Gutiérrez, 2010-05-01 Using interdisciplinary performance studies and cultural studies frameworks Laura G. Gutiérrez examines the cultural representation of queer sexuality in the contemporary cultural production of Mexican female and Chicana performance and visual artists In particular she locates the analytical lenses of feminist theory and queer theory in a central position to interrogate Mexican female dissident sexualities in transnational public culture This is the first book length study to wed performance studies and queer theory in examining the performative performance work of important contemporary Mexicana and Chicana cultural workers It proposes that the creations of several important artists Chicana visual artist Alma Lopez the Mexican political cabareteras Astrid Hadad Jesusa Rodríguez Liliana Felipe and Regina Orozco the Chicana performance artist Nao Bustamante and the Mexican video artist Ximena Cuevas unsettle heterosexual national culture In doing so they are not only challenging heterosexist and nationalist discourses head on but are also participating in the construction of a queer world making project Treating the notion of discomfort as a productive category in these projects advances feminist and queer theories by offering an insightful critical movement suggesting that queer worlds are simultaneously spaces of desire fear and hope Gutiérrez demonstrates how arenas formerly closed to female performers are now providing both an artistic outlet and a powerful political tool that crosses not only geographic borders but social sexual political and class boundaries as well and deconstructs the relationships among media hierarchies of power and the cultures of privilege      Museum Culture Daniel J. Sherman, 1994 Museums display much more than artifacts Museum Culture makes us on a tour through the complex of ideas values and symbols that pervade and shape the practice of exhibiting today Bringing together a broad range of perspectives from history art history critical theory and sociology the contributors to this new collection argue that museums have become a central institution and metaphor in contemporary society Discussing exhibition histories and practice in Western Europe the former Soviet Union Israel and the United States the authors explore the ways in which museums assign meaning to art through various kinds of exhibitions and display strategies examining the political implications of these strategies and the forms of knowledge they invoke and construct The collection also discusses alternative exhibition forms the involvement of some museums with the more spectacular practices of mass media culture and looks at how museums construct their public      Landscape Theory Rachel DeLue, James Elkins, 2010-10-28 Artistic representations of landscape are studied widely in areas ranging from art history to geography to sociology This book brings together more than fifty scholars from many disciplines to establish new ways of thinking about landscape in art      Dialectical Passions Gail Day, 2010-12-22 Representing a new generation of theorists reaffirming the radical dimensions of art Gail Day launches a bold critique of late twentieth century art theory and its often reductive analysis of cultural objects Exploring core debates in discourses on art from the New Left to theories of critical postmodernism and beyond Day counters the belief that recent tendencies in art fail to be adequately critical She also challenges the political inertia that results from these conclusions Day organizes her defense around critics who have engaged substantively with emancipatory thought and social process T J Clark Manfredo Tafuri Fredric Jameson Benjamin H D Buchloh and Hal Foster among others She maps the tension between radical dialectics and left nihilism and assesses the interpretation and internalization of negation in art theory Chapters confront the claim that exchange and equivalence have subsumed the use value of cultural objects and with it critical distance and interrogate the proposition of completed nihilism and the metropolis put forward in the politics of Italian operaismo Day covers the debates on symbol and allegory waged within the context of 1980s art and their relation to the writings of Walter Benjamin and Paul de Man She also examines common conceptions of mediation totality negation and the politics of anticipation A necessary unsettling of received wisdoms Dialectical Passions recasts emancipatory reflection in aesthetics art and architecture

Downcast Eyes Martin Jay, 1993 Long considered the noblest of the senses vision has increasingly come under critical scrutiny by a wide range of thinkers who question its dominance in Western culture These critics of vision especially prominent in twentieth century France have challenged its allegedly superior capacity to provide access to the world They have also criticized its supposed complicity with political and social oppression through the promulgation of spectacle and surveillance Martin Jay turns to this discourse surrounding vision and explores its often contradictory implications in the work of such influential figures as Jean Paul Sartre Maurice Merleau Ponty Michel Foucault Jacques Lacan Louis Althusser Guy Debord Luce Irigaray Emmanuel Levinas and Jacques Derrida Jay begins with a discussion of the theory of vision from Plato to Descartes then considers its role in the French Enlightenment before turning to its status in the culture of modernity From consideration of French Impressionism to analysis of Georges Bataille and the Surrealists Roland Barthes's writings on photography and the film theory of Christian Metz Jay provides lucid and fair minded accounts of thinkers and ideas widely known for their difficulty His book examines the myriad links between the interrogation of vision and the pervasive antihumanist antimodernist and counter enlightenment tenor of much recent French thought Refusing however to defend the dominant visual order he calls instead for a plurality of scopic regimes Certain to generate controversy and discussion throughout the humanities and social sciences Downcast Eyes will consolidate Jay's reputation as one of today's premier cultural and intellectual historians

