A Russian Doll & Other Stories Adolfo Bioy Casares, 1992-09-17 This collection of traditional and experimental stories by Argentinian novelist Bioy Casares The Adventures of a Photographer in La Plata offers sophisticated seamless prose as well as magical realism and biting political satire Publishers Weekly A Russian Doll and Other Stories is the ninth collection of short fiction by one of this century's premier Argentinian writers who with his fellow countrymen Julio Cortázar and Jorge Luis Borges helped change the world's perception of Latin American literature Bioy Casares's narratives are elegant and urbane his style precise and streamlined as he paces his characters through seriocomic traps of fate ensnared by love impelled by lust ambition or plain greed even metamorphosed by pharmaceuticals These are not stories in a psychological mode but like the image of the Russian doll of the title piece are carefully wrought congeries of intractable selves within selves Russian doll and other stories, A Adolfo Bioy Casares, 1992

Unfaithful Suzanne Jill Levine,2025-06-12 In this witty and incisive memoir Suzanne Jill Levine winner of the 2024 PEN Ralph Manheim Award for Translation establishes a new way of writing about a translator's life. Levine is a living legend in the translation world who credits her good fortune as a young translator to being in the right place at the right time beginning in the era of the Cuban revolution with growing interest in Latin America and its writers and unfolding in New York City in the turbulent 1960s and 1970s and beyond. In Unfaithful A Translator's Memoir, Levine interweaves her personal history and translation history in an important period. Levine analyzes how her openness to another culture and new experiences along with a knack for translating the most difficult Latin American novels and positive interactions with her authors took her from a modest New York background into a whole new literary and linguistic world. She also writes about how her friendship and then long relationship with Uruguayan writer and intellectual Emir Rodríguez Monegal helped her develop her career and how translating creatively subversive Guillermo Cabrera Infante and Manuel Puig taking on the task of making spoken Cuban and Argentine into a new literary language in translation was her true entry into the world of writing. It is now common for translation scholars to talk about the embodied nature of the act of translation. Levine fleshes out that embodiment in provocative detail with humor and style.

Latin American Mystery Writers Darrell B. Lockhart, 2004-03-30 Latin America has a rich literary tradition that is receiving growing amounts of attention. The body of Latin American mystery writing is especially vast and diverse. Because it is part of Latin American popular culture, it also reflects many of the social and cultural concerns of that region. This reference provides an overview of mystery fiction of Latin America. While many of the authors profiled have received critical attention, others have been relatively neglected. Included are alphabetically arranged entries on 54 writers, most of whom are from Argentina, Mexico, and Cuba. Every effort has been made to include balanced coverage of the few female mystery writers. Each entry is written by an expert contributor and includes a brief biography, a critical discussion of the writer's works, and primary and secondary bibliographies. The volume closes with a general bibliography of anthologies and criticism.

The Woman Who Pretended to Be Who She Was Wendy Doniger, 2005 Many cultures have myths about self-imitation stories about people who pretend to be someone else pretending to be them in effect masquerading as themselves. This great theme in literature and in life tells us that people put on masks to discover who they really are under the masks they usually wear so that the mask reveals rather than conceals the self beneath the self. In this book, noted scholar of Hinduism and mythology Wendy Doniger offers a cross-cultural exploration of the theme of self-impersonation whose widespread occurrence argues for both its literary power and its human value. The stories she considers range from ancient Indian literature through medieval European courtly literature and Shakespeare to Hollywood and Bollywood. They illuminate a basic human way of negotiating reality, illusion, identity, and authenticity, not to mention memory, amnesia, and the process of aging. Many of them involve marriage and adultery, for tales of sexual betrayal cut to the heart of the crisis of identity. These stories are extreme examples of what we common folk do unconsciously every day. Few of us actually put on masks that replicate our faces, but it is not uncommon for us to become travesties of ourselves particularly as we age and change We often slip carelessly across the permeable boundary between the un self conscious self indulgence of our most idiosyncratic mannerisms and the conscious attempt to give the people who know us personally or publicly the version of ourselves that they expect Myths of self imitation open up for us the possibility of multiple selves and the infinite regress of self discovery Drawing on a dizzying array of tales some fact some fiction The Woman Who Pretended to Be Who She Was is a fascinating and learned trip through centuries of culture guided by a scholar of incomparable wit and erudition Where There's Love, There's Hate Adolfo Bioy Casares, Silvina Ocampo, 2013-05-14 A witty yet gripping pastiche of murder mysteries set in an Argentine seaside resort peppered with literary allusions In seaside Bosque de Mar guests at the Hotel Central are struck by double misfortune the mysterious death of one of their party and an investigation headed by the physician writer and insufferable busybody Dr Humberto Huberman When quiet young translator Mary is found dead on the first night of Huberman's stay he quickly appoints himself leader of an inquiry that will see blame apportioned in turn to each and every guest including Mary's own sister and culminating in a wild wind blown reconnaissance mission to the nearby shipwreck the Joseph K Never before translated into English Where There's Love There's Hate is both genuinely suspenseful mystery fiction and an ingenious pastiche of the genre the only novel co written by two towering figures of Latin American literature Famously friends and collaborators of Jorge Luis Borges husband and wife Bioy Casares and Ocampo combine their gifts to produce a novel that's captivating unashamedly erudite and gloriously witty

