Essays on Early Eastern Eucharistic Prayers Paul F. Bradshaw, 2017-01-13 A companion to Prayers of the Eucharist Early and Reformed The Churches of the East possess a sometimes bewildering array of Eucharistic prayers Essays on Early Eastern Eucharistic Prayer offers a guide to the exploration of the principal prayers and presents in a simple and succinct manner the current scholarship on the origins development and relationship of these particular prayers to other ancient prayers As well as summarizing the state of research and suggesting directions for future study these essays explain the history of these prayers their relationship to one another and reveal how and why early Christian prayers developed as they did In this way Essays on Early Eastern Eucharistic Prayers produces a clear picture of the way early Eucharistic prayers emerged and grew in the Eastern Churches Essays on Early Eastern Eucharistic Prayers serves as a companion to and provides an extended commentary on the texts of early eastern Eucharistic prayers that are published in R C D Jasper and G J Cuming s Prayers of the Eucharist Early and Reformed Essays on Early Eastern Eucharistic Prayers also offers more detail than is available in the introductions to either text or in other general histories of liturgy or early liturgical practice Articles and their contributors include Introduction The Evolution of Early Anaphoras by Paul F Bradshaw The Anaphora of the Apostles Addai and Mari by Stephen B Wilson The Strasbourg Papyrus by Walter D Ray The Anaphora of St Mark A Study in Development by G J Cuming The Archaic Nature of the Sanctus Institution Narrative and Epiclesis of the Logos in the Anaphora Ascribed to Sarapion of Thmuis by Maxwell E Johnson The Basilian Anaphoras by D Richard Stuckwisch The Anaphora of the Mystagogical Catecheses of Cyril of Jerusalem by Kent J Burreson The Anaphora of St James by John D Witvliet The Anaphora of the Eighth Book of the Apostolic Constitutions by Raphael Graves and St John Chrysostom and the Byzantine Anaphora That Bears His Name by Robert F Taft S J Includes an index Paul F Bradshaw is professor of liturgy at the University of Notre Dame and was vice principal of Ripon College Cuddesdon Oxford England He is the author of Liturgy in Dialogue and Early Christian Worship published by The Liturgical Press The Oxford Handbook of Sacramental Theology Hans Boersma, Matthew Levering, 2015-08-06 As a multi faceted introduction to sacramental theology the purposes of this Handbook are threefold historical ecumenical and missional The forty four chapters are organized into the following parts five parts Sacramental Roots in Scripture Patristic Sacramental Theology Medieval Sacramental Theology From the Reformation through Today and Philosophical and Theological Issues in Sacramental Doctrine Contributors to this Handbook explain the diverse ways that believers have construed the sacraments both in inspired Scripture and in the history of the Church's practice. In Scripture and the early Church, Orthodox, Protestants, and Catholics all find evidence that the first Christian communities celebrated and taught about the sacraments in a manner that Orthodox, Protestants, and Catholics today affirm as the foundation of their own faith and practice. Thus, for those who want to understand what has been taught about the sacraments in Scripture and across the generations by the major thinkers of the various Christian traditions, this Handbook provides an introduction. As the divisions in Christian sacramental understanding and practice are certainly evident in this Handbook, it is not thereby without ecumenical and missional value. This book evidences that the story of the Christian sacraments is, despite divisions in interpretation and practice, one of tremendous hope.

Reading the Liturgy Juliette J. Day, 2014-03-13. This is a unique contribution to discussions within churches about the provision of suitable words for liturgical worship and to debates among scholars about liturgical hermeneutics, as well as offering a new methodological paradigm for liturgical studies to inspire students and researchers. By combining insights from literary and linguistic studies with those from historical and contemporary liturgical studies, Juliette Day investigates the nature of a text in relation to unscripted speech: how authors and worshipers make use of genre, narrative, and other texts; how the textuality of the liturgy, as well as its ritual context, affect the sort of language used in worship; and what implicit meanings are conveyed in the way liturgical texts are printed in books. Day discusses the history of liturgical texts and their function, as well as liturgical genres and narratives. She examines the function of language in liturgical worship and emphasizes its meaning for readers, worshipers, and speakers. Day applies insights from literary and linguistic studies to liturgical texts in a comprehensive fashion, making it accessible to a broad readership.

The Origins of the Canons of Hippolytus Nathan P. Chase, Maxwell E. Johnson, 2024-12-15. An analysis of the origin of the Canons of Hippolytus church orders from the fourth century. Can a case still be made for Egyptian origin of the Canons of Hippolytus? This is the question that noted scholars Maxwell E. Johnson and Nathan P. Chase focus on in response to the recent translation of and commentary on the Canons of Hippolytus by Alistair Stewart, who claims a Cappadocian origin with a possibly later Egyptian redaction. In The Origins of the Canons of Hippolytus, the authors look at the relevant canons and argue for an Egyptian origin, though not necessarily Alexandrian. For students and teachers of liturgy, theology, and the early church this volume provides contemporary research and careful analysis on the origin and relevance of the Canons of Hippolytus supporting the claim that they remain the earliest derivative document of the Apostolic tradition Knowledge and the Coming Kingdom Jonathan Schwiebert, 2008-10-01 Schwiebert expertly examines the relationship between the Didache's meal ritual and the well known tradition of Jesus' final meal Athanasius and the Holy Spirit Kevin Douglas Hill, 2016-12-01 Athanasius was one of the first writers to argue for the Holy Spirit's divinity and the majority of his seven dozen works include at least one reference to the Holy Spirit Yet Athanasius is mainly remembered for his Christological writings and role in the so called Arian controversy Only a limited number of studies have looked at his pneumatology and these studies have usually focused on Athanasius's Letters to Serapion on the Holy Spirit ca 359-361 leaving a gap in our understanding of Athanasius's prior pneumatology By exploring the period from Athanasius's election as bishop 328 to the completion of the third Oration against the Arians ca 345 this book seeks to help fill this gap The first part argues that by the mid 330s Athanasius had begun to establish core pneumatological perspectives that he would maintain for the rest of his career Part two examines Athanasius's three Orations giving particular attention to Orations 1-2 Without the pneumatological perspectives that he established in the 330s and 340s Athanasius would not have been prepared for his Letters to Serapion where he took the next steps of confessing the Holy Spirit's divine nature and role in creating the world

Edwards, Markus Vinzent, 2010 Papers presented at the Fifteenth International Conference on Patristic Studies held in Oxford 2007 see also Studia Patristica 44-45-46-48 and 49 The successive sets of Studia Patristica contain papers delivered at the International Conferences on Patristic Studies which meet for a week once every four years in Oxford they are held under the aegis of the Theology Faculty of the University Members of these conferences come from all over the world and most offer papers These range over the whole field both East and West from the second century to a section on the Nachleben of the Fathers The majority are short papers dealing with some small and manageable point they raise and sometimes resolve questions about the authenticity of documents dates of events and such like and some unveil new texts The smaller number of longer papers put such matters into context and indicate wider trends The whole reflects the state of Patristic scholarship and demonstrates the vigour and popularity of the subject
