Each entry supplies a brief bibliography that directs students to print and electronic sources of additional information African American Theater Buildings Eric Ledell Smith, 2015-06-08 African American theater buildings were theaters owned or managed by blacks or whites and serving an African American audience. Nearly 2,000 such theaters, including nickelodeons, vaudeville houses, storefronts, drive-ins, opera houses and neighborhood movie theaters, existed in the 20th century yet very little has been written about them. In this book, the African American theater buildings from 1900 through 1955 are arranged by state, then by city, and then alphabetically under the name by which they were known. The street address, dates of operation, number of seats, architect, whether it was a member of TOBA (Theater Owners Booking Association), type of theater (nickelodeon, vaudeville, musical, drama or picture), alternate names, race and name of manager or owner, whether the audience was mixed, and the fate of the theater are given where known. Commentary by theater historians is also provided Grin and Bear It Jenni Pulos, Laura Morton, 2014-03-11 Jenni Pulos from Bravo's Flipping Out and Interior Therapy pens a charming memoir/advice book on how to survive and thrive in any situation. Jenni Pulos has specialized in a lifetime of disappointments. She's been publicly humiliated, dumped by her spouse on national television, told she'd never make it in Hollywood, encouraged by her family with inspiring questions like "when are you getting a real job" and has not only survived but thrived as a result. Despite her struggles and setbacks, Jenni has gone from a wannabe aspiring actress and comedian to becoming one of Bravo's most beloved personalities. With hilarious reality-meets-insanity anecdotes from her life and career, Jenni writes candidly on how to go from victim to victor most of the time. Her book is more of an advice/how-not-to story that includes Jenni's top ten tested and proven ways to fail forward. How she turned her negative self-talk into positive self-beliefs. How Jenni handles people who didn't want her to succeed. How she stopped fretting over things she didn't have control over. How she found her self-worth and finally found the love she never thought she'd have. Grin and Bear It is the spark we all need to ignite our passion to get out there and be positive, find the funny in life to be present and learn how to be happy no matter what reality throws your way In Living Color Bernadette

Staging the Blues Paige A. McGinley,2014-09-10 Singing was just one element of blues performance in the early twentieth century Ma Rainey Bessie Smith and other classic blues singers also tapped joked and flaunted extravagant costumes on tent show and black vaudeville stages The press even described these women as actresses long before they achieved worldwide fame for their musical recordings In Staging the Blues Paige A McGinley shows that even though folklorists record producers and festival promoters set the theatricality of early blues aside in favor of notions of authenticity it remained creatively vibrant throughout the twentieth century Highlighting performances by Rainey Smith Lead Belly Sister Rosetta Tharpe Sonny Terry and Brownie McGhee in small Mississippi towns Harlem theaters and the industrial British North this pioneering study foregrounds virtuoso blues artists who used the conventions of the theater including dance comedy and costume to stage black mobility to challenge narratives of racial authenticity and to fight for racial and economic justice
