Reconstructing Proto Afroasiatic Proto Afrasian:

Reconstructing Proto-Afroasiatic (Proto-Afrasian) Christopher Ehret, 1995-08-30 This work provides the first truly comprehensive and systematic reconstruction of proto Afroasiatic proto Afrasian It rigorously applies throughout the established canon and techniques of the historical comparative method It also fully incorporates the most up to date evidence from the distinctive African branches of the family Cushitic Chadic and Omotic Using concrete and specific evidence and argument the author proposes full vowel and consonant reconstructions and a provisional reckoning of tone Each aspect of these reconstructions is substantiated in detail in an extensive etymological vocabulary of more than 1000 roots The results while confirming some previous views on proto Afroasiatic proto Afrasian revise or overturn many others and add much that is new

Reconstructing Proto-Afroasiatic Christopher Ehret, 1992 Ancient Egyptian and Afroasiatic María Victoria Almansa-Villatoro, Silvia Štubňová Nigrelli, 2023-08-23 By challenging assumptions regarding the proximity between Egyptian and Semitic Languages Ancient Egyptian and Afroasiatic provides a fresh approach to the relationships and similarities between Ancient Egyptian Semitic and Afroasiatic languages This in depth analysis includes a re examination of the methodologies deployed in historical linguistics and comparative grammar a morphological study of Ancient Egyptian and critical comparisons between Ancient Egyptian and Semitic as well as careful considerations of environmental factors and archaeological evidence These contributions offer a reassessment of the Afroasiatic phylum which is based on the relations between Ancient Egyptian and the other Afroasiatic branches This volume illustrates the advantages of viewing Ancient Egyptian in its African context In addition to the editors the contributors to this collection include Shiferaw Assefa Michael Avina Vit Bubenik Leo Depuydt Christopher Ehret Zygmunt Frajzyngier J Lafayette Gaston Tiffany Gleason John Huehnergard Andrew Kitchen Elsa Or al Chelsea Sanker Lameen Souag Andr as Stauder Deven N Vyas Aren Wilson Wright and Jean Winand

Language Contacts in Prehistory Henning Andersen, 2003 Every language includes layers of lexical and grammatical elements that entered it at different times in the more or less distant past Hence for periods preceding our earliest historical documentation linguistic stratigraphy the systematic study of such layers may yield information about the prehistory of a given tradition of speaking in a variety of ways For instance irregular phonological reflexes may be evidence of the convergence of diverse dialects in the formation of a language and layers of material from different source languages may form a record of changing cultural contacts in the past In this volume are discussed past problems and current advances in the stratigraphy of Indo European African Southeast Asian Australian Oceanic Japanese and Meso American languages

The Handbook of Language Contact Raymond Hickey, 2020-09-01 The second edition of the definitive reference on contact studies and linguistic change provides extensive new research and original case studies Language contact is a dynamic area of contemporary linguistic research that studies how language changes when speakers of different languages interact Accessibly structured into three sections The Handbook of Language Contact explores the role of contact studies within the field of linguistics the value of contact studies for language change research and the relevance of language contact for sociolinguistics This authoritative volume presents original findings and fresh research directions from an international team of prominent experts Thirty seven specially commissioned chapters cover a broad range of topics and case studies of contact from around the world Now in its second edition this valuable reference has been extensively updated with new chapters on topics including globalization language acquisition creolization code switching and genetic classification Fresh case studies examine Romance Indo European African Mayan and many other languages in both the past and the present Addressing the major issues in the field of language contact studies this volume Includes a representative sample of individual studies which re evaluate the role of language contact in the broader context of language and society Offers 23 new chapters written by leading scholars Examines language contact in different societies including many in Africa and Asia Provides a cross section of case studies drawing on languages across the world The Handbook of Language Contact Second Edition is an indispensable resource for researchers scholars and students involved in language contact language variation and change sociolinguistics bilingualism and language theory

Historical Linguistics and the Comparative Study of African Languages Gerrit J. Dimmendaal, 2011-06-08 This advanced historical linguistics course book deals with the historical and comparative study of African languages The first part functions as an elementary introduction to the comparative method involving the establishment of lexical and grammatical cognates the reconstruction of their historical development techniques for the subclassification of related languages and the use of language internal evidence more specifically the application of internal reconstruction Part II addresses language contact phenomena and the status of language in a wider cultural historical and ecological context Part III deals with the relationship between comparative linguistics and other disciplines In this rich course book the author presents valuable views on a number of issues in the comparative study of African languages more specifically concerning genetic diversity on the African continent the status of pidginised and creolised languages language mixing and grammaticalisation

