in Egypt not only increased the density of local desert node networks but also facilitated internodal connections with camel caravans and transformed the Sahara by establishing new or embellishing existing nodes effectively funnelling desert traffic into discernible corridors Significantly not all desert areas of Egypt are equally suited for anthropogenic development but almost all have been optimised in one way or another with road installations built for added comfort and safety of travellers Accordingly the study of how Romans successfully adapted to desert travel is of wider significance to the study of deserts and ongoing expansion due to global warming Sir Gardner Wilkinson and His Circle Jason Thompson,2010-07-22

Following in the footsteps of Napoleon s army Europeans invaded Egypt in the early nineteenth century to gaze in wonder at the massive inscrutable remains of its ancient civilizations One of these travelers was a twenty four year old Englishman John Gardner Wilkinson His copious observations of ancient and modern Egyptian places artifacts and lifeways recorded in such widely read publications as Manners and Customs of the Ancient Egyptians and Handbook for Travellers in Egypt made him the leading early Victorian authority on ancient Egypt and paved the way for the scientific study of Egyptology In this first full scale biography of Wilkinson 1797 1875 Jason Thompson skillfully portrays both the man and his era He follows Wilkinson during his initial sojourn in Egypt 1821 1833 as Wilkinson immersed himself in a contemporary Egyptian lifestyle and in study of its ancient past He shows Wilkinson in his circle of friends among them Edward William Lane Robert Hay and Frederick Catherwood And he traces how Wilkinson continued to use his Egyptian material in the decades following his return to England With the rise of professional Egyptology in the middle and later nineteenth century Sir Gardner Wilkinson came to be viewed as an amateur and his popularity diminished Drawing upon recently opened sources Thompson returns Wilkinson to his rightful place within centuries of Egyptian scholarship and assesses both the vision and the limitations of his work The result is a compelling portrait of a Victorian gentleman scholar and his cultural milieu Handbook of Pleistocene Archaeology of Africa Amanuel Beyin,David K. Wright,Jayne Wilkins,Deborah I. Olszewski,2023-08-17 This handbook showcases an Africa wide compendium of Stone Age archaeological sites and methodological advances that have improved our understanding of hominin lifeways and biogeography in the continent The focal time spans the Pleistocene Epoch c 2 5 million 11 700 years ago during which important human traits such as obligate bipedalism that freed the hands to engage in creative activities a large brain relative to body size language and social complexity developed in the general forms that they are found today The handbook is the first of its kind and it is expected to play a significant role in human evolutionary research by Collating the African Stone Age record which exists in a fragmented state along the lines of national boundaries and colonial experiences Showcasing emerging conceptual and methodological advances in African Pleistocene archaeology Providing reference datasets for teaching and researching African prehistory Making Africa s Stone Age record accessible to researchers and students based in Africa who may not have access to journal publications where most new field discoveries are published The Handbook features 128 chapters of which 116 are site entries grouped by the host countries and presented in an alphabetical order A number of those site related entries examine multiple archaeological localities lumped under specific projects or study areas The rest of the contributions deal with methodological topics such as luminescence and radiocarbon dating field data recovery lithic analysis micromorphology and hominin fossil and zooarchaeological records of Pleistocene Africa The introductory chapter provides an historical overview of the development of Stone Age Paleolithic archaeology in Africa beginning in the mid 19th century and paleoenvironmental and chronological frameworks commonly used to structure the continent s Pleistocene record By making a good amount of African Stone Age literature accessible to researchers and the public we wish to promote interest in human evolutionary research in the continent and elsewhere Awarded the 2025 The Best Book Award by The Society of Africanist Archaeologists

The Oxford Handbook of Ancient Nubia Geoff Emberling, Bruce Williams, 2021-01-15 The cultures of Nubia built the earliest cities states and empires of inner Africa but they remain relatively poorly known outside their modern descendants and the community of archaeologists historians and art historians researching them The earliest archaeological work in Nubia was motivated by the region's role as neighbor trade partner and enemy of ancient Egypt Increasingly however ancient Nile based Nubian cultures are recognized in their own right as the earliest complex societies in inner Africa As agro pastoral cultures Nubian settlement economy political organization and religious ideologies were often organized differently from those of the urban bureaucratic and predominantly agricultural states of Egypt and the ancient Near East Nubian societies are thus of great interest in comparative study and are also recognized for their broader impact on the histories of the eastern Mediterranean and the Near East The Oxford Handbook of Ancient Nubia brings together chapters by an international group of scholars on a wide variety of topics that relate to the history and archaeology of the region After important introductory chapters on the history of research in Nubia and on its climate and physical environment the largest part of the volume focuses on the sequence of cultures that lead almost to the present day Several cross cutting themes are woven through these chapters including essays on desert cultures and on Nubians in Egypt Eleven final chapters synthesize subjects across all historical phases including gender and the body economy and trade landscape archaeology iron working and stone quarrying
