Lost in Familiar Places Edward R. Shapiro,A. Wesley Carr,2011      Lost in Familiar Places Edward R. Shapiro,A. Wesley Carr,1993-07-01 We live in a world of accelerating change marked by the decline of traditional forms of family community and professional life Both within families and in work places individuals feel increasingly lost unsure of the roles required of them In this book a psychoanalyst and an Anglican priest using a combination of psychoanalysis and social systems theory offer tools that allow people to create meaningful connections with one another and with the institutions within which they work and live The authors begin by discussing how life in a family prefigures and prepares the individual to participate in groups offering detailed case studies of families in therapy as illustrations They then turn to organizations describing how their consultations with an academic conference a mental hospital a law firm and a church parish helped members of these institutions to relate to one another by becoming aware of wider contexts for their experiences All the people within a group have their own subjectively felt perceptions of the environment According to Shapiro and Carr when individuals can negotiate a shared interpretation of the experience and of the purposes for which the group exists they can further their own development and that of their organizations The authors suggest how this can be accomplished They conclude with some broad speculations about the continuing importance of institutions for connecting the individual and society

Working with Trauma Marilyn Charles,2011-11-03 Working with Trauma Lessons from Bion and Lacan by Marilyn Charles takes concepts from the psychoanalytic literature and translates them into user friendly language In this book Charles focuses on clinical work with more severely disturbed patients for whom trauma has impeded their psychosocial development Introducing ideas from Bion and Lacan such as empty speech and attacks on linking she shows the reader their clinical utility Her use of clinical moments rather than more lengthy vignettes invites readers to recognize that type of dilemma and imagine how they might use the concept in their own work

Heroine Abuse Thomas Gaiton Marullo, 2015-10-15

Fyodor Dostoevsky's first novel Netochka Nezvanova written in 1849 remains the least studied and understood of the writer's long fiction but it was a seedbed for many topics and themes that became hallmarks of his major works Specifically Netochka Nezvanova was the first in Dostoevsky's corpus to focus on the psychology of children and the first to feature a woman in a leading and narrative role It was also the first work in Russian literature to deal with problems of the family In Heroine Abuse Thomas Marullo contends that Netochka Nezvanova also provides a striking example of what psychologists today call codependency the ways often deviant and destructive in which individuals bond with people places and things as well as with images and ideas to cope with the vicissitudes of life Marullo shows how at age twenty eight Dostoevsky intuited and illustrated the workings of relationship addiction almost a century and a half before it became the scholarly focus of practitioners of mental health The moral monsters infernal women children adults and adult children who populate Netochka Nezvanova seek codependence in people places and things and in images ideas and ideals to satiate cravings for love dominance and control as well as to indulge in narcissism sexual perversion and other aberrant or alternative behaviors Indeed in no other work would Dostoevsky examine such phenomena as pedophilia and lesbianism with such abandon Racing from tie to tie bond to bond and caught in a debilitating loop that they claim to detest but sadomasochistically enjoy the characters in Netochka Nezvanova wreak havoc on themselves and the world They do so moreover with impunity their addictions moving them from momentary exultation as self styled extraordinary men and women through prolonged darkness and despair and once again to old and new addictions for physical and emotional release

Readers of Heroine Abuse will see Netochka Nezvanova as a timeless model in depicting codependency in the world of the twenty first century as it did in St Petersburg in 1849 Marullo's original work will appeal to scholars and students of Russian and comparative fiction to doctors psychologists and therapists to laymen and women interested in relationship addiction and finally to codependents and relationship addicts of all types

The Parables of Jesus Richard Q. Ford, In this startling new way to read the parables Ford unlocks seven of the longer parables attributed to Jesus He focuses on the two major characters in each parable who are separated by social inequality and he entirely bypasses the common approach that assumes that the superior character represents God and the subordinate character the Christian believer Drawing on his own therapeutic training Ford offers unique insight into the psychodynamics at work in the parables He proposes that the two characters are equally balanced in their multiple misperceptions of each other and shows how Jesus stories invite listeners to advert to issues of conflict and power and to struggle toward reconciliation

The Capacity for Ethical Conduct David P. Levine, 2013 This book explores how the qualities of character and personality either make ethical conduct possible for the individual or foster ethical failure

Love's Return Gail M. Boldt, Paula M. Salvio, 2012-11-12 The idea that teachers love children is often taken for granted in education Rarely is the idea of love itself examined Bringing together the work of educators curriculum theorists and clinical psychoanalysts and drawing upon autobiographical and narrative case studies this groundbreaking collection examines the collision of love and learning including the ways in which such intersections are provoked repressed and denied Contributors turn to psychoanalysis to explore questions of love in all of its varying permutations ambivalence sexuality hatred desire projection and loss in order to demonstrate how the social ramifications of such work is critical to the ways teachers are currently being prepared for life in the classroom

Peace, Reconciliation and Social Justice Leadership in the 21st Century H. Eric Schockman, Vanessa Hernández, Aldo Boitano, 2019-09-23 Bringing together leading scholars and practitioners from the worlds of leadership followership transitional justice and international law this research provides a blueprint of how people led bottom up grassroots efforts can foster reconciliation and a more peaceful world

Disseminating Lacan David Pettigrew, François Raffoul, 1996-01-01 Brings together parts of the Lacanian discourse that have remained isolated in their respective research areas and outlines the shape of Lacanian discourse showing the relation of Lacan's thought to philosophy science literature and aesthetics gender and sexuality and psychoanalytic theory

The Systems Psychodynamics of Organizations Laurence J. Gould, 2018-05-30 This authoritative source book on the learning and creative application of the systems psychodynamic perspective defines the field presenting the key concepts models and social methodologies that derive from it together with their theoretical and conceptual underpinnings in psychoanalysis group relations and open systems theory
