But starting out life with a newborn and parents who refused to understand why she couldn't forgive her cheating husband even once she'd taken the only job she'd been able to get as a waitress and later a bartender at a rough biker joint in New York City, Sapphire is certain of two things: That being a good role model for her daughter is the most important thing in her life and that there isn't a man alive worth any loyalty. The dudes who come through the bar have no respect for let alone interest in anything that isn't transitory with the women around them. William Decker is the one exception to the rule she's observed and he intrigues her the way no other man ever has. Stories from Candyland Candy Spelling, 2009-03-31

Carole Gene Marer spent her girlhood dreaming of meeting Rock Hudson but when she finally had the chance on her second date with her future husband, television mogul Aaron Spelling, she was so shy she hid all night in the powder room. How Candy morphed from that quiet girl into a seemingly confident, stylish trophy wife, mistress of the largest house in Los Angeles, 70,000 square feet when you count the attic, is at the heart of Stories from Candyland. The life Candy created for her family, her husband and children, Tori and Randy, was fabulous over the top and often magical. So what if California Christmases don't come with snow? Let's make some on the tennis court. How do we take a cross-country family vacation with a dad who doesn't fly? By private train car, of course, with an extra for the fifty-two pieces of luggage. The kids want to dress up for Halloween. No problem, why not call in Nolan Miller to design their costumes? Candy had a hand in some of the most beloved television shows of all time; she once stopped production on Dynasty because Krystle Carrington's engagement ring was not spectacular enough. She has entertained half of Hollywood in epic fashion and lives an enviable life.
