In re Houlahan, 389 MICH 665 (1973), 1973 54268 Miracle on 34th Street Jeffrey Paul Thompson, 2024-08-06

Despite having been made into three TV movies a radio drama a stage play a Broadway musical a feature film remake in color and a book adaptation the 1947 black and white film of Miracle on 34th Street still remains the favorite version of this modern Christmas classic The American public seems to echo what Macy's stated when declining to participate in the 1994 remake We felt there was nothing to be improved upon In many ways it is a perfect film in the sense that there really is nothing that could have been done better the story the casting the acting were all spot on The decade from 1941 1951 saw a bumper crop of classic Christmas including Christmas in Connecticut Holiday Inn and It's a Wonderful Life but with the exception of the latter film none have had the staying power of Miracle on 34th Street This book describes the origins of the story the casting and production of the film its marketing and publicity and even how it elevated the Macy's Thanksgiving Day Parade from a local New York event to a national celebration Finally it looks at the film's legacy including its high ranking among best Christmas movies of all time as well as its placement as ninth overall on the American Film Institute's list of the most inspiring films Take One, 1971 The Adaptation Industry Simone Murray, 2012-03-12 Adaptation constitutes the driving force of contemporary culture with stories adapted across an array of media formats However adaptation studies has been concerned almost exclusively with textual analysis in particular with compare and contrast studies of individual novel and film pairings This has left almost completely unexamined crucial questions of how adaptations come to be made what are the industries with the greatest stake in making them and who the decision makers are in the adaptation process The Adaptation Industry reimagines adaptation not as an abstract process but as a material industry It presents the adaptation industry as a cultural economy of six interlocking institutions stakeholders and decision makers all engaged in the actual business of adapting texts authors agents publishers book prize committees scriptwriters and screen producers and distributors Through trading in intellectual property rights to cultural works these six nodal points in the adaptation network are tightly interlinked with success for one party potentially auguring for success in other spheres But marked rivalries between these institutional forces also exist with competition characterizing every aspect of the adaptation process This book constructs an overdue sociology of contemporary literary adaptation never losing sight of the material and institutional dimensions of this powerful process
