Jean Baudrillard, 2014-01-07 Watching the president's Christmas message produces this necropolar white mass sensation Seeing the video broadcast of the Christmas service in the cathedral itself with these pathetic screens and the young worshippers slumped around them here and there you tell yourself that God and religion deserved better Deserved to die yes but not this However watching the presidential figure and his sonorous inanity you tell yourself that here at least you got what you deserved Chirac is useless that goes without saying but so are we all Uselessness of this kind has no origin it exists immediately reciprocally like a shared secret you savour it implicitly with its warm bitterness particularly in these cold snaps as the very essence of the social bond Sanctioned by that other interactive uselessness the uselessness of the screen World renowned for his lively and often iconoclastic reading of contemporary culture and thought Jean Baudrillard here turns his hand to topical political debates and issues In this stimulating collection of journalistic essays Baudrillard addresses subjects ranging from those already established as his trademark virtual reality Disney television to more unusual topics such as the Western intervention in Bosnia children's rights Holocaust revisionism AIDS the Rushdie fatwa Formula One racing mad cow disease genetic cloning and the uselessness of Chirac These are coruscating and intriguing articles not least because they show that Baudrillard is pace his critics still susceptible and alert to influences from social movements and the world beyond the hyperreal Screened Out

Carla B. Johnston, 2016-07-01 A comparison of the cultural and political institutional dimensions of war's impact on Greece during the Peloponnesian War and the United States and the two Koreas North and South during the Korean War It demonstrates the many underlying similarities between the two wars Geostatistics Banff 2004 Oy Leuangthong, Clayton V. Deutsch, 2008-01-24 The return of the congress to North America after 20 years of absence could not have been in a more ideal location The beauty of Banff and the many offerings of the Rocky Mountains was the perfect background for a week of interesting and innovative discussions on the past present and future of geostatistics The congress was well attended with approximately 200 delegates from 19 countries across six continents There was a broad spectrum of students and seasoned geostatisticians who shared their knowledge in many areas of study including mining petroleum and environmental applications You will find 119 papers in this two volume set All papers were presented at the congress and have been peer reviewed They are grouped by the different sessions that were held in Banff and are in the order of presentation These papers provide a permanent record of different theoretical perspectives from the last four years Not all of these ideas will stand the test of time and practice however their originality will endure The practical applications in these proceedings provide nuggets of wisdom to those struggling to apply geostatistics in the best possible way Students and practitioners will be digging through these papers for many years to come Oy Leuangthong Clayton V Deutsch

Monitoring the Comprehensive Nuclear-Test-Ban Treaty: Seismic Event Discrimination and Identification

William R. Walter, Hans E. Hartse, 2013-04-18 In September 1996 the United Nations General Assembly adopted the Comprehensive Nuclear Test Ban Treaty CTBT prohibiting nuclear explosions worldwide in all environments The treaty calls for a global verification system including a network of 321 monitoring stations distributed around the globe a data communications network an international data center and onsite inspections to verify compliance The problem of identifying small magnitude banned nuclear tests and discriminating between such tests and the background of earthquakes and mining related seismic events is a challenging research problem Because they emphasize CTBT verification research the 12 papers in this special volume primarily addresses regional data recorded by a variety of arrays broadband stations and temporarily deployed stations Nuclear explosions earthquakes mining related explosions mine collapses single charge and ripple fired chemical explosions from Europe Asia North Africa and North America are all studied While the primary emphasis is on short period body wave discriminants and associated source and path corrections research that focuses on long period data recorded at regional and teleseismic distances is also presented Hence these papers demonstrate how event identification research in support of CTBT monitoring has expanded in recent years to include a wide variety of event types data types
