the Fight against Gender Violence Jane Freedman,2012-12-05 Gender based violence is a global phenomenon which affects millions worldwide However despite the increasing attention which is now paid to this violence by policy makers data seem to indicate that these efforts are not having as great an impact as may have been hoped In all countries of the world reports of gender related violence remain elevated whilst many incidents of such violence probably remain unreported due to fear of stigma or reprisals for those who are victims One of the problems in tackling gender based violence has been that for too long men have been ignored as part of the solution Men are often labelled as perpetrators of violence but they are perhaps too infrequently considered also as potential victims or as partners and actors in the fight against violence. Constructions of masculinities are not adequately studied to analyse how dominant forms of masculinities may contribute to cycles of violence and may also oppress and traumatise men themselves. This volume aims to address critically the issues of men, masculinity and gender based violence asking how men can be fully engaged in the prevention of gender based violence and how this engagement can strengthen prevention initiatives.

Coping with Life Crises Rudolf Moos, 2013-12-20 This book examines new developments in the area of human competence and coping behavior. It sets forth a conceptual framework that considers the interplay between environmental contexts and personal resources and their impact on how individuals cope with life transitions and crises. The selections cover the tasks confronted in varied life crises and describe the coping strategies employed in managing them. The material identifies the long term effects of such life events as divorce and bereavement as well as the way in which these stressors can promote personal growth and maturity. The book contains a broad selection of recent literature on coping and adaptation integrative commentaries that provide the background for each of the areas as well as conceptual linkages among them and an introductory overview that presents a general perspective on human competence and coping. Illustrative case examples are included. The first part of the book is organized chronologically according to developmental life transitions confronted by many people from the childhood years through adolescence: career choice and parenthood, divorce and remarriage, middle age and retirement and death and bereavement. The second part covers unusual life crises and other hazards that typically involve extreme stress such as man made and natural disasters and terrorism. The book highlights effective coping behavior among healthy individuals rather than psychological breakdown and psychiatric symptoms. The emphasis is on successful adaptation, the ability to cope with life transitions and crises and the process by which such is achieved.
