Seven Centuries Of Irish Learning 1000 17:

Ireland and Medicine in the Seventeenth and Eighteenth Centuries James Kelly, 2016-05-06 The story of early modern medicine with its extremes of scientific brilliance and barbaric practice has long held a fascination for scholars The great discoveries of Harvey and Jenner sit incongruously with the persistence of Galenic theory superstition and blood letting Yet despite continued research into the period as a whole most work has focussed on the metropolitan centres of England Scotland and France ignoring the huge range of national and regional practice This collection aims to go some way to rectifying this situation providing an exploration of the changes and developments in medicine as practised in Ireland and by Irish physicians studying and working abroad during the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries Bringing together research undertaken into the neglected area of Irish medical and social history across a variety of disciplines including history of medicine Colonial Latin American history Irish and French history it builds upon ground breaking work recently published by several of the contributors thereby augmenting our understanding of the role of medicine within early modern Irish society and its broader scientific and intellectual networks By addressing fundamental issues that reach beyond the medical institutions the collection expands our understanding of Irish medicine and throws new light on medical practices and the broader cultural and social issues of early modern Ireland Europe and Latin America Taking a variety of approaches and sources ranging from the use of epistolary exchange to the study of medical receipt books legislative practice to belief in miracles local professionalization to international networks each essay offers a fascinating insight into a still largely neglected area Furthermore the collection argues for the importance of widening current research to consider the importance and impact of early Irish medical traditions networks and practices and their interaction with related issues such as politics gender economic demand and religious belief

Late Medieval Irish Law Manuscripts: A Reappraisal of Methodology and Content Rowena Finnane, 2023-09-25 Late Medieval Irish Law Manuscripts A Reappraisal of Methodology and Context challenges the long held view that Irish law manuscripts produced in the secular law schools of the late medieval period are only the work of antiquarians This book examines the texts in their political social and cultural contexts particularly in relation to the Irish revival of the fourteenth century onwards Finnane s examination of the manuscripts includes legal interpretation and the role of glossing and commenting on older canonical texts in establishing the authority of those texts in the present the use of the manuscripts in legal education the use of the past in providing legitimacy and authority particularly in a legal context Finnane argues that the manuscripts are the work of jurists authorising a revived legal system connected to a re emergent Irish political elite after more than a century of Anglo Norman invasion and rule

Early Modern Ireland, 1534-1691 Theodore William Moody, Francis Xavier Martin, Francis John Byrne, 1991 The third volume of A New History of Ireland opens with a character study of early modern Ireland and a panoramic survey of Ireland in 1534 followed by twelve chapters of narrative history There are further chapters on the economy the coinage languages and literature and the Irish abroad A New History of Ireland is the largest scholarly project in modern Irish history In 9 volumes it provides a comprehensive new synthesis of modern scholarship on every aspect of Irish history and prehistory from the earliest geological and archaeological evidence through the Middle Ages down to t

The Course of Irish History T. W. Moody, F. X. Martin, Dermot Keogh, 2023-09-14 First published over forty years ago and now updated to cover the Celtic Tiger economic boom of the 2000s and subsequent worldwide recession this new edition of a perennial bestseller interprets Irish history as a whole Designed and written to be popular and authoritative critical and balanced it has been a core text in both Irish and American universities for decades It has also proven to be an extremely popular book for casual readers with an interest in history and Irish affairs Considered the definitive history among the Irish themselves it is an essential text for anyone interested in the history of Ireland

A New History of Ireland, Volume III T. W. Moody, F. X. Martin, F. J. Byrne, 2009-03-12 A New History of Ireland is the largest scholarly project in modern Irish history In 9 volumes it provides a comprehensive new synthesis of modern scholarship on every aspect of Irish history and prehistory from the earliest geological and archaeological evidence through the Middle Ages down to the present day The third volume opens with a character study of early modern Ireland and a panoramic survey of Ireland in 1534 followed by twelve chapters of narrative history There are further chapters on the economy the coinage languages and literature and the Irish abroad Two surveys Land and People c 1600 and c 1685 are included

The Oxford Illustrated History of Ireland R. F. Foster, 2000-11-09 A history of Ireland from prehistoric times to the present Includes 200 illustrations

Literacy and Orality in Eighteenth-Century Irish Song Julie Henigan, 2015-10-06 Focusing on several distinct genres of eighteenth century Irish song Henigan demonstrates in each case that the interaction between the elite and vernacular the written and oral is pervasive and characteristic of the Irish song tradition to the present day