The Black Sea Flood Question: Changes in Coastline, Climate and Human Settlement Valentina Yanko-Hombach, Allan S. Gilbert, Nicolae Panin, Pavel M. Dolukhanov, 2006-11-15

Stimulated by Noah's Flood Hypothesis proposed by W Ryan and W Pitman in which a catastrophic inundation of the Pontic basin was linked to the biblical story leading experts in Black Sea research including oceanography marine geology paleoclimate paleoenvironment archaeology and linguistic spread provide overviews of their data and interpretations obtained through empirical scientific approaches Among the contributors are many East European scientists whose work has rarely been published outside of Cyrillic Each of the 35 papers marshals its own evidence for or against the flood hypothesis No summary or overall resolution to the flood question is presented but instead access is provided to a broad range of interdisciplinary information that crosses previously impenetrable language barriers so that new work in the region can proceed with the benefit of a wider frame of reference The three fundamental scenarios describing the late glacial to Holocene rise in the level of the Black Sea catastrophic gradual and oscillating are presented in the early pages with the succeeding papers organized by geographic sector northern Ukraine western Moldova Romania and Bulgaria southern Turkey and eastern Georgia and Russia as well as three papers on the Mediterranean The volume thus brings together eastern and western scholarship to share research findings and perspectives on a controversial subject In addition appendices are included containing some 600 radiocarbon dates from the Pontic region obtained by USSR and western laboratories

A Descriptive Study of the Modern Wolaytta Language [REDACTED],2020-02-20      The Languages and Linguistics of Africa Tom Güldemann,2018-09-10 This innovative handbook takes a fresh look at the currently underestimated linguistic diversity of Africa the continent with the largest number of languages in the world It covers the major domains of linguistics offering both a representative picture of Africa s linguistic landscape as well as new and at times unconventional perspectives The focus is not so much on exhaustiveness as on the fruitful relationship between African and general linguistics and the contributions the two domains can make to each other This volume is thus intended for readers with a specific interest in African languages and also for students and scholars within the greater discipline of linguistics      Egypt

at Its Origins Stan Hendrickx,2004 This volume published in memory of Barbara Adams presents 57 contributions by authors from 16 different countries and contains the results of the latest research on Predynastic and Early Dynastic Egypt In addition to papers originally presented at the 2002 conference in Krakow there are the invited contributions by the friends and colleagues of Barbara Adams including several on new discoveries from and thoughts about the site of Hierakonpolis

Archaeology of African Plant Use Chris J Stevens,Sam Nixon,Mary Anne Murray,Dorian Q Fuller,2016-07-01 The first major synthesis of African archaeobotany in decades this book focuses on Paleolithic archaeobotany and the relationship between agriculture and social complexity It explores the effects that plant life has had on humans as they evolved from primates through the complex societies of Africa including Egypt the Buganda Kingdom southern African polities and other regions With over 30 contributing scholars from 12 countries and extensive illustrations this volume is an essential addition to our knowledge of humanity s relationship with plants      The Synchronic and Diachronic Phonology of Ejectives Paul D. Fallon,2013-12-16 This study is the first book length examination of ejectives and their phonological patterning deepening the empirical understanding of ejectives and contributing to both phonological theory and to typologies of sound change

Archaeology, Language, and the African Past Roger Blench,2006-06-22 Archaeology Language and the African Past is an overview of theories and methods a fusion of African linguistics and archaeology Roger Blench provides a comprehensive look at the history of all African language families incorporating the latest linguistic classifications current evidence from archaeology genetic research and recorded history This original and definitive volume examines the economic culture of the continent _from major crops and plant life to animals and livestock_ from a multi dimensional perspective It provides students of linguistics archaeology and anthropology with a critical discussion on the history of African languages and the cultures they articulate      In Hot Pursuit of Language in Prehistory John D. Bengtson, 2008-12-03 Compiled in honor and celebration of veteran anthropologist Harold C Fleming this book contains 23 articles by anthropologists in the general sense from the four main disciplines of prehistory archaeology biogenetics paleoanthropology and genetic historical linguistics Because of Professor Fleming's major focus on language he founded the Association for the Study of Language in Prehistory and the journal Mother Tongue the content of the book is heavily tilted toward the study of human language its origins historical development and taxonomy Because of Fleming's extensive field experience in Africa some of the articles deal with African topics This volume is intended to exemplify the principle in the words of Fleming himself that each of the four disciplines is enriched when it combines with any one of the other four The authors are representative of the cutting edge of their respective fields and this book is unusual in including contributions from a wide range of anthropological fields rather than concentrating in any one of them      A Comparative Lexical Study of Qur'ānic Arabic Martin R.

