

A sepia-toned photograph of a tropical scene. In the foreground, a small, dark, gabled-roof building, possibly a gazebo or a small house, stands on a sandy or dirt path. Behind it, a dense line of tall palm trees stretches across the middle ground. The background shows more trees and a hazy, distant landscape. The overall tone is warm and nostalgic.

Los Angeles In Fiction:

Los Angeles in Fiction David M. Fine, 1984 Imagining Los Angeles David Fine, 2016-06-01 The literary image of Los Angeles has evolved since the 1880s from promotional literature that hyped the region as a New Eden to contemporary visions of the city as a perplexing sometimes corrupt even apocalyptic place that reflects all that is wrong with America In Imagining Los Angeles the first literary history of the city in more than fifty years critic David Fine traces the history and mood of the place through the work of writers as diverse as Helen Hunt Jackson Mary Austin Norman Mailer Raymond Chandler Joan Didion Carolyn See and many others His lively and engaging text focuses on the way these writers saw Los Angeles and used the image of the city as an element in their work and on how that image has changed as the city itself became ever larger more complex and more socially and ethnically diverse This is essential reading for anyone interested in the literature and changing image of Southern California

Los Angeles Peter Moore Smith, 2005 A beautiful neighbor's arrival and her eerie disappearance knocks Angel Veronchek's solitary reclusive life off balance and plunges him into the sinister world of Los Angeles nights a world of secrets that aren't meant to be told and people who aren't meant to be found

The Road to Los Angeles John Fante, 2010-05-18 I had a lot of jobs in Los Angeles Harbor because our family was poor and my father was dead My first job was ditchdigging a short time after I graduated from high school Every night I couldn't sleep from the pain in my back We were digging an excavation in an empty lot there wasn't any shade the sun came straight from a cloudless sky and I was down in that hole digging with two huskies who dug with a love for it always laughing and telling jokes laughing and smoking bitter tobacco

Los Angeles Stories Robert Noyola, 2011 The Good & the Hard Times in Los Angeles Jordan Farar, 2011-08-09 Join the exhilarating adventure of Los Angeles in the 1970s as you enter an era where fast muscle cars bright neon lights and that urban street style ruled Steve was having the worst day of his life He lost his job he lost his family and he found himself in the worst part of the city where he almost lost his life As he wanders through neighborhoods filled with street walkers tweakers gangs and the homeless lives from those very streets begin to intermingle with his own Chris and his crew confront him Richie rescues him Angelica learns to love him In the pulse of the city other lives change Chris wants to change to start to give back to a community that has always been his home In spite of a negative home and life in a hard core school Juan learns the true meaning of responsibility and family and allowing one's talents to shine There are heroes here too Juan and Steve from very different worlds both save lives Chris uses his street smarts to mentor a troubled youth As the lives of gang members and victims heroes and everyday people play out in a neighborhood of poverty and pride the reader begins to understand the complexity of intertwining lives and the victory in personal bests positive change and the ability to accept and forgive The Good the Hard Times in LOS ANGELES is a true marriage of novel writing and film making The text provides a hard hitting lean and mean look at the less glamorous streets of LOS ANGELES that manage to produce some of the finest people The stories of Chris as he develops a sense of social responsibility of Juan as he matures into a hard working talented artist and family provider and of Steve who discovers that the worst day of his life has brought him the most happiness he has ever known Their stories are vibrantly told in gripping chapters where street dancing gang confrontations and graffiti competitions spring from the pages Scribendi Canada The Good The Hard Times in LOS ANGELES is a fast paced interesting look at the lives of very special people and how they connect It is a good glimpse into the people and the situations that made the 70s in LA a special time in a special place

Crime Fiction John Scaggs,2005 Provides a lively introduction to what is both a wide ranging and hugely popular literary genre Accessible and clear this comprehensive overview is the essential guide for all those studying crime fiction The Columbia History of the American Novel Emory Elliott,1991 Designed as a companion to The Columbia Literary History of the United States this compilation of 31 major essays covers the American novel from the 1700s to the present although the majority deal with the 20th century Within each era themes genres and topics such as realism gender romance and technology are discussed in depth as well as modern Canadian Caribbean and Latin American fiction Each essayist selects only the authors who best illustrate the topic thus subtly skewing the view of the literary scene at that time The volume also covers women minorities popular fiction and the book marketplace ISBN 0 231 07360 7 59 95 Animals in Detective

