Reclaiming Cognition Rafael E. Núñez, Rafael Núñez, Walter J. Freeman, 1999 Traditional cognitive science cognitivism is Cartesian in the sense that it takes as fundamental the distinction between the mind and the world This leads to the claim that cognition is representational and best explained by classical AI and computational theory The authors in this volume develop a critique of cognitivism and introduce an alternative approach which owes more to evolutionary biology embodied robotics phenomenology and dynamical systems

The Myth of Research-Based Policy and Practice Martyn Hammersley, 2013-03-13 Martyn Hammersley s provocative new text interrogates the complex relationship between research policymaking and practice against the background of the evidence based practice movement Addressing a series of probing questions this book reflects on the challenge posed by the idea that social research can directly serve policymaking and practice Key questions explored include Is scientific research evidence based What counts as evidence for evidence based practice Is social measurement possible and is it necessary What are the criteria by which qualitative research should be judged The book also discusses the case for action research the nature of systematic reviews proposals for interpretive reviews and the process of qualitative synthesis Highly readable and undeniably relevant this book is a valuable resource for both academics and professionals involved with research

Embodied Communication in Humans and Machines Ipke Wachsmuth, Manuela Lenzen, Günther Knoblich, 2008-09-04 When people communicate face to face they don t just exchange verbal information Rather communication encompasses the whole body Communication partners synchronize their body sway and mimic or imitate each other s body postures and actions They produce a multitude of manual and facial gestures that help to illustrate what is being said show how communication partners feel or or reveal verbal deception Moreover face to face communication takes place in shared contexts where partners jointly attend and refer to the same objects often while working on joint tasks such as carrying a table or repairing a car together Traditionally communication research has neglected these parts of communication using the engineering model of signal transmission as the main theoretical metaphor This book takes a new look at recent empirical findings in the cognitive and neurosciences showing that the traditional approach is insufficient and presenting a new interdisciplinary perspective the Embodied Communication perspective The core claim of the Embodied Communication perspective is that human communication involves parallel and highly interactive couplings between communication partners These couplings range from low level systems for performing and understanding instrumental actions like the mirror system to higher systems that interpret symbols in a cultural context The book can also serve as a guide for engineers who construct artificial agents and robots that should be able to interact with humans Being Alongside Alf Coles, 2013-06-13 How do you establish a classroom culture in which students routinely conjecture and think mathematically How do you establish a way of working with teachers using video in which discussion supports professional development The present book offers answers to these questions through an in depth enactivist study of one exceptional teacher in one innovative mathematics department in the UK The book reveals some striking parallels between working to support students mathematical thinking and working to support teacher learning A case is made for the importance of metacommunication in both contexts communication about the communications that are occurring For example there is compelling evidence from a classroom that metacommunication linked to the words conjecture and becoming a mathematician supports student metacognition and mathematical thinking In working with teachers or students offering these powerful metacommunications seems to require a heightened listening With a heightened listening attention is placed not just in what is said but in what kind of a thing is said with the teacher or facilitator being alongside the individuals in the wider group Read this book if you re a teacher for insights into how one teacher establishes a classroom culture where her children are doing mathematics being mathematicians and reflect on what you want in your own classroom Read this book if you re a teacher educator to reflect on parallels between teaching and running professional development sessions particularly using video If you do not fit in either of these categories read this book and use stories in your life Laurinda Brown University of Bristol New Directions in Third Wave Human-Computer Interaction: Volume 2 - Methodologies Michael Filimowicz, Veronika Tzankova, 2018-06-27 This is the first extensive compilation documenting contemporary third wave HCI covering key methodological developments at the leading edge of human computer interactions Now in its second decade as a major current of HCI research the third wave integrates insights from the humanities and social sciences to emphasize human dimensions beyond workplace efficiency or cognitive capacities Where the earliest HCI work has been strongly based on the concept of human machine coupling which expanded to workplace collaboration as computers came into mainstream professional use today HCI can connect to almost any human experience because there are new applications for every aspect of daily life Volume 2 Methodologies covers methodological approaches grounded in autoethnography empathy based design crowdsourcing psychometrics user engagement speculative design somatics embodied cognition peripheral practices and transdisciplinarity Computational Science - ICCS 2001 Vassil N. sciences such as physics chemistry life sciences and engineering arts and humanitarian fields along with software developers and vendors to discuss problems and solutions in the area to identify new issues and to shape future directions for research as well as to help industrial users apply various advanced computational techniques The Hand, an Organ of the Mind Zdravko Radman, 2013-05-10 Theoretical and empirical accounts of the interconnectedness between the