Modernist Short Fiction by Women Claire Drewery,2016-04-15 Taking on the neglected issue of the short story s relationship to literary Modernism Claire Drewery examines works by Katherine Mansfield Dorothy Richardson May Sinclair and Virginia Woolf Drewery argues that the short story as a genre is preoccupied with transgressing boundaries and thus offers an ideal platform from which to examine the Modernist fascination with the liminal Embodying both liberation and restriction liminal spaces on the one hand enable challenges to traditional cultural and personal identities while on the other hand they entail the inevitable negative consequences of occupying the position of the outsider marginality psychosis and death Mansfield Richardson Sinclair and Woolf all exploit this paradox in their short fiction which typically explores literal and psychological borderline states that are resistant to rational analysis Thus their short stories offered these authors an opportunity to represent the borders of unconsciousness and to articulate meaning while also conveying a sense of that which is unsayable Through their concern with liminality Drewery shows these writers contribute significantly to the Modernist aesthetic that interrogates identity the construction of the self and the relationship between the individual and society      Science-fiction Everett Franklin Bleiler,Richard Bleiler,1998 Complementing Science Fiction The Early Years which surveys science fiction published in book form from its beginnings through 1930 the present volume covers all the science fiction printed in the genre magazines Amazing, Astounding and Wonder along with offshoots and minor magazines from 1926 through 1936. This is the first time this historically important literary phenomenon which stands behind the enormous modern development of science fiction has been studied thoroughly and accurately. The heart of the book is a series of descriptions of all 1 835 stories published during this period plus bibliographic information. Supplementing this are many useful features: detailed histories of each of the magazines; an issue by issue roster of contents; a technical analysis of the art work; brief authors' biographies; poetry and letter indexes; a theme and motif index of approximately 30 000 entries; and general indexes. Science Fiction: The Gernsback Years is not only indispensable for reference librarians, collectors, readers and scholars interested in science fiction; it is also of importance to the study of popular culture during the Great Depression in the United States. Most of its data, which are largely based on rare and almost unobtainable sources, are not available elsewhere.

Cosmopolitanism in the Fictive Imagination of W. E. B. Du Bois Samuel O. Doku, 2015-12-03. This book traces W. E. B. Du Bois's fictionalization of history in his five major works of fiction and in his debut short story The Souls of Black Folk through a thematic framework of cosmopolitanism. In texts like The Negro and Black Folk: Then and Now, Du Bois argues that the human race originated from a single source, a claim authenticated by anthropologists and the Human Genome Project. This book breaks new ground by demonstrating the fashion in which the variants of cosmopolitanism become a profound theme in Du Bois's contribution to fiction. In general, cosmopolitanism claims that people belong to a single community informed by common moral values, function through a shared economic nomenclature and are part of political systems grounded in mutual respect. This book addresses Du Bois's works as important additions to the academy and makes a significant contribution to literature by first demonstrating the way in which fiction could be utilized in discussing historical accounts in order to reach a global audience. The Coming of John, The Quest of the Silver Fleece, Dark Princess, A Romance and The Black Flame, an important trilogy published sequentially as The Ordeal of Mansart, Mansart Builds a School and Worlds of Color, are grounded in historical occurrences and administer as social histories providing commentary on Reconstruction, Jim Crow segregation, African American leadership, school desegregation, the Pan African movement, imperialism and colonialism in Africa, Asia and the Caribbean.

Transient Questions, 2021-09-20. Mavis Gallant has been a leading literary figure in Canada since her first short story published in 1951 and has grown to be considered internationally as a modern master of the genre. Her writing is nuanced, sensitive, gifted, deep and concise. She leaves everything open for the hidden potential that can always be discovered. Times change, society, history, politics may develop out of recognition. Cultures metamorphose. Literary landscapes and theories are renewed. But the classics of our time stay where they are, pillars of that which is solidly about us. Mavis Gallant's work is of that calibre; her writing will remain interesting and relevant no matter what else happens. This book is an exploration of what Gallant's readers are thinking now where they place her in the panorama of literature and what meaning she has for them now. Scholars continue to probe into the stories their characters the capsules of history they present and continue to find them challenging. As with Shakespeare no amount of scrutiny will yield the final answer. That is how complex Gallant's writing is. Especially now when the positioning of her characters is a more prominent condition in general we need to review Gallant's artistic insights. As Francine Prose says in Harper's Magazine Gallant's cast of characters are a motley assortment of refugees fugitives and travelers and displaced persons scrambling on the margins of a society they will never belong to. This is the modern condition. As with other great writers Gallant shows herself to be prophetic in cutting down to the roots of the sensibility of our era. We are reading her work and we are thinking about it and talking about it. This book is part of that large conversation. Contributors are Neil Besner Di Brandt Nicole C. t.