Globalizing the Avant-Garde David Ayers, Joana Cunha Leal, Benedikt Hjartarson, Margarida Brito Alves, 2024-12-16 How has the process of globalization shaped artistic practices on the one hand and art history and theory on the other The contributions in this volume approach this question from a range of perspectives taking into account the role of travel for example or practitioners increasing knowledge of other cultures art's increasing awareness of itself as existing on a global level literary translation the advance of technology and the ever changing grand narratives of art history As well as reflections on European avant gardes and neo avant gardes the collection features discussions of Japan Latin America Africa Asia and the Pacific As a whole the volume engages with broader current discourses about cultural globalization and features input from leading scholars around the world as well as some important novel interventions by early career researchers The authors not only make a major contribution to the evolution of avant garde studies but also offer valuable original points of view to art history and to the cultural theory of globalization more broadly

Developed as an exploratory study of artworks by artists of Singapore and Malaysia Retrospective attempts to account for contemporary artworks that engage with history These are artworks that reference past events or narratives of the nation and its art Through the examination of a selection of artworks produced between 1990 and 2012 Retrospective is both an attribution and an analysis of a historiographical aesthetic within contemporary art practice It considers that by their method and in their assembly these artworks perform more than a representation of a historical past Instead they confront history and its production laying bare the nature and designs of the historical project via their aesthetic project Positing an interdisciplinary approach as necessary for understanding the historiographical as aesthetic Retrospective considers not only historical and aesthetic perspectives but also the philosophical by way of ontology in order to broaden its exposition beyond the convention of historical and contextual interpretation of art Yet in associating these artworks with a historiographical aesthetic this exposition may be regarded as a historiographical exercise in itself affirming the significance of these artworks for the history of Singapore and Malaysia In short which history rarely is Retrospective is about the art of historicisation and the historicisation of art

Re-envisioning the Contemporary Art Canon Ruth E Iskin, 2016-12-08 Re-envisioning the Contemporary Art Canon Perspectives in a Global World seeks to dissect and interrogate the nature of the present day art field which has experienced dramatic shifts in the past 50 years In discussions of the canon of art history the notion of inclusiveness both at the level of rhetoric and as a desired practice is on the rise and gradually replacing talk of exclusion which dominated critiques of the canon up until two decades ago The art field has dramatically if insufficiently changed in the half century since the first protests and critiques of the exclusion of others from the art canon With increased globalization and shifting geopolitics the art field is expanding beyond its Euro American focus as is particularly evident in the large scale international biennales now held all over the globe Are canons and counter canons still relevant Can they be re-envisioned rather than merely revised Following an introduction that discusses these issues thirteen newly commissioned essays present case studies of consecration in the contemporary art field and three commissioned discussions present diverse positions on issues of the canon and consecration processes today This volume will be of interest to instructors and students of contemporary art art history and museum and curatorial studies

Wittgenstein's Ladder Marjorie Perloff, 1996 Austere and uncompromising the philosopher Ludwig Wittgenstein had no use for the avant garde art works of his own time He refused to formulate an aesthetic declaring that one can no more define the beautiful than determine what sort of coffee tastes good And yet many of the writers of our time have understood as academic theorists generally have not that Wittgenstein is their philosopher How do we resolve this paradox Marjorie Perloff our foremost critic of twentieth century poetry argues that Wittgenstein has provided writers with a radical new aesthetic a key to recognizing the inescapable strangeness of ordinary language Wittgenstein's ladder is an apt figure for this radical aesthetic and not just in its ordinariness as an object The movement up this ladder can never be more than what Wittgenstein's contemporary Gertrude Stein called Beginning again and again Wittgenstein shows us too that we cannot climb the same ladder twice the use of language the context in which words and sentences appear defines their meaning which changes with every repetition Wittgenstein's aesthetic brooks no theory no essentialism no metalanguage only a practice a mode of operation fragmentary and elliptical