manual and the mental suggest that the hand can be understood as a cognitive instrument Cartesian inspired dualism enforces a theoretical distinction between the motor and the cognitive and locates the mental exclusively in the head This collection focusing on the hand challenges this dichotomy offering theoretical and empirical perspectives on the interconnectedness and interdependence of the manual and mental The contributors explore the possibility that the hand far from being the merely mechanical executor of preconceived mental plans possesses its own know how enabling enhanced beings to navigate the natural social and cultural world without engaging propositional thought consciousness and deliberation The contributors consider not only broad philosophical questions ranging from the nature of embodiment enaction and the extended mind to the phenomenology of agency but also such specific issues as touching grasping gesturing sociality and simulation They show that the capacities of the hand include perception on its own and in association with other modalities action extended cognition social interaction and communication Taken together their accounts offer a handbook of cutting edge research exploring the ways that the manual shapes and reshapes the mental and creates conditions for embodied agents to act in the world Contributors Matteo Baccarini Andrew J Bremner Massimiliano L Cappuccio Andy Clark Jonathan Cole Dorothy Cowie Natalie Depraz Rosalyn Driscoll Harry Farmer Shaun Gallagher Nicholas P Holmes Daniel D Hutto Angelo Maravita Filip Mattens Richard Menary Jesse J Prinz Zdravko Radman Matthew Ratcliffe Etienne B Roesch Stephen V Shepherd Susan A J Stuart Manos Tsakiris Michael Wheeler Contemporary Pragmatism Issue 2 John R. contests the new sociology of nature It moves beyond existing debates by presenting new social theory and working across current fields of interest addressing the debate on new genetics and genomics taking human biology seriously and the issues of interdisciplinarity that are likely to arise in longer term attempts to work across the social and natural world Nature and Sociology will be of great interest to students of a variety of disciplines including sociology and social science human geography social and biological anthropology and the natural sciences Essays on Neuroscience and Political Theory F. Vander Valk, 2013-03-01 The past 20 years have seen increasingly bold claims emanating from the field of neuroscience Advances in medical imaging brain modelling and interdisciplinary cognitive science have forced us to reconsider the nature of social cultural and political activities This collection of essays is the first to explore the relationship between neuroscience and political theory with a view to examining what connections can be made and which claims represent a bridge too far The book is divided into three parts Part I places neuroscience as a social and political practice into historical context Part II weaves together the insights from contemporary neuroscience with the wisdom of major figures in the history of political thought Part III considers how neuroscience can inform contemporary debates about a range of issues in political theory This work brings together scholars who are sceptical about the possibility of integrating neuroscience and political theory with proponents of a neuroscience informed approach to thinking about political and social life The result is a timely and wide ranging collection of essays about the role that our brain might play in the life of the body politic It should be essential reading for all those with an interest in the cutting edge of political theory Social Dreaming, Associative Thinking and Intensities of Affect Julian Manley, 2018-08-23 This book describes a way of sharing dreams in a group called social dreaming It explores how the sharing of real night time dreams in a group can offer information on and insight into ourselves and the worlds we live in and share It investigates how we can turn dream images and ideas and feelings that arise from these images into conscious thought before describing the ways in which these can be used Using a background of the psychosocial combined with a philosophical lens influenced by the work of Gilles Deleuze Julian Manley shows how social dreaming can be understood as a Deleuzian rhizome of affects a web or a root design where things interconnect in a random and spontaneous fashion rather than in a sequential or linear way He illustrates how social dreaming can link dreams together into a collage of images and compares this to the rhizome where clusters of emotional intensity which emerge from the dream images weave and interconnect with other clusters forming a web of interlinked dream images and emotions From the basis of this rhizome emerges an interpretation of social dreaming as a body without organs and the social dreaming matrix as a smooth space where meanings emerge from the way these images form connections and come and go according to our emotions at any particular moment Advances in Frame Semantics Mirjam Fried, Kiki Nikiforidou, 2013-12-15 This volume presents some of the latest research in Frame Semantics including work in computational lexicography as developed within the FrameNet project Using varied material from English Italian and Japanese the contributions collectively expand the theoretical conceptual and computational apparatus of Frame semantics by studying a range of issues concerning not only lexical structure associated with cognitive frames but also the less studied interactional frames and their relationship to grammatical organization While addressing a number of linguistic phenomena such as verbs of visual perception metaphoric language subordinating connectives paraphrasing honorifics certain pragmatic particles basic speech acts and the semantic structuring of legal texts the analyses also highlight the broader question of integrating frames within rich lexical and grammatical descriptions whether in the context of lexicon building resources models for knowledge representation experimental modeling of language acquisition and processing conceptual metaphor theory paraphrase research or the communicative grounding of linguistic structure Originally published in Constructions and Frames Vol 3 1 2011 and Vol 2 2 2010

