The story is told with insight and depth by Irina Filatova and Apollon Davidson who have had a decades long association researching and writing on Russian and South African politics and history. This insightful work follows the often surprising twists and turns of the history of South Africa's relationship with Russia and its people which started in the eighteenth century and is still very much alive today. The story evolves from the Russian volunteers who fought alongside the Boers in the Anglo Boer War to South Africans who participated in the Russian revolution and civil war from the Russian Jewish immigration to South Africa to the close involvement of the South African communists in the Communist International from the Soviet consulates in South Africa and the activities of South Africa's Friends of the Soviet Union Society during the Second World War to the vicissitudes of the Cold War and the hot war in Angola from the SACP and ANC's relations with the USSR to the volte face of perestroika and South Africa's transition and to today's business political cultural and sometimes criminal connections between Russians and South Africans.

The Orthodox adherents include people in Greece, Georgia, Russia and Serbia. There are an estimated one million members in the United States. In addition, relevant book literature is presented in bibliographic form with easy access provided by title, subject and author indexes. Dilemmas of Reaction in Leninist Russia Christian Gottlieb, 2003 In the moral and spiritual vacuum left in Russia by the fall of the Soviet Union in 1989-1991, some of the thinkers who first opposed the Leninist revolution of 1917 have come to a new prominence and among these is the religious philosopher Nikolai Berdyaev, 1874-1948. He expressed a passionate protest against the revolution and was clearly the most comprehensive contemporary critic of the revolutionary project from a Christian perspective. From his consistently religious perspective, he foresaw with precision much of the inhuman and tyrannical potential of the revolutionary project.
