

Sierra Leone

Remembered

Sierra Leone

High we exalt thee, realm of the free,
Great is the love we have for thee;
Firmly united, ever we stand
Singing thy praise, O native land.

We raise up our hearts and voices on high;
The hills and the valleys re-echo our cry.
Blessing and peace be ever thine own,
Land that we love, our Sierra Leone.

Sierra Leone Remembered:

Sierra Leone Remembered Esther L. Megill, 2004-07-28 Esther Megill had an extraordinary life experience in Sierra Leone as a medical technologist extraordinary in the work she did in the work she helped others to do and in the legacy of good will she left behind at the time of her retirement Her book Sierra Leone Remembered reads like an adventure novel Written in an easy conversational style it is a true story whose characters draw you into their world There are surprises at every turn and some will make you laugh along with Esther and her friends Some will make you weep as she wept for the sick displaced and those who lost their lives This author was there and she takes you with her Her stories have an unmistakable ring of essential truth Other authors may have given us history lessons descriptive passages testimonials of faith or glimpses into the culture and everyday lives of people Esther Megill gives all that and more Her feast of photographs tell thousands more stories at a glance Pull up a chair open Sierra Leone Remembered and you will see and hear Esther tell her story in her own voice Her story inspires one to look for the best in the human spirit despite circumstances One sees that dedication to serve others with compassion courage and faith and medicine blessed with God's love can make a difference Sylvia Smyth A History of Sierra Leone Christopher Fyfe, 1962 This monumental history of Sierra Leone the first to be published on such a scale is written with particular emphasis on liberated Africans and their descendants the Sierra Leone Creoles and their contribution to the history of West Africa Jacket Back to Africa Richard West, 1970 A Short History of Sierra Leone Christopher Fyfe, 1967 History, Memory, and State-Sponsored Violence Berber Bevernage, 2013-02-14 Modern historiography embraces the notion that time is irreversible implying that the past should be imagined as something absent or distant Victims of historical injustice however in contrast often claim that the past got stuck in the present and that it retains a haunting presence History Memory and State Sponsored Violence is centered around the provocative thesis that the way one deals with historical injustice and the ethics of history is strongly dependent on the way one conceives of historical time that the concept of time traditionally used by historians is structurally more compatible with the perpetrators than the victims point of view Demonstrating that the claim of victims about the continuing presence of the past should be taken seriously instead of being treated as merely metaphorical Berber Bevernage argues that a genuine understanding of the irrevocable past demands a radical break with modern historical discourse and the concept of time By embedding a profound philosophical reflection on the themes of historical time and historical discourse in a concrete series of case studies this project transcends the traditional divide between empirical historiography on the one hand and the so called theoretical approaches to history on the other It also breaks with the conventional analytical philosophy of history that has been dominant during the last decades raising a series of long neglected big questions about the historical condition questions about historical time the unity of history and the ontological status of present and past programmatically pleading for a new historical ethics History Can Bite Denise Benvato, Karina V. Korostelina, Martina Schulze, 2016-10-10 The volume provides critical insights into approaches adopted by curricula textbooks and teachers around the world when teaching about the past in the wake of civil war and mass violence discerning some of the key challenges and opportunities involved in such endeavors The contributors discuss ways in which history teaching has acted as a political tool that has at times been guilty of exacerbating inter group conflicts It also highlights history teaching as an important component of reconciliation attempts showcasing examples of curricular reform and textbook revision after conflict and discussing how the contestations and difficulties surrounding such processes were addressed in different post conflict societies

The Krio of West Africa Gibril R. Cole, 2013-09-15 Sierra Leone's unique history especially in the development and consolidation of British colonialism in West Africa has made it an important site of historical investigation since the 1950s Much of the scholarship produced in subsequent decades has focused on the Krio descendants of freed slaves from the West Indies North America England and other areas of West Africa who settled Freetown beginning in the late eighteenth century Two foundational and enduring assumptions have characterized this historiography the concepts of Creole and Krio are virtually interchangeable and the community to which these terms apply was and is largely self contained Christian and English in worldview In a bold challenge to the long standing historiography on Sierra Leone Gibril Cole carefully disentangles Krio from Creole revealing the diversity and permeability of a community that included many who in fact were not Christian In Cole's persuasive and engaging analysis Muslim settlers take center stage as critical actors in the dynamic growth of Freetown's Krio society The Krio of West Africa represents the results of some of the first sustained historical research to be undertaken since the end of Sierra Leone's brutal civil war It speaks clearly and powerfully not only to those with an interest in the specific history of Sierra Leone but to histories of Islam in West Africa the British empire the Black Atlantic the Yoruban diaspora and the slave trade and its aftermath