Cromwellian Ireland Toby Christopher Barnard, 2000 In this important study reissued here in paperback along with a new historiographical essay T C Barnard anatomizes the Irish problem of the mid seventeenth century and connects it to the English politics and policies both before and after the interregnum He looks closely at how and by whom Ireland was ruled and how its government was financed and he explores in detail the primary Cromwellian goals in Ireland propagating the Protestant gospel providing English and Protestant education advancing learning and reforming the law

A Companion to Irish Literature Julia M. Wright, 2011-07-08 Featuring new essays by international literary scholars the two volume Companion to Irish Literature encompasses the full breadth of Ireland's literary tradition from the Middle Ages to the present day Covers an unprecedented historical range of Irish literature Arranged in two volumes covering Irish literature from the medieval period to 1900 and its development through the twentieth century to the present day Presents a re-visioning of twentieth century Irish literature and a collection of the most up to date scholarship in the field as a whole Includes a substantial number of women writers from the eighteenth century to the present day Includes essays on leading contemporary authors including Brian Friel

Seamus Heaney Eavan Boland Roddy Doyle and Emma Donoghue Introduces readers to the wide range of current approaches to studying Irish literature An Eoraip: Gaelic Ireland in Medieval and Early Modern Europe

,2025-08-14 Medieval and early modern Irish scholars thought of themselves as Europeans As an expression of territorial association this belief reflects both their familiarity with the geographical traditions of Antiquity and the integration of their society into economic cultural and political networks that spanned the continent But it was also an articulation of a perceived cultural affinity often denied in modern scholarship The chapters in this volume examine the many and various ways that Gaelic Ireland was integrated into the broader European world focusing on literature and learning real world politics economics and travel and questions of identity Contributors are Rachel Brody Michael Clarke Simon Egan Deborah Hayden Brendan Kane Victoria L McAlister Ken Donnchu Patricia Palmer Brian Stone and Patrick Wadden Beckett Mary Junker,1995 In this work the author guides the reader through Beckett s cultural heritage and then moves on to examine five selected plays including Waiting for Godot and All That Fall Amongst other topics the book focuses on how the Irish language and Hiberno English influenced Beckett s writing University of California Union Catalog of Monographs Cataloged by the Nine Campuses from 1963 Through 1967: Authors & titles University of California (System). Institute of Library Research,University of California, Berkeley,1972 General Catalogue of Printed Books British Museum. Department of Printed Books,1968 Encyclopedia of Literary Translation Into English: A-L O. Classe,2000 Literacy and Identity in Early Medieval Ireland Elva Johnston,2013-08-15 Much of our knowledge of early medieval Ireland comes from a rich literature written in a variety of genres and in two languages Irish and Latin Who wrote this literature and what role did they play within society What did the introduction and expansion of literacy mean in a culture where the vast majority of the population continued to be non literate How did literacy operate in and intersect with the oral world Was literacy a key element in the formation and articulation of communal and elite senses of identity This book addresses these issues in the first full inter disciplinary examination of the Irish literate elite and their social contexts between ca 400 1000 AD It considers the role played by Hiberno Latin authors the expansion of vernacular literacy and the key place of monasteries within the literate landscape Also examined are the crucial intersections between literacy and orality which underpin the importance played by the literate elite in giving voice to aristocratic and communal identities Studia Hibernica ,1993

Celtic Christianity and Nature Mary Low,1996 Love of nature is often said to be one of the characteristic features of Celtic Christianity This work describes how native beliefs about nature were rejected transformed or restated as the peoples of early medieval Ireland and the Hebrides made Christianity their own With close reference to the literature of the period it examines the importance of land hills and mountains water trees fire the sun and the elements in early Christian and biblical imagery At a time when Celtic Christianity is increasingly romanticized this work sets out to put the subject back onto a solid scholarly footing The British Library General Catalogue of Printed Books to 1975 British Library,1977

National Union Catalog ,1956 Includes entries for maps and atlases Irish Sea Studies, 900-1200 Benjamin T. Hudson,2006 Irish Sea studies 900 1200 examines some of the events and personalities round the Irish Sea province at a crucial time in the development of medieval Europe The Irish Sea had been a meeting ground for commerce religion and war throughout centuries and around the first millennium this region of the North Atlantic became a barometer of the changes that were reshaping the lands of northern Europe This volume of revised essays looks at political and cultural contact and change throughout the liquid highway between Ireland and Britain covering topics such as the end of the Viking Age the collapse of the Old English kingdom the earliest contacts with the Normans economic revival and change and religious reform
