The Sacred Books and Early Literature of the East Charles Francis Horne,1917 The Sacred Books and Early Literature of the East ,1917 Including the famous Pyramid Texts Sacred Books of Early Literature of the East provides historical context and accurate translations of creation myths from Ancient Egypt Pulling from the Pyramid Texts four of the dozens of creation myths are accepted as the most popular These tales were associated with cults of particular gods in specific Egyptian cities Hermopolis Heliopolis Memphis and Thebes The Hermopolis myth focused on the nature of the universe before any creation began Eight gods represented the qualities of the ocean These gods were viewed as water dwelling creatures and separated into male and female groups where the men were depicted as frogs and the women as snakes After a large conflict erupted between the two groups a pyramid appeared and the sun emerged lighting the world In Heliopolis creation was attributed to Atum a god who created other deities who represented and took care of particular properties or items in the world Atum made Shu and Tefnut the air gods by spitting and sneezing Shu and Tefnut in turn produced the earth god Geb and the sky goddess Nut These two had four children to complete the necessities of creation Osiris the god of fertility Isis the goddess of motherhood Set the god of male sexuality and Nephthys the female complement to Set Ptah the god of craftsmen was the chief creator in the myth from Memphis Ptah was able to visualize his creations in his mind translate his ideas into words and allow the physical product to appear In this way the god produced other gods man woman and all other things Theban theology states that Amun created the world and all things in it but was actually separate from the world making the other gods part of him and leading to his ultimate crowning as supreme god of the Egyptian pantheon The Sacred Books and Early Literature of the East ,1917 Sacred Books and Early Literature of the East Charles F. The Sacred Books and Early Literature of the East Charles Francis Horne,1917 Rationalising the Bible □ Volume 2: Conquest, Kings, Poetry and Prophecy Ivy Bedworth,2016-03-05

Rationalising the Bible is a collection of volumes that cover the books of the Old and New Testaments of the Holy Bible Written by mostly unidentified authors the Bible is generally attributed with being the moral compass of the world of Judeo Christian religious adherents In fact the Bible is mostly mythological history inaccurate science exaggerated reports of violence and discrimination against the people who settled the Fertile Crescent and a set of laws plagiarised from those already in existence in the area Even the writing of it claimed to be that of the patriarchs can clearly be identified in the reading of it as belonging rather to a period when all people in the civilised world were writing their stories It was not written as atheists often charge by illiterate nomadic tribespeople in pre history Instead it was written by politicians and priests at a time when the western civilisations were making their mark on the world s politics

The Sacred Books of the East Friedrich Max Müller,1879 The Sacred Books and the Early Literature of the East Charles F. Horne, Ph.D.,2012-03-01 IN speaking of the Sacred Books of the East that great American sage and teacher Emerson called them that class of books which are the best I mean the Bibles of the world or the sacred books of each nation which express for each the supreme result of their experience All these books are the majestic expression of the universal conscience They are for the closet and to be read on the bended knee

The Sacred Books and Early Literature of the East, Vol. 2 Charles F. Horne,2018-03-17 Excerpt from The Sacred Books and Early Literature of the East Vol 2 Egypt The history of Egypt before the days of Rome is divided into four clearly marked periods The chronology of the first of these is still a puzzle to our scholars though very recent criticism is establishing an outline of dates which may prove fairly accurate According to this our oldest definite Egyptian date sets Khufu or Cheops as building the greatest of the pyramids about 3000 bc 1 Khufu ruled in what is called the Fourth Dynasty of kings so King Menes who is regarded as the founder of the First Dynasty that is as the first ruler to gather all Egypt into a Single Empire must have lived about 3400 bc Back of Menes there is an older uncountable age of lesser kingdoms and slowly developing civilization Forward from his day extends the period of the first or what we now call the Ancient Egyptian Empire which he founded This was ruled by the six earliest dynasties of kings and lasted for almost a thousand years far longer than the later and better known world empire of Rome was able to maintain itself About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works The Sacred Books of the East: Buddhist Suttas, translated by T.W.