Remembering Violence Nicolas Argenti, Katharina Schramm, 2010 Psychologists have done a great deal of research on the effects of trauma on the individual revealing the paradox that violent experiences are often secreted away beyond easy accessibility becoming impossible to verbalize explicitly However comparatively little research has been done on the transgenerational effects of trauma and the means by which experiences are transmitted from person to person across time to become intrinsic parts of the social fabric With eight contributions covering Africa Central and South America China Europe and the Middle East this volume sheds new light on the role of memory in constructing popular histories or historiographies of violence in the absence of or in contradistinction to authoritative written histories It brings new ethnographic data to light and presents a truly cross cultural range of case studies that will greatly enhance the discussion of memory and violence across disciplines

Remembering Genocide Nigel Eltringham, Pam Maclean, 2014-06-27 In Remembering Genocide an international group of scholars draw on current research from a range of disciplines to explore how communities throughout the world remember genocide Whether coming to terms with atrocities committed in Namibia and Rwanda Australia Canada the Punjab Armenia Cambodia and during the Holocaust

those seeking to remember genocide are confronted with numerous challenges Survivors grapple with the possibility or even the desirability of recalling painful memories Societies where genocide has been perpetrated find it difficult to engage with an uncomfortable historical legacy Still to forget genocide as this volume edited by Nigel Eltringham and Pam Maclean shows is not an option To do so reinforces the vulnerability of groups whose very existence remains in jeopardy and denies them the possibility of bringing perpetrators to justice Contributors discuss how genocide is represented in media including literature memorial books film and audiovisual testimony Debates surrounding the role museums and monuments play in constructing and transmitting memory are highlighted Finally authors engage with controversies arising from attempts to mobilise and manipulate memory in the service of reconciliation compensation and transitional justice

Transatlantic Memories of Slavery: Remembering the Past, Changing the Future Elisa Bordin ,Anna Scacchi,2015-08-10

While the memorialization of slavery has generated an impressive number of publications relatively few studies deal with this subject from a transnational transdisciplinary and transracial standpoint As a historical phenomenon that crossed borders and traversed national communities and ethnic groups producing alliances that did not overlap with received identities slavery as well as its memory call for comparative investigations that may bring to light aspects obscured by the predominant visibility of US American and British narratives of the past This study addresses the memory of slavery from a transnational perspective It brings into dialogue texts and practices from the transatlantic world offering comparative analyses which interlace the variety of memories emerging in diverse national contexts and fields of study and shed light on the ways local countermemories have interacted with and responded to hegemonic narratives of slavery The inclusion of Brazil and the French English and Spanish Caribbean alongside the United States and Europe and the variety of investigative approaches ranging from cinema popular culture and visual culture studies to anthropology and literary studies expand the current understanding of the slave past and how it is reimagined today This fascinating book brings freshness to the topic by considering objects of investigation which have so far remained marginal in the academic debate such as heroic memorials civic landscape white family sagas Young Adult literature of slavery Latin American telenovelas and filmic narrations within and beyond Hollywood What emerges is a multifarious set of memories which keep changing according to generation race gender nation and political urgency and indicate the advancing of a dynamic mobilized memorialization of slavery willing to move beyond mourning towards a more militant stand for justice This is an important book for those interested in African American American and Latin American studies and working across literature cinema visual arts and public culture It will also be useful to public official and civil servants interested in the question of slavery and its present memory

Public History Thomas Cauvin, 2022-05-18 The second edition of Public History A Textbook of Practice offers an updated guide to the many opportunities and challenges that public history practitioners can encounter in the field Historians can play a dynamic and essential role in contributing to public understanding of the past and those who work in historic preservation in museums and archives in government agencies as consultants as oral historians or who manage crowdsourcing projects need very specific skills This book links theory and practice and provides students and practitioners with the tools to do public history in a wide range of settings This new edition reflects how much the field of public history has changed in the past few years with public history now being more established and international New chapters have therefore been added on the definition history and international scope of public history as well as on specific practices and theories such as historical fictions digital public history and shared authority Split into four sections this textbook provides approaches methodologies and tools for historians and other public history practitioners to play a bigger role in public debates and public productions of historical interpretations Part I focuses on the past present and future of public history Part II explores public history sources and offers an overview of the creation collection management and preservation of materials archives material culture oral history or historical sites Part III deals with the different ways in which public history practitioners can produce historical narratives through different media including texts fictions audio visual productions exhibitions and performances Part IV discusses the opportunities and challenges that public history practitioners encounter when working with different collaborators Whether in public history methods courses or as a resource for practicing public historians this book lays the groundwork for making meaningful connections between historical sources and popular audiences

