Charter Schools, Race, and Urban Space Kristen L. Buras,2014-07-17 Charter schools have been promoted as an equitable and innovative solution to the problems plaguing urban schools Advocates claim that charter schools benefit working class students of color by offering them access to a portfolio of school choices In Charter Schools Race and Urban Space Kristen Buras presents a very different account Her case study of New Orleans where veteran teachers were fired en masse and the nation s first all charter school district was developed shows that such reform is less about the needs of racially oppressed communities and more about the production of an urban space economy in which white entrepreneurs capitalize on black children and neighborhoods In this revealing book Buras draws on critical theories of race political economy and space as well as a decade of research on the ground to expose the criminal dispossession of black teachers and students who have contributed to New Orleans culture and history Mapping federal state and local policy networks she shows how the city s landscape has been reshaped by a strategic venture to privatize public education She likewise chronicles grassroots efforts to defend historic schools and neighborhoods against this assault revealing a commitment to equity and place and articulating a vision of change that is sure to inspire heated debate among communities nationwide
