Reclaim The Earth Women Speak Out For Life On Earth:

Reclaim the Earth Stephanie Leland,1983 Environmental Concepts, Policies, and Strategies John Rose,1991

This compilation of 20 papers published in the International journal of environmental studies in the last three years shows results obtained from surveys into the economic social and political background of environmental decisions and planning These results encompass a wide range of topics relevant to the study of the environment The main areas under discussion are politics control strategies determinism rural planning and styles of environmental and agricultural strategies Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR The Gendered New World Order Jennifer Turpin,Lois Ann

Lorentzen,2013-10-31 Ecological security seems increasingly precarious and battles over land and models of economic development now lead to military conflicts The Gendered New World Order addresses the compelling issue of how gender connects the global problems of militarism underdevelopment and environmental decay Scholars from around the world make connections between seemingly disparate issues such as refugees polluted waters bombed vilages massive dam projects starving children deforestation nuclear arms buildup and the rights of women Woman, who owns you-? Sathupati Prasanna Sree,2008 Papers presented at the International Seminar on Psycho Dynamics of Women in the Postmodern Literature of the East and West held at Visakhapatnam during 25 26 February 2006 Earth Follies Joni Seager,2019-03-21

First published in 1993 The question of agency is essential to our understanding of environmental problems who is responsible and why Threats such as ozone depletion global warming and overconsumption are all precipitated by the powerful institutions which shape modern life institutions which are overwhelmingly controlled by men and dominated by masculine presumptions Joni Seager argues that the gender bias inherent in western culture is inextricably linked to our environmental crisis She analyses the traditional institutes of power governments the military and transnational corporations and also takes a critical look at the equally patriarchal environmental establishment comparing the work of the official environmental movement grounded in masculine thought with the smaller scale direct actions taken by women driven to protect their homes and communities Earth Follies represents an incisive and utterly convincing feminist critique of our environmental crises and offers radical and productive priorities for the environmental agenda Ecological Politics Greta

Gaard,1998 An illuminating account of two interconnected social movements from their grassroots origins in the 1970s to the 1996 Green presidential campaign Feminism And Philosophy Nancy Tuana,Rosemarie Putnam Tong,2018-02-06 The past twenty years have seen an explosion of work by feminist philosophers and several surveys of this work have documented the richness of the many different ways of doing feminist philosophy But this major new anthology is the first broad and inclusive selection of the most important work in this field There are many unanswered questions about the future of feminist philosophy Which of the many varieties of feminist philosophy will last and which will fade away What kinds of accommodations will be possible with mainstream non feminist philosophy Which will separate themselves and flourish on their own To what extent will feminists change the topics philosophers address To what extent will they change the very way in which philosophy is done However these questions are answered it is clear that feminist philosophy is having and will continue to have a major impact on the discipline of philosophy This volume is the first to allow the scholar the student and other interested readers to sample this diverse literature and to ponder these questions for themselves Organized around nine traditional types of feminist philosophy Feminism and Philosophy is an imaginatively edited volume that will stimulate readers to explore many new pathways of understanding It marks a defining moment in feminist philosophy and it will be an essential text for philosophers and for feminist theorists in many other fields

Ethics and Forestry Peter C. List, 2000 During the past twenty five years North American forestry has received increasingly vigorous scrutiny Critics including the environmentalists environmental scientists representatives of public interest groups and many individual citizens have expressed concerns about forestry's basic assumptions and methods as well as its practical outcomes Criticism has centered on such issues as the exploitation of forests for timber production the reduction and fragmentation of old growth habitats the destruction of biodiversity the degradation of grasslands through grazing practices lack of government attention to recreation facilities silvicultural methods like clearcutting and the use of herbicides and pesticides the exportation of industrial forestry techniques to other parts of the world and the use of public monies to provide services for private resource companies as in the creation of logging roads This rising tide of public scrutiny has led many foresters to suspect that their contract with society to manage forests using their best professional judgment had been undermined Some of these professionals as well as some of their critics have begun to reexamine their old beliefs and to look for new ways of practicing forestry Part of this reflective process has entailed new directions in environmental ethics and environmental philosophy This reader brings together some of the new thinking in this area Here students of the applied environmental and natural resource sciences as well as the interested general reader will discover a rich sampling of writings in environmental ethics and philosophy as they apply to forestry Readings focus on basic ethical systems in forestry and forest management philosophical issues in forestry ethics codes of ethics in forestry and related natural resource sciences such as fisheries science and wildlife biology Aldo Leopold's land ethic in forestry ethical advocacy and whistleblowing in government resource agencies the ethics of new forestry ecoforestry and public debate in forestry as well as ethical issues in global forestry such as the responsibilities of forest corporations environmentalists and individual wood consumers This volume contains materials from the founders of forestry ethics such as Bernhard Fernow Gifford Pinchot John Muir and Aldo Leopold from such organizations as the Society of American Foresters the Wildlife Society the American
