Pleasure and Pain in Nineteenth-century French Literature and Culture David Evans, Kate Griffiths, 2008 From Sade at one end of the nineteenth century to Freud at the other via many French novelists and poets pleasure and pain become ever more closely entwined Whereas the inseparability of these themes has hitherto been studied from isolated perspectives such as psychoanalysis sadism and sado masochism melancholy or post structuralist textual jouissance the originality of this collaborative volume lies in its exploration of how pleasure and pain function across a broader range of contexts The essays collected here demonstrate how the complex relationship between pleasure and pain plays a vital role in structuring nineteenth century thinking in prose fiction Balzac Flaubert Musset Maupassant Zola verse and the memoir as well as socio cultural studies medical discourses aesthetic theory and the visual arts Featuring an international selection of contributors representing the full range of approaches to scholarship in nineteenth century French studies historical literary cultural art historical philosophical and sociopolitical the volume attests to the vitality coherence and interdisciplinarity of nineteenth century French studies and will be of interest to a wide cross section of scholars and students of French literature society and culture

Sade in His Own Name Philippe Seminet, 2003 This book aims to situate the much ignored public Marquis de Sade author of eleven stories collected into four volumes under the title Les Crimes de l'amour 1800 vis vis the better known Marquis de Sade author of various anonymous works privileged by contemporary critics Who is this author who after the success of all his clandestine works cast aside the cloak of anonymity to offer the public a collection of short fiction This book explores how Les Crimes de l'amour provides a key to better understanding Sade's prose in both its public and its clandestine guise More than just a critical appraisal of each of the stories this book sheds light on Sade in his role as a man of letters publishing in his own name By considering the ramifications of Sade's goals as a writer stated explicitly in the Idée sur les romans the prefatory essay to Les Crimes and how these goals compare to those of his contemporaries as well as how they play out in Les Crimes Sade in His Own Name opens up new historically situated readings of the better known anonymous works

Women's Literary Networks and Romanticism Andrew O. Winckles, Angela Rehbein, 2017-12-12 The eighteenth century witnessed the rapid expansion of literary networks in Britain yet we still lack a complex understanding of how these networks functioned particularly for women This volume addresses this gap arguing that networks not only provided women with access to the literary marketplace but altered their relations to each other their literary production and the broader social sphere

The Marquis de Sade and the Avant-Garde Alyce Mahon, 2020-05-26 This is the first book to examine the cultural history of Marquis de Sade's 1740-1814 philosophical ideas and their lasting influence on political and artistic debates An icon of free expression Sade lived through France's Reign of Terror and his writings offer both a pitiless mirror on humanity and a series of subversive metaphors that allow for the exploration of political sexual and psychological terror Generations of avant garde writers and artists have responded to Sade

s philosophy as a means of liberation and as a radical engagement with social politics and sexual desire writing fiction modelled on Sade's novels illustrating luxury editions of his works and translating his ideas into film photography and painting In The Sadean Imagination Alyce Mahon examines how Sade used images and texts as forms that could explore and dramatize the concept of terror on political physical and psychic levels and how avant garde artists have continued to engage in a complex dialogue with his works Studying Sade's influence on art from the French Revolution through the twentieth century Mahon examines works ranging from Anne Desclos's The Story of O to images texts and films by Man Ray Pier Paolo Pasolini Guillaume Apollinaire Jean Jacques Lebel and Peter Brook She also discusses writings and responses to Sade by feminist theorists including Angela Carter and Judith Butler Throughout she shows how Sade's work challenged traditional artistic expectations and pushed the boundaries of the body and the body politic inspiring future artists writers and filmmakers to imagine and portray the unthinkable

Thinking About Tears Marco Menin, 2022-07-28 A crucial period for the birth of the modern subject France's long eighteenth century approximately 1650-1820 was an era marked by the formulation of a new aesthetic and ethical code revolving around the intensification of emotions and the hyperbolic use of weeping Precisely because tears are not a simple biological fact but rather hang suspended between natural immediacy on one side and cultural artifice on the other the analysis of crying came to represent an exemplary testing ground for investigations into the enigmatic relations binding the realm of physiology to that of psychology Thinking About Tears explores how the link between tears and sensibility in France's long eighteenth century helps shed light on the process through which the European emotional lexicon has been built from viewing tears as governed by the sphere of passions and feelings thinkers began to view crying as first a matter of sensibility and then of sensiblerie a pathological excess of sensibility thereby presupposing an intimate connection with the category of sentiments For this reason this volume examines not only or even primarily the actual emotion of crying but also the attempt to think about and explain this feeling Drawing on a wide range of early modern philosophical medical religious and literary texts including moral treatises on the passions medical textbooks letters life writings novels and stage plays Thinking About Tears reveals another side to a period that has too often been saddled with the cursory label of the age of reason

Tragedy and Philosophy Walter Kaufmann, 1992 A critical re-examination of the views of Plato Aristotle Hegel and Nietzsche on tragedy Ancient Greek tragedy is revealed as surprisingly modern and experimental while such concepts as mimesis catharsis hubris and the tragic collision are discussed from different perspectives The Unwritten Enlightenment Nathan Gorelick, 2024-03-15 Unveiling the fantasies that drove the Enlightenment and created modern literature Nathan Gorelick's The Unwritten Enlightenment Literature between Ideology and the Unconscious traces the relations between literary criticism and psychoanalysis to their shared origins in the Enlightenment era's novels and novelistic discourse where the period's efforts to invent new notions of subjectivity and individualism are most apparent Gorelick shows how modern concepts of literature and the unconscious were generated in response to these efforts and by an ethical concern for what the language of the Enlightenment excludes represses or struggles to erase Troubling the idea of the Enlightenment on its own terms subverting its supposed authority from within Gorelick thus reveals the workings of unconscious fantasy at the foundations of our contemporary political realities The Unwritten Enlightenment makes clear that to criticize the Enlightenment's deficiencies ambiguities and legacies of violence without regard for the unconscious fantasies that drive them risks reproducing the very patterns of thought action and imagination that the Enlightenment novel already unsettles