Raising Firstborn Bainaka M. S. Yansané, 2025-04-28 In 1958 ten year old Sorie was meant to walk in his farming father's footsteps and his motivation must be spawned not from the secret dreams of revenge he harbored but rather from the need to bring justice to others Loyal allies like Saixusorie Botelai Baraka and Mirya among others needed recognition Honest workers like McCarthy Yacine Modumaka Sarabella and so many others also needed recognition justice And he Sorie was the promise of justice for those members of his family who expected the advent of peace and joy by dint of poverty reducing deeds The task was tricky in the context of a society confronted with the combined effects of its triple heritage Islam Christianity and colonialism To prepare for this task Sorie and his peers were engaged in educating themselves in order to establish both their own identity as individuals and the identity of the young People's State of Guinea amid nations However above all by age 16 Sorie was most fascinated by stories depicting daring feats of adventure involving those of his peers who evaded poverty and embarked on migration treks toward France He thus learned that the way to Paris went through Dakar or Abidjan What will Sorie make of President Sekou Toure's efforts to get Guineans to think in one and the same brain that of President Sekou Toure who intended to use a helpless population of housewives masons electricians plumbers doctors teachers and farmers for his revolutionary project of social engineering

A History of the Colony of Sierra Leone, Western Africa John Joseph Crooks, 1903

A Military History of India since 1972 Arjun Subramaniam, 2021-06-09 A Military History of India since 1972 is a definitive work of military history that gives the Indian military its rightful place as a key contributor to Indian democracy Arjun Subramaniam offers an engaging narrative that combines superb storytelling with the academic rigor of deep research and analysis It is a comprehensive account of India's resolute responsible and restrained use of force as an instrument of statecraft and how the military has played an essential role in securing the country's democratic tradition along with its rise as an economic and demographic power This book is also about how the Indian nation state and its armed forces have coped with the changing contours of modern conflict in the decades since 1972 These include the 2016 surgical or cross border strikes by the Indian Army's Special Forces across the line of control with Pakistan the face off with the Chinese at Doklam in 2017 and in Ladakh in 2020 the preemptive punitive strikes by the Indian Air Force against terrorist camps in Pakistan in 2019 and the large scale aerial engagement between the Indian Air Force and the Pakistan Air Force the following day These conflicts also include the long running insurgencies in the northeast terrorism and proxy war in Jammu and Kashmir separatist violence in Punjab and the Indian Peacekeeping Force's intervention in Sri Lanka The author also includes a chapter on the development of India's nuclear capabilities Arjun Subramaniam enlivens the narrative with a practitioner's insights amplified by interviews and conversations with almost a hundred serving and retired officers including former chiefs from all three armed forces for an in depth exploration of land air and naval operations The structure of the book offers readers a choice of either embarking on a comprehensive and chronological examination of war and conflict in contemporary India or a selective reading based on specific time lines or campaigns A history of the New meeting house, Kidderminster, 1782-1900 Evan David Priestley Evans,1900 A history of the founding of the church about 1785 Data about nonconformist ministers The Oxford Encyclopedia of Women in World History Bonnie G. Smith,2008 The Encyclopedia of Women in World History captures the experiences of women throughout world history in a comprehensive 4 volume work Although there has been extensive research on women in history by region no text or reference work has comprehensively covered the role women have played throughout world history The past thirty years have seen an explosion of research and effort to present the experiences and contributions of women not only in the Western world but across the globe Historians have investigated womens daily lives in virtually every region and have researched the leadership roles women have filled across time and region They have found and demonstrated that there is virtually no historical social or demographic change in which women have not been involved and by which their lives have not been affected The Oxford Encyclopedia of Women in World History benefits greatly from these efforts and experiences and illuminates how women worldwide have influenced and been influenced by these historical social and demographic changes The Encyclopedia contains over 1 250 signed articles arranged in an A Z format for ease of use The entries cover six main areas biographies geography and history comparative culture and society including adoption abortion performing arts organizations and movements such as the Egyptian Uprising and the Paris Commune womens and gender studies and topics in world history that include slave trade globalization and disease With its rich and insightful entries by leading scholars and experts this reference work is sure to be a valued go to resource for scholars college and high school students and general readers alike A History of Christianity in Africa Elizabeth Isichei,1995 Isichei s thorough study surveys the full breadth of Christianity in Africa from the early story of Egyptian Christianity to the churches of the Middle Years 1500 1800 to the prolific success of missions throughout the 1900s This important book fills a conspicuous void of scholarly works on Africa s Christian history Includes 26 maps
