Red Wings Over the Yalu Xiaoming Zhang, 2002 The Korean conflict was a pivotal event in China s modern military history The fighting in Korea constituted an important experience for the newly formed People s Liberation Army Air Force PLAAF not only as a test case for this fledgling service but also in the later development of Chinese air power Xiaoming Zhang fills the gaps in the history of this conflict by basing his research in recently declassified Chinese and Russian archival materials He also relies on interviews with Chinese participants in the air war over Korea Zhang s findings challenge conventional wisdom as he compares kill ratios and performance by all sides involved in the war Zhang also addresses the broader issues of the Korean War such as how air power affected Beijing s decision to intervene He touches on ground operations and truce negotiations during the conflict Chinese leaders placed great emphasis on the supremacy of human will over modern weaponry but they were far from oblivious to the advantages of the latter and to China s technological limitations Developments in China s own air power were critical during this era Zhang offers considerable materials on the training of Chinese aviators and the Soviet role in that training on Soviet and Chinese air operations in Korea and on diplomatic exchanges over Soviet military assistance to China He probes the impact of the war on China s conception of the role of air power arguing that it was not until the Gulf War of the early 1990s that Chinese leaders engaged in a broad reassessment of the strategy they adopted during the Korean War Military historians and scholars interested in aviation and foreign affairs will find this volume of special interest As a unique work that presents the Chinese point of view it stands as both a complement and a corrective to previous accounts of the conflict Pioneer Aviators of the World Hart

Matthews, 2003 Most people recognize brothers and bicycle mechanics Wilbur and Orville Wright as the first in flight and know that in 1903 on the blustery sand dunes of Kitty Hawk North Carolina they made history with a flying machine of their own invention But few other people know that the next aviator after the Wright brothers a Brazilian flew almost three years later and was nevertheless widely credited as being the first in flight Or that a world famous escapologist a Hungarian made the first flights in Australia but afterwards never flew again Or that in Spain the first public display of a flying machine led to religious riots The first pilots from each of a hundred countries have their stories told in this work A brief biography and description of his or her attempts to fly are provided for each early aviator except in a very few cases where facts are hard to find For purposes of this book a flight is defined as that made by a heavier than air machine capable of taking off from ground level carrying a pilot who controls to some degree the ascent descent and path of the machine To be called successful the flight must be sustained past the point to which the machine's take off momentum would normally carry it through the air