Zammit, 2001 Printbegrnsninger Der kan printes 10 sider ad gangen og max 40 sider pr session      A Comparative Lexical Study of Qur'ānic Arabic Martin Zammit, 2020-11-11 This work does not aim to be an etymological dictionary of Qur'ānic Arabic nor does it attempt to suggest some new genetic classification of the Semitic languages Rather it offers insights into the internal lexical relationships attested in a number of Semitic varieties The work is based on a quantitative analysis of a substantial corpus of the Arabic lexicon with a view to investigating lexical relationships within a number of Semitic languages Qur'ānic Arabic is the source of a lexical mass comparison exercise involving Akkadian Ugaritic Aramaic Syriac Hebrew Phoenician Epigraphic South Arabian and Ge'ez Moreover the lexical links identified in this study are in themselves linguistic indicators of the various degrees of cultural proximity characterising the various Semitic languages      Semitic and Indo-European Saul Levin, 2002-10-24 This is a sequel to the author's Semitic and Indo-European The Principal Etymologies 1995 That volume provided the key examples of morphological correspondences between the Semitic and the Indo-European languages In this sequel the author analyzes correspondences of structure either within a certain group of languages or belonging to a distantly related group by looking at inflectional morphology case grammar and phonology Thus are uncovered the prehistoric means of oral communication linking the forerunners of ancient societies in Asia Africa and Europe as they talked about livestock or revealed some inner sentiment      Ancient Africa Christopher Ehret, 2024-11-05 A panoramic narrative that places ancient Africa on the stage of world history This book brings together archaeological and linguistic evidence to provide a sweeping global history of ancient Africa tracing how the continent played an important role in the technological agricultural and economic transitions of world civilization Christopher Ehret takes readers from the close of the last Ice Age some ten thousand years ago when a changing climate allowed for the transition from hunting and gathering to the cultivation of crops and raising of livestock to the rise of kingdoms and empires in the first centuries of the common era Ehret takes up the problem of how we discuss Africa in the context of global history combining results of multiple disciplines He sheds light on the rich history of technological innovation by African societies from advances in ceramics to cotton weaving and iron smelting highlighting the important contributions of women as inventors and innovators He shows how Africa helped to usher in an age of agricultural exchange exporting essential crops as well as new agricultural methods into other regions and how African traders and merchants led a commercial revolution spanning diverse regions and cultures Ehret lays out the deeply African foundations of ancient Egyptian culture beliefs and institutions and discusses early Christianity in Africa A monumental achievement by one of today's eminent scholars Ancient Africa offers vital new perspectives on our shared past explaining why we need to reshape our historical frameworks for understanding the ancient world as a whole

The Oxford Handbook of African Languages Rainer Vossen, Gerrit J. Dimmendaal, 2020-03-19 This book provides a comprehensive overview of current research in African languages drawing on insights from anthropological linguistics typology historical and comparative linguistics and sociolinguistics Africa is believed to host at least one third of the world's languages usually classified into four phyla Niger Congo Afro Asiatic Nilo Saharan and Khoisan which are then subdivided into further families and subgroupings This volume explores all aspects of research in the field beginning with chapters that cover the major domains of grammar and comparative approaches Later parts provide overviews of the phyla and subfamilies alongside grammatical sketches of eighteen representative African languages of diverse genetic affiliation The volume additionally explores multiple other topics relating to African languages and linguistics with a particular focus on extralinguistic issues language cognition and culture including colour terminology and conversation analysis language and society including language contact and endangerment language and history and language and orature This wide ranging handbook will be a valuable reference for scholars and students in all areas of African linguistics and anthropology and for anyone interested in descriptive documentary typological and comparative linguistics

Quantitative Approaches to Linguistic Diversity Søren Wichmann, Anthony Grant, 2012 Quantitative methods in linguistics which the protean American structuralist linguist Morris Swadesh introduced in the 1950s have become increasingly popular and have opened the world of languages to interdisciplinary approaches The papers collected here are the work not only of descriptive and historical linguists but also statisticians physicists and computer scientists They demonstrate the application of quantitative methods to the elucidation of linguistic prehistory on an unprecedented world wide scale providing cutting edge insights into issues of the linguistic correlates of subsistence strategies rates of birth and extinction of languages lexical borrowability the identification of language family homelands the assessment of genealogical relationships and the development of new phylogenetic methods appropriate for linguistic data Originally published in Diachronica 27 2 2010