Buddhist Thought and Applied Psychological Research D.K. Nauriyal, Michael S. Drummond, Y.B. Lal, 2006-08-21 Written by leading scholars and including a foreword by the Dalai Lama this book explores the interface between Buddhist studies and the uses of Buddhist principles and practices in psychotherapy and consciousness studies The contributors present a compelling collection of articles that illustrate the potential of Buddhist informed social sciences in contemporary society including new insights into the nature of human consciousness The book examines the origins and expressions of Buddhist thought and how it is now being utilized by psychologists and social scientists and also discusses the basic tenets of Buddhism and contemporary Buddhist based empirical research in the psychological sciences Further emphasis is placed on current trends in the areas of clinical and cognitive psychology and on the Mahayana Buddhist understanding of consciousness with reference to certain developments in consciousness studies and physics A welcome addition to the current literature the works in this remarkable volume ably demonstrate how Buddhist principles can be used to develop a deeper understanding of the human condition and behaviours that lead to a balanced and fulfilling life

New Impulses in Word-Formation Susan Olsen, 2016-10-31 This special issue entitled New Impulses in Word Formation demonstrates in thirteen individual empirically oriented case studies how the methods gleaned from newer theoretical models optimality theory construction grammar cognitive grammar distributive morphology parallel architecture as well as from the linguistic sub disciplines of psycholinguistics neurolinguistics corpus linguistics and computational linguistics can be applied lucratively to the field of word formation The individual contributions are from a team of international linguists and deal with a broad spectrum of interests divided almost equally between the two major areas of word formation derivation and composition

Challenging the Qualitative-Quantitative Divide Barry Cooper, Judith Glaesser, Roger Gomm, Martyn Hammersley, 2012-03-08 This book challenges the divide between qualitative and quantitative approaches that is now institutionalized within social science Rather than suggesting the mixing of methods Challenging the Qualitative Quantitative Divide provides a thorough interrogation of the arguments and practices characteristic of both sides of the divide focusing on how well they address the common problems that all social research faces particularly as regards causal analysis The authors identify some fundamental weaknesses in both quantitative and qualitative approaches and explore whether case focused analysis for instance in the form of Qualitative Comparative Analysis Analytic Induction Grounded Theorising or Cluster Analysis can bridge the gap between the two sides Contemporary Stylistics Marina Lambrou, Peter Stockwell, 2010-04-21

Handbook of Cognitive Science Paco Calvo, Antoni Gomila, 2008-08-15 The Handbook of Cognitive Science provides an overview of recent developments in cognition research relying upon non classical approaches Cognition is explained as the continuous interplay between brain body and environment without relying on classical notions of computations and representation to explain cognition The handbook serves as a valuable companion for readers interested in foundational aspects of cognitive science and neuroscience and the philosophy of mind The handbook begins with an introduction to embodied cognitive science and then breaks up the chapters into separate sections on conceptual issues formal approaches embodiment in perception and action embodiment from an artificial perspective embodied meaning and emotion and consciousness Contributors to the book represent research overviews from around the globe including the US UK Spain Germany Switzerland France Sweden and the Netherlands The Poetics of Time - Metaphors and Blends in Language and Literature Anna Piata, 2018-01-15 How does the concept of time elusive and inconceivable as it may be lend itself to verbal creativity Is it possible to trace something like a poetics of time This book embarks on this endeavor initiated by the assumption that verbal creativity can shed some new light on our understanding of time challenging everyday linguistic patterns and manipulating mental representations in unforeseen ways Drawing on empirical evidence from Modern Greek poetry the book offers a unified account of time conceptualization along a continuum of various degrees of non conventionality It also shows unlike what has been traditionally assumed in the literature that creativity in the expression of time is not limited to metaphor but extends to other figurative tropes that are perhaps specific to poetry Poetry thus transpires as an ideal testing frame for exploring temporal cognition and meaning construction alike
