Biased Cognitions & Social Anxiety: Building a Global Framework for Integrating Cognitive, Behavioral, and Neural Processes Alexandre Heeren, Wolf-Gero Lange, Quincy Wong, Pierre Philippot, 2015-03-05 Social anxiety SA is a common and incapacitating disorder that has been associated with seriously impaired career academic and general social functioning Regarding epidemiological data SA has a lifetime prevalence of 12.1% and is the fourth most common psychopathological disorder Kessler et al 2005 At a fundamental point of view the most prominent cognitive models of SA posit that biased cognitions contribute to the development and maintenance of the disorder e.g. Clark Rapee Heimberg 1997 Over the last decades a large body of research has provided evidence that individuals suffering from SA exhibit such biased cognitions at the level of visual attention memory of social encounters interpretation of social events and in judgment of social cues Such biased cognitions in SA has been studied in different ways within cognitive psychology behavioral psychology clinical psychology and cognitive neuroscience over the last few decades yet integrative approaches for channeling all information into a unified account of biased cognitions in SA has not been presented so far The present Research Topic aims to bring together these different ways and to highlight findings and methods which can unify research across these areas In particular this Research Topic aims to advance the current theoretical models of SA and set the stage for future developments of the field by clarifying and linking theoretical concepts across disciplines

The Affinity of the Eye Ignacio López-Calvo, 2013-06-06 In The Affinity of the Eye Writing Nikkei in Peru Ignacio López-Calvo rises above the political emergence of the Fujimori phenomenon and uses politics and literature to provide one of the first comprehensive looks at how the Japanese assimilated and inserted themselves into Peruvian culture Through contemporary writers' testimonies, essays, fiction and poetry López-Calvo constructs an account of the cultural formation of Japanese migrant communities With deftly sensitive interviews and comments he portrays the difficulties of being a Japanese Peruvian Despite a few notable examples Asian Peruvians have been excluded from a sense of belonging or national identity in Peru which provides López-Calvo with the opportunity to record what the community says about their own cultural production In so doing López-Calvo challenges fixed notions of Japanese Peruvian identity The Affinity of the Eye scrutinizes authors such as Jos Watanabe, Fernando Iwasaki, Augusto Higa, Doris Moromisato and Carlos Yushimoto discussing their literature and their connections to the past, present and future Whether these authors push against or accept what it means to be Japanese Peruvians they enrich the images and feelings of that experience Through a close reading of literary and cultural productions López-Calvo's analysis challenges and reframes the parameters of being Nikkei in Peru Covering both Japanese issues in Peru and Peruvian issues in Japan the book is more than a compendium of stories, characters and titles It proves the fluid, enriching and ongoing relationship that exists between Peru and Japan

Michael Thomas Poetry 5 Michael Thomas, 2015-07-29 We all have our take on what is divine and what makes things divine As we get older we tend to spend more time contemplating the divine When the author Michael Thomas first saw a picture of this fresco he was stricken with feelings of identification For him this picture was a wonderful representation of the divine so he has chosen to share it with his readers as a personal expression of divinity In his fifth volume of poetry Michael Thomas becomes more philosophical and begins to plumb the depths of humanity looking for the goodness that he can attach himself to As readers we have the chance to attach ourselves to divinity through his words

Land Beyond the Map Kenneth Bulmer, 2011-09-29 Expressway to an Uncharted Sphere They're about the woman whispered and Crane abruptly saw a strange light shining through the heavy black curtains that shrouded the house He crossed to the window and before anyone could stop him he drew the curtain back At first he did not understand what he saw a round gleaming colour running orb stared unwinkingly back into his face It was an eye An immense sad eye staring at him through the chink of the curtains an eye surrounded by a living whorl of flame that he had last seen engulfing poor Barney in the parking lot At least three others had disappeared into the strange world from which those aliens had come and a girl had been driven insane by them And before Crane s quest to unravel the secret of the Map Country was complete the fate of two worlds would hang in the balance