Fiction Ruth Hawthorn,John Miller,2022-12-06 This book explores the vast array of animals that populate detective fiction If the genre begins as is widely supposed with Edgar Allan Poe's Murders in the Rue Morgue 1841 then detective fiction's very first culprit is an animal Animals moreover consistently appear as victims clues and companions while the abstract conception of animality is closely tied to the idea of criminality Although it is often described as an essentially conservative form detective fiction can unsettle the binary of human and animal to intersect with developing concerns in animal studies animal agency the ethical complexities of human animal interaction the politics and literary aesthetics of violence and animal metaphor Gathering its 14 essays into sections on ontologies ethics politics and forms Animals in Detective Fiction provides a compelling and nuanced analysis of the central role creatures play in this enduringly popular and continually morphing literary form LOS ANGELES David Rieff,1992-09 The author turns his critical eye to the City of Angels discussing L A's gridlocked freeways immigrant neighborhoods posh Beverly Hills popular culture health consciousness and more and speculates on the city's future The Cambridge Companion to the Literature of the American South Sharon Monteith,2013-08-19 Featuring essays written by an international team of experts this Companion maps the dynamic literary landscape of the American South American Women Writing Fiction Mickey Pearlman,2014-10-17 American literature is no longer the refuge of the solitary hero Like the society it mirrors it is now a far richer many faceted explication of a complicated and diverse society racially culturally and ethnically interwoven and at the same time fractured and fractious Ten women writing fiction in America today Toni Cade Bambara Joan Didion Louise Erdrich Gail Godwin Mary Gordon Alison Lurie Joyce Carol Oates Jayne Anne Phillips Susan Fromberg Schaeffer and Mary Lee Settle represent that geographic ethnic and racial diversity that is distinctively American Their differing perspectives on literature and the American experience have produced Erdrich's stolid North Dakota plainswomen Didion's sun-baked dreamers and screamers the urban ethnics Irish Jewish and black of Gordon Schaeffer and Barbara Oates's small town often violent neurotics Lurie's intellectual sophisticates and the southern survivors and victims male and female of Phillips Settle and Godwin The ten original essays in this collection focus on the traditional themes of identity memory family and enclosure that pervade the fiction of these writers The fictional women who emerge here as these critics show are often caught in the interwoven strands of memory perceive literal and emotional space as entrapping find identity elusive and frustrating and experience the interweaving of silence solitude and family in complex patterns Each essay in this collection is followed by bibliographies of works by and about the writer in question that will be invaluable resources for scholars and general readers alike Here is a readable critical discussion of ten important contemporary novelists who have broadened the pages of American literature to reflect more clearly the people we are

Memory and the Built Environment in 20th-Century American Literature Alice Levick, 2021-05-20 From the paving of the Los Angeles River in 1938 and the creation of the G I Bill in 1944 to the construction of the Interstate Highway System during the late 1950s and the brownstoning movement of the 1970s throughout the mid 20th century the United States saw a wave of changes that had an enduring impact on the development of urban spaces Focusing on the relationship between processes of demolition and restoration as they have shaped the modern built environment and the processes by which memory is constructed hidden or remade in the literary text this book explores the ways in which history becomes entangled with the urban space in which it plays out Alice Levick takes stock of this history both in the form of its externalised concretised manifestation and its more symbolic representation as depicted in the mid 20th century work of a selection of American writers Calling upon access to archival material and interviews with New York academics authors local historians and urban planners this book locates Freud's Uncanny in the cracks between the absent and present invisible and visible memory and history as they are presented in city narratives demonstrating both the passage of time and the imposition of 20th century modernism With reference to the works of D J Waldie Joan Didion Hisaye Yamamoto Raymond Chandler Marshall Berman Gil Cuadros Paule Marshall L J Davis and Paula Fox Memory and the Built Environment in 20th Century American Literature unpacks how time becomes visible in Los Angeles Sacramento Lakewood and New York in the decades just before and after the Second World War questioning how these spaces provide access to the past in both narrative and spatial forms and how at times this access is blocked

Afterlives of Abandoned Work Matthew

Harle, 2018-12-27 Afterlives of Abandoned Work considers the relevance of unfinished projects to literary history and criticism looking beyond famous posthumous work to investigate the abandoned everyday from scrapped plans and rejected ideas to half written novels or unfinished artistic works. It traces how the reading of abandoned creative endeavor whether arriving in the form of a rejection letter, a disagreement with a collaborator or the simple act of walking away from one's desk can change the way we think about cultural production, the creative process and the intellectual construction of everyday life. Over five distinct journeys through a variety of archives from major research libraries to the unique collections of individual enthusiasts, Matthew Harle draws surprising connections between literary studies, media studies and visual arts, exploring unfinished projects from Thomas Pynchon, Muriel Spark, B. S. Johnson, Harold Pinter and others. Rooted in literary criticism, Afterlives of Abandoned Work reads unbuilt buildings, unfilmed screenplays and unpublished novels and radio sketches as forms of text that can help us consider the enduring fragmentation and anecdotal construction of cultural form as well as expand literary criticism's approach to the archive.