Blood in Water 8 Short Stories Madeleine Watson, 2020-06-20 Between 2011 and 2014 I wrote eight short stories I had been writing stories since I was about six Weird scenarios would enter my head and I would feel compelled to write about them Blood in Water relates on Abby who makes an awful discovery about her family Dead Letter Room samples the life of lonely Finch at his workplace Outside enters the disturbed mind of an ex convict and What Goes Around considers the makings of a bully On the surface all appear to delve into diverse worlds and minds But this isn't quite so They are all about alienation My other stories are the same alienation It goes right back to my early children's mysteries of the Seventies How strange I hadn't noticed The reason is that I would make my own personal discovery in 2016 I was fifty one years old and living with my partner and two children Until then I was completely unaware of a vital truth about myself This truth has leaked into my stories and creations without my realisation This account is true Relevant diary entries have been included as well as illustrations Analyses and further dissections provides an insight into the force behind these stories and ventures into the strange phenomena I have discovered It's like a ghost language Selected Stories Adolfo Bioy Casares, 1994 Fifteen stories by an Argentinian writer mixing the fantastic with the real The subjects range from love to madness Studies in Short Fiction, 1994 Japanese Cinema and Otherness Mika Ko, 2013-05-13 Over the last 20 years ethnic minority groups have been increasingly featured in Japanese Films However the way these groups are presented has not been a subject of investigation This study examines the representation of so called Others foreigners ethnic minorities and

Okinawans in Japanese cinema By combining textual and contextual analysis this book analyses the narrative and visual style of films of contemporary Japanese cinema in relation to their social and historical context of production and reception Mika Ko considers the ways in which multicultural sentiments have emerged in contemporary Japanese cinema In this respect Japanese films may be seen not simply to have reflected more general trends within Japanese society but to have played an active role in constructing and communicating different versions of multiculturalism In particular the book is concerned with how representations of otherness in contemporary Japanese cinema may be identified as reinforcing or subverting dominant discourses of Japaneseness the author book also illuminates the ways in which Japanese films have engaged in the dramatisation and elaboration of ideas and attitudes surrounding contemporary Japanese nationalism and multiculturalism By locating contemporary Japanese cinema in a social and political context Japanese Cinema and Otherness makes an original contribution to scholarship on Japanese film study but also to bridging the gap between Japanese studies and film studies

Science Fiction Cinema in the Twenty-First Century Pablo Gómez-Muñoz, 2022-12-27 Recent films are increasingly using themes and conventions of science fiction such as dystopian societies catastrophic environmental disasters apocalyptic scenarios aliens monsters time travel teleportation and supernatural abilities to address cosmopolitan concerns such as human rights climate change economic precarity and mobility This book identifies and analyses the new transnational turn towards cosmopolitanism in science fiction cinema since the beginning of the twenty first century The book considers a wide selection of examples including case studies of films such as Elysium In Time 2012 Andrew Niccol s The Host Codependent Lesbian Space Alien Seeks Same and Cloud Atlas It also questions the seeming cosmopolitanism of these narratives and exposes how they sometimes reproduce social hierarchies and exploitative practices Dealing with diverse interdisciplinary concerns represented in cinema this book in the Studies in Global Genre Fiction series will be of interest to readers and scholars working in the fields of science fiction film and media studies cosmopolitanism border theory popular culture and cultural studies It will also appeal to fans of science fiction cinema and literature
