Woods,2009-01-05 This is a unique collection of leading examples of education grounded in alternative philosophies and cultures from initiatives to create more democratic schools through Quaker Buddhist Islamic Montessori and Steiner Waldorf schools to Maori and First Nations education in Canada and Palestinian Jewish schools in Israel Education 3-13 Mark Brundrett,Michael Bottery,Peter Silcock,Rosemary Webb,Neil Burton,Diane Duncan,Wei Zhang,2013-01-25 Primary education is one of the most important phases of learning but there remains a scarcity of in depth research on this vital topic However as the focus on improving outcomes increases there is a growing interest internationally in research that helps us to understand the best ways to help young children engage with the curriculum in order that they may have the best possible life chances This text helps to address these issues and consists of seminal articles derived from the forty year history of the journal Education 3 13 which can claim to be one of the most important and influential publications in its field The chapters included have been chosen carefully to represent a wide range of key topics in research on primary education and the text is sub divided into five sections each of which has been edited by leading academics who specialise in the topic under scrutiny The sections include Learning and teaching including the psychology and philosophy of primary education Key challenges in primary education including changes to the governance of schools and educational management and leadership The primary curriculum including Maths Science IT and Technology Education The primary curriculum including English Humanities and the Arts and Primary teachers work and professionalism Many of the contributions are written by seminal figures in academic research The text will be especially relevant to students and researchers engaged the study of primary education as well as to practitioners advisers and policy makers and will prove an invaluable resource for those wishing to gain an overview of research into primary education It is recommended especially for those who wish to understand the development of primary education and the many twists and turns in theory practice and policy that have influenced its development over the period of a generation Those who read the text will come across the origins of many of the ideas that continue to influence primary teaching today as well as very recent research on where we are now in this important subject area

A Civil Economy Severyn T. Bruyn, 2000-04-20 A civil society is one in which a democratic government and a market economy operate together The idea of the civil economy encompassing a democratic government and a market economy presumes that people can solve social problems within the market itself This book explores the relationship between the two examining the civil underpinnings of capitalism and investigating the way a civil economy evolves in history and is developed for the future by careful planning Severyn T Bruyn describes how people in three sectors government business and the Third Sector nonprofits and civil groups can develop an accountable self regulating profitable humane and competitive system of markets that could be described as a civil economy He examines how government officials can organize markets to reduce government costs how local leaders deal with global corporations that would unfairly exploit their community resources and how employees can become coparticipants in the development of human values in markets A Civil Economy is oriented to interdisciplinary studies of the economy assisting scholars in diverse fields such as business management sociology political science and economics in developing a common language to examine civic problems in the marketplace As an undergraduate text it evokes a mode of thought about the development of a self accountable system of markets Students learn to understand how the market economy becomes socially accountable and self reliant while remaining productive competitive and profitable Sveryn T Bruyn is Professor of Sociology Boston College

Bringing Schools into the 21st Century Guofang Wan, Dianne M. Gut, 2011-01-15 Shift happens Emerging technologies and globalization have resulted in political social and cultural changes These changes have a profound impact on all aspects of human life including education Yet while society has changed and continues to change schools are slow to keep up This book explores issues related to transforming and modernizing our educational systems including the impact of societal shifts on education the efforts at various levels to bring schools into the 21st century the identification of 21st century skills the reformation of the curriculum the creation of alternative models of schooling the innovative use of technology in education and many others It addresses questions like the following Should schools systems adapt to better meet the needs of tomorrow s world and how should this be accomplished How can society better prepare students for a changing and challenging modern world What skills do students need to lead successful lives and become productive citizens in the 21st century How can educators create learning environments that are relevant and meaningful for digital natives How can the school curriculum be made more rigorous to meet the needs of the 21st century This book encourages readers to transcend the limits of their own educational experience to think beyond familiar notions of schooling instruction and curriculum to consider how to best structure learning so that it will benefit future generations It encourages a deeper analysis of the existing education system and offers practical insights into future directions focused on preparing students with 21st century skills The Schools We Need Arthur W. Combs, 1991-10-07 This volume explores major reasons for the current need for educational reform and examines new assumptions for restructuring our public schools made necessary by modern advances in brain research new understandings about human behaviour and the healthy personality updated conceptions about how people learn and the changing nature of the future for which public schools must prepare the nation's youth Applied to the problems of reform these assumptions call for a bottom up rather than top down approach to change They require open patterns of thinking in place of closed ones and people oriented strategies for reform Creating Historic Preservation in the 21st Century de Teel Patterson Tiller, Richard D.
