TRENDS IN LINGUISTICS is a series of books that open new perspectives in our understanding of language. The series publishes state of the art work on core areas of linguistics across theoretical frameworks as well as studies that provide new insights by building bridges to neighbouring fields such as neuroscience and cognitive science. TRENDS IN LINGUISTICS considers itself a forum for cutting edge research based on solid empirical data on language in its various manifestations including sign languages. It regards linguistic variation in its synchronic and diachronic dimensions as well as in its social contexts as important sources of insight for a better understanding of the design of linguistic systems and the ecology and evolution of language. TRENDS IN LINGUISTICS publishes monographs and outstanding dissertations as well as edited volumes which provide the opportunity to address controversial topics from different empirical and theoretical viewpoints. High quality standards are ensured through anonymous reviewing.

Language and Linguistics in Context Harriet Luria, Deborah M. Seymour, Trudy Smoke, 2012-12-06 Taking a sociocultural and educational approach, Language and Linguistics in Context: Readings and Applications for Teachers introduces basic linguistic concepts and current perspectives on language acquisition, considers the role of linguistic change especially in English, in the politics of language, acknowledges the role of linguists in current policies involving language, offers insights into the relationship between the structure of language systems and first and second language acquisition, the study of language across culture, class, race, gender, and ethnicity, and between language study and literacy and education, and provides readers with a basis for understanding current educational debates about bilingual education, non-standard dialects, English only movements, literacy methodologies, and generally the importance to teaching of the study of language. The text is organized into three thematic units: What is Language and How is It Acquired, How Does Language Change, and What is Literacy. To achieve both breadth and depth, that is to provide a big picture view of basic linguistics and at the same time make it specific enough for the beginner, a selection of readings including personal language narratives is provided to both introduce and clarify linguistic concepts. The readings by well-known theoretical and applied linguists and researchers from various disciplines are diverse in level and range of topics and vary in level of linguistic formalism. Pedagogical features: This text is designed for a range of courses in English and language arts, bilingualism, applied linguistics, and ESL courses in teacher education programs. Each unit contains a substantive introduction to the topic followed by the readings. Each reading concludes with Questions to Think About, including one Extending Your Understanding question and a short list of Terms to Define Each unit ends with additional Extending Your Understanding and Making Connections activities that engage readers in applying what they have read to teaching and suggested projects and a bibliography of Print and Web Resources The readings and apparatus are arranged so that the material can be modified to fit many course plans and schemes of presentation To help individual instructors make the most effective use of the text in specific classes a set of matrixes is provided suggesting configurations of readings for different types of linguistics and education classes Everyday

Linguistic and Cultural Practices of the Russophone Diaspora Ekaterina Protassova, Maria Yelenevskaya, 2024-11-15

The Russian language has evolved into a lingua franca in post Soviet immigrant communities prompting an analysis of its use in different domains Everyday Linguistic and Cultural Practices of the Russophone Diaspora explores the language maintenance of Russian abroad emphasizing the role of educational ventures and transnational communications facilitated by the internet This book researches specific aspects of migrant life including occupational practices homemaking family dynamics cultural engagement and linguistic hybridity and makes use of extensive empirical data spanning Soviet post Soviet and non Soviet migrant generations collected from European North American and Asian communities Relations between different migration waves are not always friendly but are mediated through online discussion forums which help to foster mutual understanding Like all migrants Russophones seek better opportunities by establishing new homes revealing intergenerational differences in lifestyle and adaptation This volume focuses on the emigration waves between 1990 and 2020 and points to shifts in values and migration expectations and reflecting on the evolution of diasporic communities and the dynamic adaptation of the Russian language Penny Cyclopaedia of the Society for the Diffusion of Useful Knowledge
