Red Eve H. Rider Haggard, 2023-02-11 Reproduction of the original     The Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record, 1927     Publishers' Circular, 1922     British Books, 1908     The Hamilton Palace Libraries, 1882     Catalogue Sotheby, Wilkinson & Hodge, 1885     The Publishers Weekly, 1920     Red Sea Citizens Jonathan Miran, 2009-07-06 In the late 19th century the port of Massawa in Eritrea on the Red Sea was a thriving vibrant multiethnic commercial hub Red Sea Citizens tells the story of how Massawa rose to prominence as one of Northeast Africa's most important shipping centers Jonathan Miran reconstructs the social material religious and cultural history of this mercantile community in a period of sweeping change He shows how Massawa and its citizens benefited from migrations across the Indian Ocean the Arabian peninsula Egypt and the African interior Miran also notes the changes that took place in Massawa as traders did business and eventually settled By revealing the dynamic processes at play this book provides insight into the development of the Horn of Africa that extends beyond borders and boundaries nations and nationalism     The Publisher, 1916     Publishers' Circular and Booksellers' Record of British and Foreign Literature, 1901     Red Pedagogy Sandy Grande, 2015-09-28 This ground breaking text explores the intersection between dominant modes of critical educational theory and the socio political landscape of American Indian education Grande asserts that with few exceptions the matters of Indigenous people and Indian education have been either largely ignored or indiscriminately absorbed within critical theories of education Furthermore American Indian scholars and educators have largely resisted engagement with critical educational theory tending to concentrate instead on the production of historical monographs ethnographic studies tribally centered curricula and site based research Such a focus stems from the fact that most American Indian scholars feel compelled to address the socio economic urgencies of their own communities against which engagement in abstract theory appears to be a luxury of the academic elite While the author acknowledges the dire need for practical community based research she maintains that the global encroachment on Indigenous lands resources cultures and communities points to the equally urgent need to develop transcendent theories of decolonization and to build broad based coalitions     Book Sales, 1899     L'Argus du livre de collection, 1899     Book Sales of 1895[-97/98] Temple Scott, 1899     Catalogue Dawson's Book Shop, 1929     Book Prices: Used and Rare, 1994 Edward N.
