Reclaiming The City:

Women Reclaiming the City Tigran Haas, 2023-04-04 The originality of Women Reclaiming the City lies not only in the variety of themes being presented but also in the variety of all these different highly respected women researchers This book is the first in which current societal themes revolving around urbanism architecture and city planning are put forth solely through female perspectives It reveals the importance of having female lenses on certain societal debates Twenty five leading female urban scholars draw on principles concepts and positions that are foundational to other frameworks and fields specifically critical studies indigenous and ethnic studies postcolonial theory queer theory feminist theory progressive urban theory social ecology urban planning and design architecture urban economics and urban social geography landscape urbanism new urbanism heritage management and urbanism political ecology and cultural studies to present alternatives to the current classical theories and conceptualizations that have failed to engage a truly intersectional analysis of dominant city and urban discourses policies and practices The book is intended for scholars of urban studies policy makers and city planning professionals Reclaiming the City Peter Eugen Jurmala, 1994 Reclaiming the City Andy

Coupland, 2017-09-11 Mixed use development is about retaining or creating a mix of different uses in cities or neighbourhoods The trend in UK development has been towards specialisation and areas with single uses Increasing the mix of uses is thought to reduce the need to travel lower the likelihood of crime improve the ambience and attractiveness of areas and contribute to the sustainability of cities Reclaiming the City Boglarka Zajzon, 2024 Reflections on 21st Century

Human Habitats in India Mahabir S. Jaglan, Rajeshwari, 2021-07-31 This book highlights various dimensions of human habitats in 21st Century India The human habitats in the country are marked by perceptible inequality in social and economic spheres This is occurring in tandem with rapid socio economic transformation across both rural and urban landscapes There is a plurality of transformative characteristics in terms of social and economic classes gender and space Inequality in access to natural resources such as land and water is still a big factor in socio economic differentiation in rural habitats This constructs a pedestal of unequal opportunities and access to basic human necessities such as healthcare education potable water and sanitation Human habitats experiencing socio spatial segregation and exclusion based on caste community and gender are detrimental in formation of a civil society and its sustainability in long terms The ideal situation for this would be formation of an inclusive society that celebrates age old socio cultural diversities reduces inequalities and reveres composite culture The Natural City Stephen B. Scharper, Ingrid Leman-Stefanovic, 2012-01-01 Urban and natural environments are often viewed as entirely separate entities human settlements as the domain of architects and planners and natural areas as untouched wilderness This dichotomy continues to drive decision making in subtle ways but with the mounting pressures of global climate change and declining biodiversity it is no longer viable New technologies are promising to provide renewable energy sources and greener designs but real change will require a deeper shift in values attitudes and perceptions A timely and important collection The Natural City explores how to integrate the natural environment into healthy urban centres from philosophical religious socio political and planning perspectives Recognizing the need to better link the humanities with public policy The Natural City offers unique insights for the development of an alternative vision of urban life Renewing the City Robert D. Lupton, 2005-07-08 Community developer and urban activist Robert D Lupton looks to the Old Testament example of Nehemiah as a role model for community transformation and renewal Multilingualism and History Aneta Pavlenko, 2023-04-27 Shattering the cliché our world is more multilingual than ever before this book offers the first comprehensive history of our multilingual past The American City Arthur Hastings Grant, Harold Sinley Battenheim, 1920 The Routledge Handbook of Translation and the City Tong King Lee, 2021-06-27 The Routledge Handbook of Translation and the City is the first multifaceted and cross disciplinary overview of how cities can be read through the lens of translation and how translation studies can be enriched by an understanding of the complex dynamics of the city Divided into four sections the chapters are authored by leading scholars in translation studies sociolinguistics and literary and cultural criticism They cover contexts from Brussels to Singapore and Melbourne to Cairo and topics from translation as resistance to translanguaging and urban design This volume explores the role of translation at critical junctures of a city's historical transformation as well as in the mundane intercultural moments of urban life and uncovers the trope of the translational city in writing This Handbook is critical reading for researchers scholars and advanced students in translation studies linguistics and urban studies Cities around the World Jing Luo, 2019-07-10 This two volume set offers a comprehensive overview of major challenges faced by cities worldwide in the 21st century and how cities in different geographic economic and political conditions are finding solutions to them This two volume encyclopedia examines ten critical issues that face cities across the globe today environmental and societal struggles that affect the daily lives of city dwellers Readers will gain a better understanding of our global neighbors and will be able to use this book in order to compare and contrast different approaches to critical issues in our world Volume One examines employment and jobs energy and sustainability green spaces housing and infrastructure and migration and demographic changes Volume Two discusses pollution schools traffic and transportation violence corruption and organized crime and waste management Each issue begins with an introduction providing an overview of the issue from a global perspective Following the introduction are ten alphabetically arranged world city profiles of cities that are struggling with the issue and cities that have found innovative solutions to deal with the crisis The profiles explain how the problem came to be consequences inhabitants face such as compromised health limited access to education and high taxes with low wages and failed and successful initiatives taken by city management From the Ground Up Alison Sant, 2022-01-11 For decades American cities have experimented with ways to remake themselves in response to climate change These efforts often driven by grassroots activism offer valuable lessons for transforming the places we live In From the Ground Up Local Efforts to Create Resilient Cities design expert

Alison Sant focuses on the unique ways in which US cities are working to mitigate and adapt to climate change while creating equitable and livable communities. She shows how from the ground up we are raising the bar to make cities places in which we don't just survive but where all people have the opportunity to thrive. The efforts discussed in the book demonstrate how urban experimentation and community based development are informing long term solutions. Sant shows how US cities are reclaiming their streets from cars, restoring watersheds, growing forests and adapting shorelines to improve people's lives while addressing our changing climate. The best examples of this work bring together the energy of community activists, the organization of advocacy groups, the power of city government and the reach of federal environmental policy. Sant presents 12 case studies drawn from research and over 90 interviews with people who are working in these communities to make a difference. For example, advocacy groups in Washington DC are expanding the urban tree canopy and offering job training in the growing sector of urban forestry. In New York, transit agencies are working to make streets safer for cyclists and pedestrians while shortening commutes. In San Francisco, community activists are creating shoreline parks while addressing historic environmental injustice. From the Ground Up is a call to action. When we make the places we live more climate resilient, we need to acknowledge and address the history of social and racial injustice. Advocates, non-profit organizations, community based groups and government officials will find examples of how to build alliances to support and embolden this vision together. Together we can build cities that will be resilient to the challenges ahead.
