Hollywood on Location Joshua Gleich, Lawrence Webb, 2019-01-14 Location shooting has always been a vital counterpart to soundstage production and at times the primary form of Hollywood filmmaking But until now the industrial and artistic development of this production practice has been scattered across the margins of larger American film histories Hollywood on Location is the first comprehensive history of location shooting in the American film industry showing how this mode of filmmaking changed Hollywood business practices production strategies and visual style from the silent era to the present The contributors explore how location filmmaking supplemented and later supplanted production on the studio lots Drawing on archival research and in depth case studies the seven contributors show how location shooting expanded the geography of American film production from city streets and rural landscapes to far flung territories overseas invoking a new set of creative financial technical and logistical challenges Whereas studio filmmaking sought to recreate nature location shooting sought to master it finding new production values and production economies that reshaped Hollywood's modus operandi The Authorship of Place Dennis Lo, 2020-09-14 The Authorship of Place is the first monograph dedicated to the study of the politics history aesthetics and practices of location shooting for Taiwanese Mainland Chinese and coproduced art cinemas shot in rural communities since the late 1970s Dennis Lo argues that rural location shooting beyond serving aesthetic and technical needs constitutes practices of cultural survival in a region beset with disruptive and disorienting social changes including rapid urbanization geopolitical shifts and ecological crises In response to these social changes auteurs like Hou Xiaoxian Jia Zhangke Chen Kaige and Li Xing engaged in location shooting to transform sites of film production into symbolically meaningful places of collective memories and aspirations These production practices ultimately enabled auteurs to experiment with imagining Taiwanese Mainland Chinese and cross strait communities in novel and contentious ways Deftly guiding readers on a cross strait tour of prominent shooting locations for the New Chinese Cinemas this book shows how auteurs sought out their disappearing cultural heritage by reenacting lived experiences of nation building homecoming and cultural salvage while shooting on location This was an especially daunting task when auteurs encountered the shooting locations as spaces of unresolved historical social and geopolitical contestations tensions which were only intensified by the impact of filmmaking on rural communities This book demonstrates how these complex circumstances surrounding location shooting were pivotal in shaping both representations of the rural on screen as well as the production communities institutions and industries off screen Informed by cutting edge perspectives in cultural geography and media anthropology The Authorship of Place both revises Chinese language film history and theorizes groundbreaking approaches for investigating the cultural politics of film authorship and production This extraordinary book discusses the uses of location shooting in films by contemporary Taiwanese and Mainland Chinese directors ranging from Li Xing to Jia Zhangke It highlights the ways in which place memory and identity stances respond to social changes and geopolitical disparities In a world full of uncertainty the argument about the imaginary homeland as an experienced cinematic reality only renders it more urgent and universally relatable Ping hui Liao University of California San Diego The Authorship of Place is certainly a welcome intervention into the study of Chinese cinemas and their auteurs that further contributes to the wider study of location shooting as well as cultural geographies and place based imaginaries of film It is rare to find a book dealing with space place in and around cinema that is this inventive and nuanced in its methodologies Stephanie DeBoer Indiana University spaces for which there are no coordinates It will likely be the indispensable touchstone for any future work in these areas with respect to Australian cultural studies Robert T Tally Texas State University Definitely original in its approach since it combines a conceptual approach with a more applied one The book is a serious contribution to the field of mapping spatial narratives and to a better understanding of the production and spatial structure of fictional places S bastien Caquard Concordia University

Silent Cinema and the Politics of Space Jennifer M. Bean, Anupama Kapse, Laura Horak, 2014-04-02 In this cross cultural history of narrative cinema and media from the 1910s to the 1930s leading and emergent scholars explore the transnational crossings and exchanges that occurred in early cinema between the two world wars Drawing on film archives from around the world this volume advances the premise that silent cinema freely crossed national borders and linguistic thresholds in ways that became far less possible after the emergence of sound These essays address important questions about the uneven forces geographic economic political psychological textual and experiential that underscore a non linear approach to film history The messiness of film history as demonstrated here opens a new realm of inquiry into unexpected political social and aesthetic crossings of silent cinema publisher The Fictional Dimension of the School Shooting Discourse Silke Braselmann, 2019-06-17 Ever since the 1990s school shootings have shocked the public in their brutality their suddenness and their inexplicability While film and literature have played a role in the heated debates about so called copycat crimes the growing body of fictionalizations of school shootings has been neglected thus far However in a discourse in which the boundaries between fiction and reality are increasingly blurred this book shows how fiction shapes and structures challenges and disrupts cultural processes of meaning making Hence for a better understanding of the school shooting phenomenon the relevance of fiction on all levels of discourse construction requires thorough analysis This book therefore develops a new approach to the role of fiction for contemporary forms of excessive violence By combining narrative theory with insights from sociology and other disciplines it provides the means for apprehending and describing the relevance of fiction for contemporary discourses Furthermore it provides exemplary analyses of more specific functions of literary and filmic fictionalizations of school shootings between 2000 and 2016 Outing; Sport, Adventure, Travel, Fiction, 1919 Story World and Photodramatist, 1924

Contents Tourism and Pop Culture Fandom Takayoshi Yamamura,Philip Seaton,2020-01-14 This is the first book to apply the concept of contents tourism in a global context and to establish an international and interdisciplinary framework for contents tourism research The term contents tourism gained official recognition in Japan when it was defined by the Japanese government in 2005 and it has been characterised as travel behaviour motivated fully or partially by narratives characters locations and other creative elements of popular culture forms including film television dramas manga anime novels and computer games The book builds on previous research from Japan and explores three main themes of contents tourism the Contentsization of Literary Worlds Tourist Behaviours at Sacred Sites of Contents Tourism and Contents Tourism as Pilgrimage and draws together these key themes to propose a set of policy implications for achieving successful and sustainable contents tourism in the 21st century Science Fiction Film, Television, and Adaptation Jay Telotte,Gerald Duchovnay,2011-08-05 While film and television seem to be closely allied screen media our feature films and television series have seldom been successfully adapted across those screens In fact rather than functioning as portals those allied media often seem quite literally screens that filter out something that made the source work so popular in its original form Differences in budget running times cast viewing habits screen size and shape all come into play and this volume s aim is to track a number of popular texts in the course of their adaptive journeys across the screens in order to sketch the workings of that cross media adaptation For its specific examples the volume draws on a single genre science fiction not only because it is one of the most popular today in either film or television but also because it is arguably the most self conscious of contemporary genres and thus one that most obviously frames the terms of these technological adaptations The essays included here mine that reflexive character in both highly successful and in failed efforts at cross media adaption to help us understand what film and television achieve in screening science fiction and to reveal some of the key issues involved in all of our efforts to navigate the various screens that have become part of contemporary culture
